ENTERTAIN PRISONERS IN THE PENITENTIARY

There Were 690 Present at the Concert Held on Wednesday Afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon six hundred and ninety convicts, or about seven less than the total number of male prisoners confined to the Portsmouth penitentiary, were present at a concert at the prison.

The Musician's Union, of which E. J. Conley is the president and leader, furnished an orchestra consisting of eleven pieces. The orchestra played while the moving pictures were being shown, and the prisoners showed their appreciation by vigorous clapping of hands.

Four members of the staff of the Rockwood hospital put on an "Operation Skit," which was very good. R. W. Millard furnished the piano which was used, and Harry Hill accompanied Stewart Salesbury.

On Tuesday afternoon the female prisoners were entertained to a concert which was given by Mrs. I. Bugge, Mrs. H. P. McGrath, Miss M. J. Douglas and Miss E. Balch, members of the Musician's Union.

WANTED TO GO TO JAIL; GOES BACK TO TORONTO

Aged Man Has Been Seeking Shelter at the Police Station.

This is hard weather for a man eighty years of age, to be wandering around the country, without means of support. Several days ago, the aged man in question arrived in the city from Toronto. He has no means of support, and wanted to go to jail, so as he would be cared for.

GOES TO THE FREEMAN.

Mr. A. C. Givens Takes Over Management of That Paper. Mr. A. C. Givens, sporting editor of the Whig for the past five years, has severed his connection with this paper, to take over the management of the Canadian Freeman, in Kingston, and his position on the Whig has been taken over by Mr. Clarence Devlin of this city.

At St. Mary's Cathedral. Solemn High Mass marked the celebration of the Feast of the Circumcision on New Year's morning in St. Mary's cathedral. Rev. Father Loney was the celebrant. Archbishop Spratt, attended by Fathers Cheney and Coyne, was in the sanctuary. The pulpit was taken by Rev. Father Hyland, who extended the greetings of his grace and the staff to the members of the congregation.

New "Cop" On Job. Bert McWilliams, who was recently appointed to a position on the Kingston police force, commenced his duties on Thursday night, and will do a turn at night work for a time. The new constable certainly had a cold night for his start as one of "Kingston's finest."

Started Year Right. Kingston started off the New Year right in regards police court business. There was no session on New Year's Day and on Friday morning there were no cases on the police court blotter.

City Council Inaugural. The stage is all set for the inaugural meeting of the city council of 1925, on Monday morning, at eleven o'clock, but as far as could be learned on Friday, there has been no "drama" prepared as yet, for the chairman of the various committees.

The crust of home-made bread will have a most attractive gloss if you brush over the top with the lightly beaten yolk of an egg. Phillip Markland, Greenbush, spent a few days in Kingston visiting his brother, F. Markland.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Local Briefs Gathered by Reporters—What the Merchants Are Offering.

The New Year greetings are still going strong on the streets. An old Christmas tree is as hard to get rid of as a safety razor blade.

Mr. Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at 100 Clergy street west, phone 5644. Edward Saunders, Toronto, who spent the holiday in the city, has returned to his home.

There was an unusually large number of skaters at the Arena yesterday, owing to the holiday. Rev. J. A. Maclean returned today to Inverness, Que., after spending the holidays with his family here.

The civic utilities commission for 1925 will get down to business after the first meeting of the city council is held.

Badminton championships are to be played in Ottawa, on Feb. 12th, 13th and 14th. Kingston will have contestants at it. Fine quality boots for men, all styles at $3.45. "See these to-morrow" at Martin's big annual mid-winter shoe sale.

This year at least three canal-size boats will be added to the fleet of the George Hall Coal Companies of Montreal and Ogdensburg.

Miss Hilda C. Wilson and Miss Bertha Maley, Smith's Falls, have been accepted on the nursing staff of the Kingston General Hospital.

When the Board of Education holds its inaugural meeting, it is expected that Mrs. Alexander Newlands will be elected to the chairmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sutton, Smith's Falls, spent New Year's day with Mr. G. A. McDonald, who is a patient in the General Hospital.

"Bigger and better than ever before," Martin's mid-winter shoe sale starts to-morrow, Martin's Shoe Store, 139 Princess street.

George Dart, Kingston, has been bereaved by the death of his mother at Smith's Falls, aged seventy-eight years. She was a Baptist in religion.

Many private parties were held throughout the city on New Year's Eve to celebrate the passing of the old year and the coming of the new.

Miss Marie Lovitt, Detroit, Mich., who spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lovitt, Earl street, returned home last night.

Miss Vida Wylie, a nurse in the Hotel Dieu, was called to Gananoque by the death of her brother, Philip Wylie, on Dec. 26th. He was a telegraph operator.

Bruce Horns, Wolfe Island, sustained his reputation of being the first man to cross the St. Lawrence river from the island to Cape Vincent, N.Y.

There was an omission in the report of Cooke's Sunday school entertainment, on Wednesday. Miss Emma Horns as the Christmas spirit made a decidedly fine queen of the fairies.

Hundreds of pairs of ladies' low shoes for $1.95, "the best value in years," at Martin's mid-winter shoe sale. Martin's shoe store, 139 Princess street.

On New Year's day, Walter Rimer, mayor of Bryson, Que., aged eighty-one years, and his wife, formerly Mary Lavinia Purvis, Gananoque, celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary. Mr. Rimer has been mayor for about fifty years.

The funeral of the late Alice L. Marwick, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Marwick, 307 Alfred street, took place Friday afternoon at two o'clock from James Reid's undertaking parlors to Cataract cemetery.

Comments the Y.M.C.A. In expressing his regrets at being unable to attend the New Year's Day ceremonies at the Y.M.C.A., Mr. J. G. Elliott, president of the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce wrote: "I, after forty years' knowledge, believe in the Y.M.C.A.'s aims and purposes, in its helpful service to young men, in its seeking to interpret noble living, sound business ethics and high spiritual ideals to all who come within the scope of its operations. "I commend young men to get close to the life and purpose of the organization. Business is demanding—clean, upright, capable men, and

Five Men Given Shelter At the Police Station

Any place in a time of storm—or cold weather. Even the police station is a welcome place when the thermometer shows seven below zero. On Wednesday night, the snappy weather caused five homeless men to seek shelter at the police station. The police station is always open for the man or woman in hard luck. No person is ever turned away so on New Year's night, while the citizens of Kingston were welcoming the new year, these five men, not only homeless but almost penniless, shared the best that the police station had to offer. On Thursday night one man was given shelter at the police station.

Burial of George Keyes. The funeral of the late George Keyes took place on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, Wolfe Island, to the Presbyterian church where the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Russel. The service was very largely attended. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Stewart Armstrong, William Armstrong, Richard Armstrong, Leslie Armstrong, Arthur Day and Richard Keyes. The funeral arrangements were in charge of the James Reid firm.

Late Mrs. Margaret Lee. The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Lee took place from her late residence, 396 Queen street, on Wednesday afternoon to Cataract cemetery in charge of the firm of James Reid. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Roney of Queen street Methodist church and the pall-bearers were Dr. G. W. Bell, James Bell, George Bell and John Cowdy.

able Archdeacon Forster Bliss passed away at his home in Post Elmley, near here, Wednesday. Until he was stricken with paralysis, which affected his body and speech, the deceased was in charge of St. John's Parish church, Smith's Falls. Coming here from Almonte about fifteen years ago, the late Archdeacon Bliss was elevated from canon about five years ago. His wife predeceased him nearly six years ago, and during his long illness he has been attended by two daughters, the Misses Kathleen and Clara Bliss, at their home in Post Elmley, whence he was moved after leaving his parish here. The deceased, who was seventy-one years of age, is survived by three daughters and five sons.
