Ready To Serve You Extra Well IT'S OVERCOAT TIME

Even an attractive illustration and interesting description are a rather lame way to present such Overcoats as ours. You must see these fine Overcoats—try them on. We know that when you behold yourself in the mirror you can better describe these Coats than we possibly could here. The price, too, is attractive.

CITY HOCKEYISTS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Refuse to Let "Ned" Hartrick Go—Last Date for Entries Dec. 3rd.

A splendid meeting of the City Hockey League was held in the Daily Standard building on Thursday evening with a large attendance. President C. E. Taylor said it was the best meeting of the league he had seen since he was first concerned with it.

A communication was read from F. J. Hartrick, incumbent secretary-treasurer, announcing his resignation. In the unavoidable absence of Mr. Hartrick, F. H. Muckler acted as secretary for the meeting.

The election of officers followed. President C. E. Taylor stated that it was his opinion that the league would benefit by a change in the chair and wished a respite from his duties, but after the vote was taken he was returned by acclamation to the position of president for 1924-25. George L. Vanhorne was elected vice-president by acclamation. On motion of Dr. R. P. Millan and J. Smith, the meeting decided not to accept the resignation of E. J. Hartrick and voted him in as secretary-treasurer for the coming season with the power to appoint his own assistant.

Several of those present took advantage of the opportunity to speak highly of the work done for the league by Mr. Hartrick. He had been unselfish with his time and had placed the league affairs on the most stable basis known in its history. Every phase of his work had been handled with the highest efficiency and with an ability and fairness above criticism.

It was carried unanimously that the City League do all in its power to cooperate with the new proposed amalgamated Kingston team in the intermediate O.H.A. A delegation consisting of Dr. R. P. Millan and President C. E. Taylor was appointed to attend the hockey meeting at Queen's University on Monday afternoon when the affairs of the proposed new team will be discussed.

The following teams were entered for the senior and only series to be opened by the league this winter: Y.I.C.B.A., by W. Palmer; Granites, by F. H. Muckler; Live Wires, by S. McQuade; Circle-Six, by Howard Reid. It was decided that the next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 3rd, in the same building at 7.15, and that all entries must be in by that date.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

By Our Student Correspondent.

Oratory aplenty, from some twenty-five speakers, was enjoyed by the student body when the A. M. S. candidates addressed a mass meeting in Grant Hall, Thursday afternoon. After much yelling and paper throwing J. L. McKelvey, the medicine-science presidential candidate, led off. His address was an announcement of his party's platform. This, he said, stood for more student government, a better training for the freshmen, such as making a senior responsible for their welfare during their first year and a distinctive headgear for them as had been adopted by some Old County and American Universities and better representation on the Athletic Board. He also attacked the platform put forward by his opponents: Speaking of athletics affairs at the college he gave most credit to Prof. C. W. Drury for their present condition.

John Macgillivray, the arts-commerce-Levans-Theology candidate for president, then presented the "All-Star" platform of his side. Its eight points included reduction of athletic fees and hockey tickets, reopening of the cafeteria for the session, more attention to minor athletics, oratorical and debating organizations. He was followed by the other candidates, five girls being among the speakers on his side.

N. R. Wright, the present holder of the critic's office presided.

The last meeting of the German Club before Christmas, held on Thursday afternoon, heard Prof. James Roy give an enlightening description of conditions in Germany and especially in the universities, where he spent the past summer as a visiting professor. The honorary president, Professor Macgillivray, and the president, Miss Dammann, also gave short addresses. There were refreshments.

Dr. Heaton, who was secured by the Department of Economics last fall to lecture part of the term, intended to leave on Friday on a visit to the west, later returning to England. He is on a year's leave of absence from Adelaide University.

Prof. A. M. Peisch, of the Technical School of Administration and Finance, Dartmouth College, spent a day at Queen's on Thursday, giving several lectures to the classes in commerce and addressing the Commerce Club in the afternoon on "Accounting As Aid to Management."

The Faculty Players read Gita Sowerby's "Rutherford and Son" in the Red Room Thursday night.

OBITUARY

Late William Henry Metcalfe.

At Portland, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 26th, occurred the death of W. H. Metcalfe, a well known and highly respected gentleman of that village. On Tuesday morning he suffered a severe stroke and died the following morning without regaining consciousness.

The deceased was born, at Morton, Leeds County, in 1856, and had lived the greater part of his life in the county. He was of a very kind and sociable disposition, and had a host of friends and acquaintances.

The late Mr. Metcalfe, was twice married. His first wife was Miss Alta R. Johnston, who, predeceased him fifteen years ago; his second wife, being Miss Kate Nuttal, Gananoque.

Besides the widow, there remains to mourn his loss, one son, Charles, of Portland, also one brother, H. F. Metcalfe, Kingston, and one sister, Mrs. F. C. McLaren, Chicago. The late Mrs. H. J. Peters, Portland, was also a sister.

The funeral service was conducted in the Portland Methodist church, and interment was made in the Elgin cemetery.

Concert at Mowat Hospital.

The patients and the staff of Mowat hospital had a very enjoyable time on Friday evening when they were entertained at a concert by the Royalite Dramatic Club of Kingston, under the management of Mr. W. White. Following is a list of those who took part: T. Hulst, E. Parker, F. Baldry, B. Preston, G. White, G. Wood, J. Parker, C. Powell, H. Young, and Miss I. Baldry, accompanist. E. Parker and H. Young, better known as Kingston's "Boss Hamilton and Jock Holland" gave some very clever impersonations. The programme was much enjoyed by all present, and a vote of thanks was tendered by the president, Mr. Drury, to the members of the club for their entertainment.

Helped Him at Work.

Neighbors of Robert Gamble, of Leeds county, who was seriously injured some months ago when attacked by a number of men, assisted him in his plying last week. Mr. Gamble spent several months in the General Hospital here.
