EVENING MEETING FOR NOMINATION SPEECHES

Mayor Thomas Angrove and Dr. C. C. Nash Favor the Suggestion

Next Monday is nomination day for the municipal elections, and as it is the usual custom to have the speeches of the candidates in Ontario hall following the nominations in the forenoon, when workmen do not have a chance to attend, the suggestion has been made that the speeches be held over until the evening, when an opportunity would be afforded every citizen who is taking an interest in municipal affairs, to attend.

The suggestion was brought to the attention of Mayor Thomas Angrove and Dr. C. C. Nash, the mayoralty candidates, by the Whig, and both the candidates expressed their willingness to deliver their nomination address at an evening meeting. As a rule the attendance at the nomination meeting is very small, as at this time of the day, it is impossible for the workmen to be present at the meetings.

At the evening meeting aldermanic candidates, school trustees, and candidates for the public utilities commission could also be heard.

In view of the desire of many citizens to have an evening meeting, and the willingness of the mayoralty candidates to speak in the evening, it is altogether likely that an evening session will be arranged.

INDUCTION SERVICE AT AMHERST ISLAND

Rev. R. G. Fry Is the New Pastor of the United Charge

Rev. R. G. Fry was inducted into the united charge at Amherst Island on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. J. W. Stephen, moderator of the Kingston presbytery. Rev. James Cumberland was pastor of the Presbyterian charge on the island for forty years, and then he was succeeded by Rev. Walter McCree, who was recently called to the church at Lyn. The circuit at the present time is a co-operating circuit and the Presbyterians and Methodists are ministered to by one preacher. The service is held in the Presbyterian church in the morning and the Methodist church in the evening.

Rev. George A. Brown, pastor of Chalmers church, preached the sermon on the topic "The Church That Grew." Rev. Prof. J. F. McFayden addressed the preacher. Rev. R. J. Craig of Trenton, who was present on the occasion of the induction of Rev. James Cumberland and on that occasion addressed the people, performed the same duty on Tuesday. He related some of the happenings which had taken place as far back as 1875.

There was a very large congregation present for the induction service. Among those present was Mrs. Robert Green, one of the oldest residents on the island who has had the privilege of being present at four induction services there.

The Kingston ministers motored up to Millhaven, where they were met by a motor boat and were taken over to the island. Dinner was served at the home of Miss Hill.

IN MARINE CIRCLES

The steamer City of Hamilton arrived from Montreal last night and cleared for Hamilton.

The steamer Maplebranch passed down to Montreal this morning.

The steamer Brockville is still active in transferring freight from Bay of Quinte points to Kingston.

Poor Relief Executive. At a regular meeting of the executive of the Kingston Poor Relief Committee, held on Tuesday, the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Mrs. Oberdorffer; honorary vice-president, Miss Strange; president, Mrs. John Wright; first vice-president, Miss Richmond; second vice-president, Mrs. P. D. DuMoulin; third vice-president, Mrs. H. F. Richardson; secretary, Miss Machar; assistant secretary, Miss Jack; treasurer, Mrs. S. S. Corbett.

6,000 Going to Toronto. Here is your chance to ride behind one of the 6,000 type of locomotive turned out by the Canadian Locomotive Company for the Canadian National Railways, on the special train in connection with the Queen's Tigers game, leaving Kingston city 8.30 a.m. and arriving Toronto 12.30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22nd. Lunch counter car on train, serving breakfast and luncheon at moderate rates. Particulars from Hanley's. Phones 99 or 1433.

Arena Nearing Completion. The work of installing the nine miles of pipe for the artificial plant at the Jock Harty arena is practically completed.

George Wright, a member of the contracting firm which is building the rink, stated that they would be through their work by the first of December and it would then be a matter of getting the ice in the rink.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

By Our Student Correspondent.

Principal Taylor was the speaker at the meeting of the Mathematics and Physics Club, his address dealing with Lord Kelvin, who was one of his lecturers at Glasgow.

The meeting opened with a very excellent paper on this famous British scientist by H. M. Cave, of the graduate year in arts, who is president of the club. Mr. Cave gave his hearers a comprehensive review of the life and work of Kelvin, whose many activities included invention, authorship, professorship and the laying of ocean cables.

Kelvin, who died in 1907, was a professor at Glasgow University over fifty years, and Dr. Taylor's remarks dealt with the many amusing anecdotes that had collected in the university's halls about this unusual personage. That he was not an outstanding success as a lecturer was to be inferred from the remark of one student, that, though he had been hearing lectures on the pendulum for several weeks, all he knew about it was that it waggled. It might be mentioned here that Principal Taylor won a prize in physics under the same teacher.

"Student Life in Foreign Countries" is the general title of a series of articles that promise to be very interesting, which the Queen's Journal has secured for publication this winter. Conditions in the universities in Norway, Holland, China, Central Europe and Central America, as well as at Oxford and Cambridge, receive first-hand descriptions. The articles have been collected by the Yale News.

Miss Roy's discussion group for girls now meets on Tuesday afternoon in the Red Room.

The Canadian Student, the organ of the Student Christian Movement of Canada, in its last issue, says: "A great reinforcement to the women's side of the association at Queen's is the presence of Alice Roy, of McGill, who has been appointed gym instructor to the women students, a post for which it would be hard to find anyone better qualified."

The next event to stir the university will be the A.M.S. elections, the first week in December. The new system of the Students' Council still leaves the executive to be elected by the student body and nominations will be received at the next meeting of the Alma Mater Society.

The Commerce Club, which includes all students taking commerce courses, has elected the following officers for the session: Honorary president, Prof. Mackintosh; president, W. L. MacDonald; vice-president, J. E. Mason; secretary-treasurer, R. Dilworth; committee, H. B. Bleecher (arts '25), R. Mathews (arts '26), A. Lane (arts '27), V. Ferris (arts '28).

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Holland. Emily Julia Clarke, wife of George A. Holland, 40 Lower Rideau street, passed to rest on Monday night. She was a Methodist in religion and a member of Queen street church. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon to Cataract cemetery, in charge of John Cornelius. Rev. Mr. Raney will conduct the last services.

Road Work Closed Down. George Wright, contractor, has returned from Belleville where his firm has the contract to build six miles of cement highway for the Ontario department of public highways. About two thirds of the contract has been completed and it was found necessary to close down the job for the winter on account of the frosty weather.

Holding "Social Evening." The members of the printing craft in Kingston are holding a "social evening" in the Cataract town hall on Friday evening. The programme will consist of cards and dancing, and a most enjoyable time is being looked forward to. Invitations have been issued for the event.

Was Big Success. The "Poppy Day" effort of the local branch of the G.V.V.A. was a big success this year. The event was staged on Nov. 8th, the Saturday before Armistice Day, and realized the splendid sum of $453.25.
