CHRISTMAS CONCERT IN THE PENITENTIARY

To Take Place Wednesday Afternoon—Convicts Enjoyed Christmas Meals.

Arrangements are being made for the annual Christmas entertainment at the Portsmouth penitentiary, which will take place on Wednesday afternoon, December 31st. A half holiday will be declared and the prisoners will assemble in the Protestant chapel at two o'clock. There are a large number of musicians and artists confined to the institution, and practices have been held during the past few weeks. Last year a representative of the Whig had the pleasure of attending the Christmas event. The concert was put on entirely by the convicts and one of the men, who was doing a three-year sentence, acted as chairman.

The prisoners were delighted with the Christmas dinner served on Thursday. Although the menu did not include turkey or goose, the prisoners had all the roast port they could eat. During the afternoon the prisoners were served with ice cream cones. This was an extra treat. Three days were taken up making ice cream. While the convicts spent the afternoon in their cells, several men were detailed to visit the cells and distribute ice cream cones. It was certainly a real treat and the convicts were loud in the praises of the excellent meal which was served by the prison chef, Mr. Kerrison.

WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

The Happy Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kemp, 455 Division Street.

On Christmas Eve Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kemp, 455 Division street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They were married on Christmas Eve 1874, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Veale, 154 York street. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Canon Malock of St. Paul's church. Mr. George Kemp, now resident of Laport Ind., brother of the groom, acted as groomsman, and Mrs. Samuel Lee, the bride's sister, now of Windsor, acted as bridesmaid. Many of those present at the ceremony have passed to the Great Beyond or are scattered far and wide over Canada and the United States.

Of Mr. and Mrs. Kemp's family of ten children three died in childhood; Russell died of wounds received at Lens, 1917, and five are in Saskatchewan. Herbert, Ernest, Mrs. Russell Clyde, Mrs. Howard Sorsow and Mrs. Clarence Moscrip. The oldest son, William, teaching in the Technical School, Toronto, was the only one able to get home for the anniversary. There are twelve grand-children.

The guests present at the golden wedding spent a delightful evening recalling many events and memories of bygone days, but Mr. John Veale was the only one present who was at the wedding fifty years before. Mr. Chas. Veale, Mrs. Kemp's youngest brother, cut the wedding cake. The happy couple received many beautiful presents from friends far and near, among them being a number of gold pieces. Among the presents was a beautiful electric grate from the G. Robertson and Son, Ltd. The friends departed in time to help Santa Claus wishing that the wedded pair might be spared many more years of happy life together, and celebrate their diamond anniversary.

NAMING OF CHAIRMEN NOW THE BIG TASK

There is Little Gossip as to Likely Heads of Civic Committees.

Owing to the fact that the last meeting of the council of 1934 has been held, and that the new council will not get "into harness" until January 5th, matters are being very quiet in civic circles.

The main thing now is the selection of chairman for the various committees, and these will be definitely decided on at the first meeting of the council.

There has been very little gossip as to who is likely to be selected for the heads of committees, but it is expected that a "slate" will be drawn up shortly and there is much speculation as to who will land the chairmanships.

The Board of Works suffered a serious blow in the recent election, as no less than four members of this committee were defeated.

Gwendola June McLean Dead.

On December 23rd, death visited the home of John D. McLean, Pittsburg, and took away their baby, Gwendola June (Gwenie), aged seven months and thirteen days. The baby became suddenly ill and was removed to the Kingston General hospital for an operation, after which she died. The funeral took place from her father's residence, Pittsburg, on December 25th, from thence to Cataragui cemetery. Rev. D. Tennant, Lancaster, officiated. The bearers were two uncles, Robert Donaldson and Charles McLean. There is left to mourn, besides her sorrowing parents, one little brother, Dany, and one sister, Alice.

Mr. M. J. Kennedy, whose name was prominently mentioned with regard to the reversion of the village of Portsmouth, has served on the council of that municipality for twenty-one years, for fifteen of which he has been in association with the present reeve, James Halliday.

Local Briefs Gathered by Reporters—What the Merchants Are Offering.

Charles Simpson, Kingston, spent Christmas with his son, S. W. Simpson, Brockville.

Mr. Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at 109 Clergy street west, phone 564w.

"Mutt and Jeff" pleased another good audience at the Grand on Friday night, closing the engagement of this company.

In the absence in Montreal of the rector, the Rev. A. O. Cooke, the Dean of Ontario will take the service at St. Mark's church, Barriehead, on Sunday morning.

The Peterboro Examiner says: "The menu at the penitentiary for Christmas was attractive enough to make the mouths of some of Canada's unemployed water."

This has been an exceedingly quiet week in police court circles. There were only a couple of cases before the police court all week. Saturday morning there was another blank sheet on the police court blotter.

Another cold wave, during which the temperature is expected to fluctuate around the zero mark, is on its way here from the Canadian Rockies. It is due about Sunday morning.

The Family Market Basket

The abundant Christmas dinners enjoyed by the citizens of Kingston may have accounted for the lack of enthusiasm in the marketers on Saturday morning. They were few in number and looked in an uninterested manner at the turkeys for which their owners were asking from 35 to 40c a pound. Large geese were $3 and $3.50 a piece. Beef sold for 8 and 9c a pound. Butter and eggs were scarce and sold at 40c for butter and 70c for eggs. Lovely flowers were sold at reasonable prices.

AT SAILORS' MISSION

Christmas Concert and Tree Were Greatly Enjoyed.

A large number attended the concert and Christmas tree held at the Sailors' Home and Friendly Mission on Christmas night. The rooms were nicely decorated, and William Baronius acted as chairman. Songs were given by Dan O'Gorman, W. Baronius, Mr. McTavish, Mr. Jack, violin solos by Frank Allen, accordion solos by William Allen, violin and accordion duet by Frank Allen and Mr. McTavish, step dancing by D. O'Gorman and Mr. McTavish.

Santa Claus arrived in time to give the gifts from the tree. The directors of the home are very grateful for the following gifts: Cash donations by L. Carruthers, W. Baronius, and other friends; ducks by T. F. Burke; canned fruit by Mrs. Thompson; oranges by Mrs. Stansbury; apples by Miss Warren; maple syrup by D. A. Shaw; candy and nuts by Messrs. Baronius and B. O. Smith; and tobacco, sweets, writing paper and envelopes by Mrs. Constantine.

They are also greatly indebted to the people of the district for their donations of potatoes, vegetables, etc.

An orchestra is shortly to be organized at the home and any person having musical instruments to donate would receive the gratitude of the management. A violin and a concertina are especially needed.

Nicholson-Campbell Wedding.

A quiet wedding was performed at St. John's rectory, Portsmouth, by Rev. W. Hillyard Smith, when Ethel Helen Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Portsmouth, became the bride of William Ford Nicholson, Denver, Col., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nicholson, Division street. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Wickham, and the groom by his cousin, Mr. Hewitt Smith. The bride wore a neat gown of silver grey silk brocade, with touches of blue and the bridesmaid wore a pretty dress of navy silk velvet with oriental trimming. Owing to the serious illness of the groom's mother, the wedding was of a very quiet nature. The happy couple leave for their home in Denver, Col., very shortly. The bride received many handsome presents.

KIWANIS ACTIVITIES.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Kiwanis Club will be held on Monday evening, commencing at six o'clock, and the notice says "from six to eight," which means snappy business. Billie Givens, Alf. Fair and Jack McGill will be in charge as the nominating committee. The election of officers and directors will take place. The chairmen of all committees will be expected to tender written reports on the year's work. It will be a lively meeting and every member should be there to vote on the elections.
