Rotary Club Activities.

Dr. Leo Palmer, who is connected with the Napanoch Institute, Kingston, N.Y., will be the speaker at the noon-day luncheon of the Kingston Rotary Club, at the British-American hotel on Friday. He will speak on "Defective Delinquents." Dr. Palmer is a graduate of Queen's University. He will have an important message for the Rotarians, and a special call has been sent out for a hundred per cent attendance. Everything is going along merrily with the preparations for "All Aboard," the musical comedy to be given under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary Club, at the Grand Opera House on Nov. 10th, 11th and 12th, with a matinee on Nov. 10th (Thanksgiving Day).

Splendid progress has been made at the rehearsals held at the armouries, under the able direction of Mr. Wade, and without doubt this production will be the finest ever put on in Kingston by local talent. Everybody in the city and district knows about the play, the dates, and who is running the show, and as the plan for the sale of seats will open on Friday, the Whig has been asked to advise the public that it would be well to arrange for seats as soon as possible. Over two hundred local people are taking part, and the fact that the play is being presented to provide the club with funds to carry on their welfare work, should be something well worth while. It is the intention of the club to go into work among crippled children, in addition to their usual line of welfare work, and as it takes a lot of money to go the rounds the club is expecting a liberal patronage. The show will provide one of the finest entertainments, and at the same time give a person an opportunity of contributing to a most worthy cause.

After the play, "All Aboard" has been produced, there is work ahead for the sports committee, as Secretary "Dunc" Wightman has received a challenge from the Kiwanis club, for a bowling match. This should prove the classic of the season, in the line of sports. The club is also arranging for a motor parade to boost "All Aboard" and it promises to be a "hummer." The dance committee is making arrangements for a dance to be held on Friday of next week for those taking part in the play.

Mrs. Robert Maracle Expired While In Woods.

Tyenlinga Reserve, Nov. 5. — Gloom has been cast over the entire Reserve in the death of Mrs. Robert Maracle. Deceased had seemed in her usual health, on Monday, doing her own washing, in the afternoon she hung a pail on her arm as if going to gather hickory nuts and started for the woods to bring home the cows. Her little son arrived from school, asked Mr. Maracle for his mother, and when informed that she had gone to the woods, started and brought home the cows. By this time, Miss Ada had returned from the Deseronto high school and father and daughter started to find the mother.
