SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLD CHRISTMAS EVENTS

St. Andrew's, Chalmers, Bothel, Princess and Queen Street Methodist and St. Paul's.

The annual Christmas entertainment of St. Andrew's Sunday school took place in the hall of the church on Tuesday evening with the pastor, Rev. J. W. Stephen presiding. A programme consisting of the following numbers was given—'Recitation, Miss May McDonald; chorus by the primary class; recitation, Francis Flynn; piano solo, Marion Heagle; recitation, Violet Alcorn; chorus, 'Christmas Doll,' Miss McLean's class; recitation, Gordon Mercer; chorus by the boys of Mrs. Miller's and Miss Clow's classes; violin solo, Edwin Strachan; chorus, Mrs. McBride's class; recitation, Jack Teigmann; dialogue, 'The Prayer of the Forest Spirits' by the girls of Miss Davis' class; recitation, Betty Hanson; solo, Erna Shultz; recitation, Gordon Mercer; recitation, Miss Leach's class; Santa Claus then appeared on the scene and distributed presents to the children.

Much credit for the success of the entertainment is due to the following teachers: Mrs. Newlands, Mrs. Hanson, Miss Davis, Miss Leach, Miss McLean, Mrs. McBride, Mrs. Miller, Miss Clow, Miss Leslie, Mr. Gill and Mr. Hess. Miss Gertrude Harold and Miss Jean Simmons' assistance at the piano was much appreciated.

At Chalmers. Soon after school on Tuesday the children began to arrive at Chalmers' hall, all agog with anticipation for their Christmas treat. At half past five o'clock their teachers seated them at the long tables, bright with colored streamers and candles, and served them with a dainty supper. Afterwards the parents and friends arrived and a splendid concert was put on.

The programme began with the hymn, 'Hark the Herald Angels Sing.' This was followed by a speech of welcome, Stuart MacMillan; recitation, Don McDougall; doll drill, beginners and primary; piano solos, Elsie Williamson; recitation, Ruth Harlow; solo, George Lillie; recitation, Hilda Scott; chorus, beginners and primary; recitations, by Ruth Johnston and Edith Smith; piano solo, Malcolm Brown; recitation, Margaret Saunders (aged 3); an exercise by the boys' class; recitation, Donald Johnston; drill, 'Jingle Bells,' by the junior girls; recitation, Dorothy Harlow; piano solo, George Lilly (aged six); recitation, Jean Johnston and a vocal solo by Miss Lottie Sanders.

From time to time telegrams were received from Santa Claus who arrived just as the programme concluded. In his pack were gifts for all the children present, and each teacher was delighted to receive a most unexpected but well deserved present.

At Bethel Church. Santa Claus paid his annual visit to Bethel church on Tuesday night, the occasion being the annual Christmas entertainment and Christmas tree. There was a good attendance and everyone had a most enjoyable time. The programme included the following numbers: Chorus, intermediates; recitation, Gordon Clensahan; solo, Jean Wilson; song, primary boys; recitation, William Clensahan; song, six girls; recitation, Christina Irvine; duet, by Evelyn Robinson and Eita Oakes; solo, by Jack Pullen; chorus, the primary department; solo, Violet Smithers; closing chorus, 'The Message of the Christmas Day.'

Queen Street Church. The junior department of Queen street Sunday school held an entertainment and supper on Tuesday evening, under the management of the teachers of that department. The boys met at the church at 8 o'clock and paraded to the Y.M.C.A., where they thoroughly enjoyed the 'Punch and Judy' show that was put on for them. After the show they returned to the church and had supper, and after a short entertainment went home happy. The intermediate and senior department will have their entertainment some time next week.

At St. Luke's. On Tuesday evening the annual Christmas entertainment of St. Luke's was held in the church hall. The supper, which was prepared by the teachers and parents of the school, was served at 6.30 o'clock. The rector, Rev. J. deP. Wright, acted as chairman and gave a short address and during the intermissions addresses were given by J. W. Connor, superintendent, and J. P. Frost, assistant superintendent. Santa Claus arrived at 9.50 o'clock and distributed presents to all the children. The following programme was given: Drill, Miss Goff's class; recitation, Lois Clarke; solo, Sophia Webber; recitation, Harold Roberts; song, Robert Wilson; recitation, Richard Saunders; scarf dance, by Miss Hentig's class; song, Edmond Frost; play, Mrs. England's class; recitation, Stuart Watson; piano duet, Winnifred Jones and Mary Roberts; song, Noreen Patterson; recitation, Eileen Webber; Christmas song, Miss Compton's class; dance, Miss Helen Brinchi; piano solo, Miss Emma Clench; recitation, Hilda Murray; recitation, Betty Fraser; chorus, by Miss Wood's class; recitation, by Edna Elliott; recitations by the following members of Mrs. C. Johnson's class, Ada

Webber, Ruth Campbell, Dorothy Campbell, Muriel Ware, Mabel Elliott and Amelia Saunders; recitations, Roberts, Saunders, Norma Murray and Mary Roberts.

At St. Paul's. At St. Paul's church about one hundred infants of Miss Thurston's class gathered for their annual Christmas tree and entertainment. There were solos, drills, recitations, and choruses by the children. Mr. Pilgrim made a very effective Santa Claus and found presents for all the children on the well loaded tree. Mr. Monck assisted to distribute the gifts. The older children will have their treat at a later date.

Cooke's Entertainment. A very unique entertainment was given last evening by the children of Cooke's Sunday school entitled 'A Joke on Santa Claus.' Each act was told in song. Miss Kate Eason made an excellent mother, responding by song and story at the request of her family. Mrs. Treneer, as grandma, sang very sweetly the lullaby to the baby, also a song illustrating the true Christmas spirit entitled 'Others.' Mildred Caghey, Marguerite Lemmon, Gordon Ferguson and Billy Laird gave zest to the programme by teasing and joking and when requested doing their 'stunts' by singing, etc. Billy Pipe and Foster McLennan captivated the audience with their acting and songs. Gordon Cummings made an excellent father. Violet MacRae, as Sandman, appeared and thought it quite a joke to sprinkle the sand in the eyes of the sleepy children.

The second act opened with the entrance of the Holly and Mistletoe fairies, who with graceful gestures and song told what they were doing to keep the Christmas spirit. These were Mildred Caghey, Helen Ferguson, Laura Truelove, Marion Holland, Evelyn Baldry, Viola La Tour, Olivia Lemmon and Grace Gray. The frost sprites were the ones who helped by freezing the ponds and rivers and thus help the children to have some fun. These were: Gordon Turriff, Billy Newman, Clifford Reeves, Billy Ferguson, Archie Patterson, Donald Lewars and George MacKay; the Snow Fairies were Jean Truscott, Myrtle Waltham, Cora Horn, Thelma Todd, Margaret Hyland, Vera Waltham, Margaret Patterson. When all assembled Santa Claus goes about his work filling the stockings, etc. Suddenly an alarm clock went off, waking the two little ones, who had been asleep in a big chair, and who run out singing, 'We've Caught You, Mister Santa Claus,' everyone joining in the chorus.

Another interesting part of the programme was the singing of Christmas carols by about thirty of the children clad in witch hoods and cloaks. The 'Dolly's Lullaby,' sung by six tiny tots with their dolls and cradles, was another item that greatly pleased the audience.

Mrs. Ferguson, to whom the success of the performance is largely due, was accompanist throughout the evening. Miss Jean Douglas ably assisted with the violin. Afterwards the distribution of the prizes for regular attendance at church and Sunday school was made. The proceeds go to help the mission band.

Princess Street Church. Princess street Methodist church White Gift Christmas entertainment was held Tuesday evening. A large and interested audience of parents and friends listened to a splendid programme, given by members of the school and other artists. The following members of the primary class took part: Hedgeson Miller, Ruth Snowden, Wilson Stewart, Evelyn Loney, Cameron Loney, Doris Clark, Helen Beck, Norma Redmond, Britton Henry, Billie Good, Pearl Neilson, Alfred Beck, Nellie Downie, Betty Miller, Geraldine Isbell and Phyllis Peters.

The junior department gave the following numbers: Recitations by Lorraine Potter, Kay Bleakley, James Rutherford, Dorothy Rutherford. The junior choir, consisting of thirty members, dressed in their white surplices and carrying candles sang Christmas carols. Piano solos were rendered by Lorraine Potter, Geraldine Isbell and Dorothy Rutherford. Piano duet by Miss Gladys Potter and Mrs. Corkey.

An interesting dialogue was given by the members of Miss Grace Asseleine's class, entitled, 'Christmas Joy.' Mrs. Curtis told a Russian Legend entitled 'Baboocha.' The Thomas Brothers, The Welsh Quartette, sang two very sweet numbers. Mr. Treaner, the blind musician, played and sang to the great enjoyment of all present.

The white gifts consisted of baskets for poor families from the different classes and contributions of money for other purposes amounting to over $150. One contribution, a check for $10 from Mr. S. S. Jones, now in Pittsburgh, Penn., a former teacher who has been away for eight years and never fails to send this generous contribution every year. Rev. J. K. Curtis presided.

New Year's will be celebrated at the G.W.V.A. by a smoker for the members in the evening.
