"ALL ABOARD" IS A ROLLICKING SHOW

Another Large Audience at Grand Last Night—Final Presentation To-night.

That "All Aboard" is going over big at the Grand Opera House is but putting it mildly. On Tuesday night another audience that filled the theatre almost to capacity, gave warm approval to the musical comedy, with local talent, given under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary Club, to raise funds to help on their welfare work in the city. Round after round of applause greeted the production Tuesday night, and another capacity house is promised for the final presentation tonight.

The play is brimful of catchy music, pretty costumes, clever comedy acting, charming scenes and groupings of youth and beauty in a wonderful manner. Everyone is agreed that it is the best production of musical comedy ever presented in Kingston by local talent, and this is saying something. The leading characters give a finished touch to their work, while the music is attractive. The entire performance goes over with a swing that would cause any professional producer to rejoice, and Mr. Wade, who undertook the work of training the cast, is to be congratulated on his success. He had a big job and he handled it well. One has only to see the show to be convinced of this. In addition to the good work of the entire cast, there is need for special mention of the work of Miss Olive Simpson, the pianist. Her part in the production calls for special praise.

Then again there is something else that should be said about the production. It is well handled from both back stage and in front, as there are no stage waits and no hitch whatever. The chorus work is carried out with the necessary pep that makes it a worth while production.

"All Aboard" is sure to be talked about for some time to come. The success of the production is plainly assured. On Tuesday night the members of Queen's senior football team occupied the boxes, as guests of the Rotary Club.

KINGSTON TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

Will Be Asked To Help Over Division Street Roadway.

Mayor Thomas Angrove is very anxious that something be done to put Division street, at the outskirts of the city, in proper condition. The matter has been under discussion a great deal, but the city authorities feel that they should receive some support from the county or the township council, in view of the large sum that is expended every year by the city on the suburban area.

It was learned on Wednesday morning that a deputation from the city council will go before the Kingston township council at its next session, and ask that the township council co-operate with the city, in the matter. It is felt that the city and the township should go fifty-fifty in the cost of putting the roadway in proper condition for traffic.

A CHINESE PUZZLE.

Effort to Locate Celestial's Wad Proves Fruitless.

Magistrate Farrell held a Chinese session of the police court on Tuesday afternoon.

A local Chinaman was suspected of knowing something about the theft of a wad of $220, stolen from a Chinese laundryman on William street, and it was hoped to have the Chinese puzzle solved, but after a good deal of evidence had been given, both in Chinese and English, the case was dropped and thus the puzzle remains unsolved.

It is alleged that the Chinaman suspected in the case lived at this laundry for quite a time, and had a key to the premises.

Harvest Supper and Concert.

A successful harvest supper and concert was held at the First Baptist church on Tuesday evening. Rev. Douglas Lange former pastor, gave an address of welcome and afterwards a splendid supper was enjoyed, the Ladies' Aid Society providing. After the supper an excellent concert was rendered. The programme included: Selections by the orchestra; song, "Sailors of the King," by Stuart Salisbury; solo, "Christ in Flanders," by Mr. James Marshall; selection, by the mixed quartette; recitation by Mrs. Blake; solo by Mr. Hill; solo by Mrs. Turner, written by Herbert Tremmer; the well-known organist; piano duet by Miss Florence Salisbury and S. A. Salisbury; solo by Mr. James Saunders; recitation by Mrs. Blake, and a selection by the humorous quartette.

The Odessa Shooting Case.

U. M. Wilson, crown attorney at Napanee, when asked by the Whig on Wednesday morning if it was the intention of the crown to proceed on Saturday next with the case of Urban Sinden, store keeper at Odessa, who is charged with shooting with intent to do bodily harm, stated that another adjournment would take place. He stated that the case would not be proceeded with until Percy Clark was perfectly well, and able to give evidence. In the meantime Sinden will have to remain in county jail at Napanee. It may be about ten days before the case is heard.

Ross H. McMaster, vice-president and director of the Steel Company of Canada, is appointed director of the Canadian Pacific Railway.
