God called from us January 26th, 1924 Dead? No, do not speak of her that way: Don't think of her as dead; She's only just gone on a piece, A little way ahead.

She's travelling still the same highway, That she with us has trod: Merely out-distanced us a bit Upon the road to God. Dead? Never with thought like that,

The smallest moment spend, She's simply gone beyond our sight, She's just around the bend. Sadly missed by son and daughters. IN MEMORIAM.

To a shore of ever-green.

How we long to see her sweet face,
But the river flows between.

And our aching hearts are calling,
Through the shadows, dark and grey,
For the dear one who has left us Just six years ago to-day.

Late Mrs. Wm. Cruse, Sr. The funeral of the late Mrs. William Cruse, who died in Toronto, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Davy, was held at ten o'clock Monday morning, from the home cf her son-in-law. James McIlquham, Albert street. The service was conducted by Rev. J. S. LaFlair, and Rev. Douglas Laing.

Mrs. Cruse, whose maiden name was Harriet Crudgington, was born in England, eighty-five years ago, and came to Canada and Kingston with her husband 52 years ago, residing here continuously until fifteen years ago, when they removed to Toronto, where Mr. Cruse died about a year later.

Mrs. Cruse was a life long Baptist, and always took an active part in the work of the local organization during her long residence in Kingston. Failing health had interfered with her ability to attend church during recent years, but she retained a lively interest in spiritual things to the last. Her quiet kindly Christian character was a benediction in her home, and a real force for good in the community. Surviving her are a sister, Mrs Mr. William Purtell and family wish John Litton, Sr., of Kingston, and three sons, and four daughters, William of Winnipeg, John and James of Kingston, Mrs. James Mcliquham and Mrs. W. J. Clark of Kingston, and Mrs. H. W. Davy and Mrs. N G. VanDyke of Toronto.

The Laws of The State Of Perfection

The laws which govern the state of perfection in which the Whig's A-B-C Classified Section comes to you daily, are easily defined.

First, there must be reader-convenience-which accounts for the numerical classifying and alphabetical indexing of all the A-B-C offers. Second, there must be reader-confidence---which accounts for the rigid censorship maintained at all times by the Classified Advertising Department of the Whig. Under these two fundamental laws, and their corollaries, the A-B-C Classified Section has grown into a vitally important medium of absolutely reliable offers which may be sorted for selection by little more than a single glance.

As soon as people move towards the Classified Section they are moving away from the State of Doubt!
