LETTERS To The Editor

Mayor Angrove's Reply. Kingston, Jan. 26th. (To the Editor): Mr. J. Stafford enters the field of criticism in regard to the city's charity work in providing for a family named Goddard. Let me say to Mr. Stafford that I had first hand knowledge and was at the bottom of things from the time that Goddard went on the unemployment list on December 16th, 1924, and also had first hand knowledge that his household was being furnished with food and fuel (including two quarts of milk per day) since that time.

I was also at the bottom of things and thoroughly acquainted with the circumstances because the charity workers had reported him to me several times for insolence, and I knew that he adopted the method of canvassing for donations and did receive orders for fuel and food from private citizens when he had fuel and food in his house from the Poor Relief Committee at the same time. I have no doubt that Mr. Stafford and the street car men sent a donation of food, and this order being on hand with that from the Poor Relief when I called gave origin to the story of making a request when he already had been provided for, and the statement is true.

I do not know what Mr. Stafford's object was in signing that letter. If he wished to cast any reflection on myself or the charity workers he has failed. If he desires to advertise his own charity he is certainly not in the class with those who do good by stealth, and if he is playing someone else's game he will not be happy with the reward that this kind of service brings. Your truly,
—THOMAS B. ANGROVE, Mayor.

SUFFERS A FRACTURE AT TOBOGGAN SLIDE

Mrs. McGlashon Was Struck at the Fort Henry Slide on Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. A. E. McGlashon, 351 Johnson street suffered a broken leg, at the toboggan slides, at Fort Henry, on Sunday afternoon. The unfortunate lady was standing at the bottom of the slides, and did not notice a toboggan coming down at a fast rate. The toboggan hit her and swept her off her feet, breaking a bone in her leg. She was put on a toboggan and taken to the Royal Military College hospital, where she was given first aid, and was later removed to the General Hospital, where she is reported to be doing very well.

A Harrowsmith Display.

A most interesting and enjoyable event took place in the Masonic Hall, Harrowsmith, at 3 p.m. Wednesday when the millinery work of the ladies' department of the agricultural class was displayed. About twenty-five hats were exhibited. Many ladies were present from the surrounding districts to view the work done by the girls. During the afternoon light refreshments were served, after which Mr. McKenzie, manager of the classes, and Mr. E. E. Day, were asked to judge the hats. After careful consideration and much deliberation, Miss Greta Whitty's hat was given first place, Miss Gladys Swerbrick's second place, while Mrs. J. D. Shibley's and Mrs. Carpenter's tied for third. Much credit is due the teacher, Miss F. M. Reek, who so ably conducted the class.

Flew Relief Plane.

Dave Harding, former Queen's rugby star, who is now of the Flying Corps at Camp Borden, flew the relief plane from Camp Borden which picked up the flying party, which was stranded in Newmarket after having been forced to make a landing while enroute to Toronto to observe the eclipse on Saturday morning.

Y.M.C.A. Song Service.

At the boy's Sunday morning Bible class, the usual large and lively crowd gathered and listened to a short talk by Mr. Alexander, of Queen's.
