 Mrs. Fannie Bowers, Picton), was admitted to the Meridian, Can., hospital for medical treatment, plication of disease. Mrs. Merriam's condition is improving.

Uncovering Relics
 Occasionally H. S. Foster's farm in Prince Edward county produces Indian relics. Recently while plowing he turned out a piece of Indian pottery which shows the ingenuity of the natives in making utensils for domestic use. There is evidence all along Trout Creek of early Indian encampments.

Removing To Cornwall
 The Chisholm Construction Co.
 Limited, railway, highway and general contractors, have transferred their head office from Lancaster to Cornwall, and are located in the old lacrosse factory, formerly occupied by F. Brocklebank. They intend using this building as an office and an assembly place for their machinery and contracting plant when not in use.

Death of a Child Frances Alfreda Smith, the ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
 John George Smith, Consecen street, Wellington, passed away on Dec.
 21st, after an illness of about ten days. The funeral service was held on the 24th, and the remains were laid in the vault at Wellington.

WHY THE WEATHER?
 DR. CHARLES F. BROOKS
 Secretary, American Meteorological Society, Tells How.

Snow That Sticks
 Some wet snows load trees and bushes heavily, cling to fences and posts, and will roll up into large balls easily. When a wind accompanies the snowfall the opposite sides of tree trunks present a striking contrast.
 Facing the wind and looking at the lee sides we see bare black trunks; turning round and looking at the windward surfaces we find them white with snow. If the wind is very light the snow will load the top sides of branches and fence rails and will be plastered but little on vertical surfaces. Fir trees may let no snow through to the ground even during falls of over six inches, and a single small tree will support, if strong enough, several hundred pounds of snow. A wet snow occurring recently in New England not only broke branches from trees, but also in a windy belt caused the wholesale destruction of lines of telephone poles. The snow was wet by melting in passing through a warm wind at a moderate height, while the air near the ground remained near enough freezing to eliminate melting after the snow struck and stuck.
 At times snow will cling even though it may not be wet. In one instance, a snowfall made up of crystals in the form of straight fuzzy rods averaging about 1-16th of an inch in length, clung together on reaching a suitable support, forming a tenacious blanket. Spaces as wide as 10 inches were bridged across.

U.S. Consul Resigns
 Guelph, Dec. 20.—Because of ill-health, James Ryerson, for many years United States consul here, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at the end of the year, and the announcement is made that after Jan. 1st the local United States consular office will be closed until further notice and that in future all business will be done by the American consul at Hamilton.
 Veterans to appeal to governments for assistance for ex-service men and their dependents.

Frances will be missed not only by her relations, but by her many friends in the village, as she was a dear, lovable child.

Died in the West
 William J. Cowan died at Killarney, Man., after a long illness. He was born at Consecen fifty-nine years ago. A widow, four sons and two daughters survive. One sister is Mrs. Henry Bristol, Kingston.
 For a number of years the deceased was a member of Killarney council and a prominent Mason. He was a great lover of horses, and no sporting event, especially of the earlier years, was complete without an entry from James Cowan.

Nugget in Chicken's Stomach August Lobinger, Perth, met with an unusual experience last Friday. He purchased a chicken and took it home. In removing the "inwards" of the bird, Mrs. Lobinger discovered a bright object, and on examination she found it to be a polished gold nugget, somewhat larger than a pea. It is supposed to have been a gold tooth, some person having been unfortunate enough to lose the artificial molar in the neighborhood of where the chicken was brought up. Local valuers say the nugget is worth $4. The chicken was sold for 50c.

Mrs. Patrick Bond Passed Away
 After an illness of some weeks, one of the oldest residents of Prince Edward county, in the person of Mrs. Patrick Bond, passed peacefully on December 21st. The deceased lady was born in Athol in 1840, the second oldest of a family of thirteen children of the late John Goodwin and Sarah Wicks. In 1861 she married Patrick Bond of Athol.

 Of this marriage four children survive, James Bond, Milford; John Bond, Dexter, N.Y.; Mrs. Edward Vangosen, Dexter, N.Y.; and Mrs.
 William McKenna of Black River Bridge. Mrs. Bond had been at the home of William McKenna, Picton, for the past three years.

New Year's At Y.M.C.A.
 New Year's at the Y.M.C.A. will be the biggest day of the year, with open house to everybody in Kingston. The day will be ushered in by a watch-night service for older boys and young men, conducted by the Rev. F. Sanders after the evening's programme in the gym.

In the morning there will be a strenuous game of volleyball between the directors and the senior class. After dinner the members of the board and their wives will receive, there will be basketball and group games in the gymnasium, swimming races in the pool, calendar and stamp exhibits in the dining hall and inspection all over. A particularly interesting feature will be the new dormitories for young men which are ready for occupation. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary and Mother's Council, and the "Y" orchestra will make music during the afternoon.
 In the evening there will be a concert for the indoor athletic championship in six events. Already there is a large entry list and the winner will hold the cup for the ensuing year besides receiving suitable medal awards. For those who prefer less strenuous exhibitions there will be a concert and moving pictures in the auditorium.
