GREAT NEED IN INDIA THAT OF EDUCATION

Mr. M. W. Harlow Delivers An Address To The Kingston Rotary Club.

That one of the vital needs in India to-day is that of education, was the opinion expressed by Rotarian M. W. Harlow, at Friday's luncheon of the Kingston Rotary Club.

Mr. Harlow is the general secretary of the Kingston Y. M. C. A. and spent several years in India, engaged in Y. M. C. A. work, and he gave the members of the club a fine talk, in which he dealt with conditions in India. President A. N. Lyster was in the chair, and there was a good turnout of the members.

Mr. Harlow explained that it was with the object of having the same plan of work carried out in India as here in Canada, that men had been sent out by the Y. M. C. A. to India. The work had been carried on with great success here and it was hoped to make it just as successful in India, and also in China and Japan, and for this reason men trained in the work of the association had been sent to these countries. In India, the natives had become interested in the work, and a very large number were now acting as secretaries of the "Y" associations.

"And there is a great opportunity for work of this kind in that country," said the speaker. There is a great chance for helpers in that country, and if you go out as helpers, and not as dictators, you can do much good. The people there need leadership.

Speaking of present day conditions in India, Mr. Harlow declared that there was more union there to-day than ever before. The people were standing together. Fine laws had been passed to meet social service, and the people were meeting their responsibilities in a far better way than in the past.

"India is on the road for progress and is becoming more and more like other nations. One of the vital needs is that of education. It is a great country with its 200,000,000 of people, but only about ten per cent. are able to read or write.

There is great need for education. Steps have been taken to bring about compulsory education up to twelve years of age, and this shows the people are on the road to progress.

Mr. Harlow also stated that there were great economic needs, while he also emphasized the need for the breaking down of racial prejudices. The country needed men of high moral character. There was a great lack of men who would do things as they should be done.

The speaker had the honor of organizing a scout movement while in India and such a movement would have a great influence, as the scouts stood for all the best things in life.

"There will always be room for the westerners in India if they go there in the right spirit," said the speaker in conclusion. "There is great need for men to go there to serve as brothers. If they go there in this spirit, they are sure to make progress. We in Canada cannot but be interested, and we as Rotarians should be interested in bringing about better conditions there."

Rotarians Jackson and Guild moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

President Lyster made an appeal to the members to support the public library by-law which will go before the electors on December 1st.

Death of R. H. C. Green.

Word has been received at Brockville of the death at Chehalis, Wash., on November 21st, while en route to California, of Roger Henry Carleton Green, barrister-at-law, of Vancouver, B.C., whose wife was formerly Mary, daughter of Hon. Stephen Richards, of Brockville and Toronto, sometime commissioner of crown lands of Ontario. The body was cremated and the ashes taken to Vancouver for interment.

Please Remember.

That the celebrated comic opera "Mikado" is being presented at the Grand Theatre, Nov. 24th, 25th and 26th in aid of the Kiwanis Charity Fund. Reserve your seat for the great opening on Monday.

That the "Mikado" is everywhere regarded as the greatest of all the Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

That Dr. Joseph Andre, the conductor, has presented this opera hundreds of times and has given it in many of the most famous European Opera Houses.

That Dr. Andre was the musical director of two famous productions which have been presented in Kingston "The Bohemian Girl" in 1921, and the "Maid of the Mountains," last year.

That Lord Byng, Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada and Lady Byng, head the list of the many distinguished patrons and that the Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mrs. Meighen are also patrons and may occupy box seats at one of the performances.

That the plan of the theatre is open at the Grand box office and the seats are going fast.

Don't miss the Mikado.

At Progressive's Convention.

Local delegates to the convention of the Progressive party held in Toronto, which included Major E. C. Barrett, R. J. Bushell, J. W. Raymond and W. S. Reed, M.P., have returned home.

Major Barrett held the honor of being elected provincial treasurer of the organization. Many matters of legislation were discussed at this convention, which was voted a great success by the local delegates.

The Whig was informed that at the next general election the Progressives would have candidates both in the city and in the county.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

By Our Student Correspondent.

Saturday afternoon is seeing the first of girls' intercollegiate debating at Queen's. Two debates are being held at the same time. Queen's, represented by Miss Hazel Argue and Miss Marion Moffatt, arguing against McGill at Montreal, and two girls from Varsity contesting against two Queen's girls, Miss Ruby Hilliker and Miss Henrietta Anderson, in Convocation Hall.

There were some allmly attended lectures at the college on Saturday, so many students having gone to Toronto. No parade of the O.T.C. was held in view of the game.

The annual Levana sale was held in Grant hall on Saturday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon the German Club elected officers for the season as follows: Honorary president, Prof. J. Macgillivray; president, Miss Gertrude Dammann; vice-president, E. Hess; secretary, Miss Ruth Huffman; critic, Taylor Shore; reporter, Miss Marie Stock; representatives of faculties—Levana, Miss Esther Wagner; Arts, Mr. Cloof; Science, J. Findlay; Medicine, Carl Smith; post-graduates, Mr. Cumberland. One more meeting will be held before Christmas.

There is talk of establishing a new faculty at the college, to include the many students registered in the new commerce course, which is growing in popularity. The club formed by these students has drawn up a good programme of addresses for the winter and is planning a "Commerce" dinner like the other faculties hold.

The posting of an official timetable for the Christmas examinations has caused some concern among the Arts men and girls. The writing will start on December 17th and last till Dec. 23rd. In past years the Arts students wrote mid-term exams after New Year's.

The annual play being put on this fall by the Dramatic Club is to be presented in Convocation hall instead of in a down-town theatre. Arrangements are being made for advertising the Alma Mater Society candidates, which was an important part of the night's programme in other years.

At the meeting of the Alma Mater Society on Monday the candidates for the A.M.S. elections will be nominated and the different years have been picking out their best men to bring forward. As usual, Science and Medicine are combining against the rest of the college. The elections will be held on Monday, December 1st, with an advance poll the Thursday or Friday previous.

At the meeting of the Engineering Society this week, Miss Nobes, who has been in charge of the technical stores for several years, and who has resigned, was presented by the members with a travelling case.

The Mining and Metallurgical Society, which organized this week for the winter, elected the following officers: Hon. president, Prof. M. B. Baker (acc.); president, W. Brown (acc.); vice-president, C. S. Lundy; secretary-treasurer, K. W. Fritzsche. Representatives—final year, E. A. Filmer; junior year, B. E. Weir; second year, J. M. Hamilton.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE ARE AT THE GRAND

In "Bring Up Father in Ireland"—Appear Saturday Matinee and Evening.

"Jiggs and Maggie are back in town, and last night a large crowd of their friends betook themselves to the Grand Opera House to renew old acquaintanceship. "Bring Up Father in Ireland" is the title of these latest escapades of the famous pair, and Jiggs lives true to form when he returns to the land of his ancestors, jaunting off towards the end on a little tour of Spain, probably attracted thence by Maggie's search of titled personalities and Jiggs' never-say-die appreciation of those "peaches" for which Spain is famous.

Advance notices of this attraction claimed that it had nothing of the artistic in it, little of real musical value and no plot. The press agent emphatically stated that it was just a conglomeration into two hours' entertainment of the well-known saying, "It is to laugh." He was right in many ways, but the ability to make a jaded audience forget its troubles and laugh heartily, especially in this season of colds and coal bills, is about the best art known to the stage and in this department "Bring Up Father" excels.

Special mention must be made of the work of Danny Simmons and Emma Weston as Jiggs and Maggie respectively. Patsy Moore, played by Harry Culver and Dinty Moore by Ed. Morris, also went over "big." All were good, with those four showing more prominently because of their greater portion of the centre-stage work.

The specialties were exceptionally fine. "Hinky Dinky Parley Vouz," by Jiggs, Dinty, Patsy and Sandy was probably the biggest hit of the performance. The chorus was pleasing to the eye and to the sense of rhythm. It is a good chorus, a young one, and neither too much "upstage" nor too much the other way.

"Bring Up Father in Ireland" will be presented again this afternoon and evening.
