The tea room of the Garrison Badminton Club was a warm spot on a cold day and for that reason, it for no other, was a cheerful one. The players were working hard preparing to bring back laurels to Kingston from the capital where they will go in February to play the Ottawa club. Among those chosen to represent the team are Major-General Elmestry, Mrs. Victor Tremaine, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. C. Campbell, Mrs. Howard Penhale and Major Victor Williams. Other names will be added later. Those present included General, Elmestry, Col. and Mrs. Victor Anderson, Col. Sutherland Brown, (Ottawa), Col. and Mrs. A. E. Harris, Mrs. H. J. Dawood, Mrs. F. Alderson, Mrs. Howard Penhale, Major Lafferty, Major and Mrs. Victor Tremaine, Major William, Major and Mrs. Henshaw, Major and Mrs. Noel Carr, Mrs. B. K. Sandwell, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Travers Horn.

SULPHUR CLEARS SKIN RIGHT UP

Any breaking out of the skin, even fever, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ringworm. It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrasing. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

A successful tea and sale, under the auspices of the W.M.S. of Cooke's church, was held at the home of Mrs. T. Reid, William street, on Wednesday afternoon from three to six o'clock. The hostesses, Mrs. Claxton and Mrs. Reid, received the visitors as they entered, and Miss E. Murray attended to the collection at the door. The beautifully provided table of homemade cooking was in charge of Mrs. W. Burns and Mrs. T. King, who were kept busy supplying the wants of the many purchasers. In the dining-room the beautifully arranged tea table, centered with a vase of sunny marigolds, was presided over by Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. Cummings, assisted by the members of the refreshment committee, composed of the following ladies: Convent Mrs. V. Horne, Mrs. Frank Irwin, Mrs. T. Reid, Miss E. Newman and Miss Violet McCrae. Despite the cold day, the ladies of the congregation and many friends of the hostess came and spent a pleasant social hour. A substantial sum of money was realized.

The large auditorium of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Gananoque, was filled to its capacity on Wednesday evening when the church held its annual tea meeting in the Sunday school hall, with its pretty shaded lights the banquet took place, afterwards the guests adjourned to the auditorium where a very fine concert was given. The programme consisted of piano and vocal solos, duets and recitations. Miss Ethel Pringle of Kingston was one of the concert party.

Wednesday was members night for the Frontenac Junior Women's Institute and Junior Farmers' Association and they met in the Kingston Dairy school lecture hall to hear a lecture on the history of banking with advice to men and women on this important subject, from Mr. A. N. Lytner, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Mr. A. W. Sirett presided and the young people enjoyed a dance before leaving for their homes.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Betty Boulton, daughter of Mrs. William Mulock Boulton, of York Mills, and Mr. John R. Robinson, Jr., son of Mr. John R. Robinson, editor of the Evening Telegram, Toronto, the marriage to take place on Feb. 11th.

Mrs. William Harty, "Roselawn," was the hostess of a pleasant arranged bridge on Wednesday afternoon of which Mrs. Melfort Boulton, Toronto, was the guest of honor. At

You Cannot Afford To Be Gray

This is the Day of Youth. It is woman's privilege and duty to be young. Gray hair often ages a woman unfairly. Brown tones quickly tint gray, faded, streaked or bleached hair to any shade of golden, blonde, or varying shades of brown or black. Easy to apply, no fuss or muss, no waiting or applying day to day. Bath or shampoo does not effect permanency of color. Sold and recommended at all dealers—50c and $1.50. Trial bottle for testing will be sent by receipt of 5c. Indicate color wanted. WEDDINGS

Des Brisay-Torrance. On the afternoon of January 28th at the home of Rev. Dr. E. F. Torrance and Mrs. Torrance, Alfred street, the marriage was solemnized of their elder daughter, Kitty, and Mr. Merrill Des Brisay, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Des Brisay, Fawcett, B.C. One end of the drawing-room was made lovely with palms and evergreens and here the ceremony took place, Rev. J. W. Stephen of St. Andrew's church officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of white georgette crepe, her veil of exquisite old lace falling over her train of lace and satin. Her only ornament was a rope of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom; her fragrant bouquet was of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bride's only attendant was a small flower girl, Miss Phyllis Anne Du Noalis, daintily frocked in white organdy trimmed with forget-me-nots, and carrying a basket of flowers. Mrs. A. M. Russell, Toronto, an aunt of the bride, played the wedding music. After many congratulations and bright speeches, Mr. and Mrs. Mar-

Keeping Furniture Clean. Through correspondence with my readers I find that many women are puzzled about the question of cleaning their furniture. I therefore believe the following suggestions will be found helpful:

To Clean Carved Furniture: A painter's brush with long bristles will remove the dust from the crevices (so will a bellows or a vacuum blower). Wipe the surface carving with a soft cloth wrung out of warm suds of white soap, then let dry. Now mix together equal parts of caraffin oil and turpentine and dip your long bristled painter's brush into this mixture. Do not wet more than just the tips of the bristles, however; also remove the surplus moisture from the bristles by squeezing the tip of the brush for an instant with a piece of cloth. Go over the carved portions with this and treat the plain surfaces of the carving with a piece of cheesecloth which is moistened with the same turpentine-oil mixture. Finish by polishing with a piece of clean flannel.

To Clean Dull-Finished Walnut or Oak: Make a suds with tepid water and white napha soap. Go over only a small portion of the furniture at a time with a soft cloth dipped in the suds and rub dry with flannel before proceeding to the next place. Finish by applying a clean piece of soft flannel, rubbing it in till the wood no longer feels greasy to the touch. (Note: Do not ask me to recommend brands of furniture polish through this column as I am not allowed to mention tradenames for advertising reasons. Your local hardware store will be able to advise you.) To Clean Rattan, Reed or Willow Furniture: Remove dust by blowing with a bicycle pump, a bellows, or the blower attachment of the vacuum cleaner. If the piece of furniture has a natural finish wash it well with warm suds containing one teaspoon of borax to the quart, applying this with a scrubbing brush. If, however, the piece is stained or painted you must use the method given below:

To Clean Stained, Varnished, Painted or Oil-Stained Furniture: These finishes require the application of a little equal mixed turpentine and linseed oil or some liquid wax.

To Clean Mahogany: When covered with finger-marks or with that bluish, cloudy appearance known as "blow," go over the wood with a piece of fine cheesecloth moistened slightly with a good furniture polish or wrung from warm water which contains one tablespoon each of turpentine and linseed oil to the quart. Polish with velvet or silk.

To-morrow: The popular Pancake.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state. —The Editor

The Editor Hears

That a subscriber wrote to us in appreciation of the paragraph in this column in Tuesday's issue which referred to the sometimes untrue stories circulated about those in need of assistance. The writer is well known to the editor of this page and we are glad to hear from her. She says: "It cheers me to see we have some truth lovers in Kingston." She wrote to us from a sick bed and knowing the hard struggle she has had for many years, we appreciate her letter.

That the extreme cold the last few days has been hard enough on those in well-built houses, but what it must be in the houses of the poor! Think what it must be to see the five hundred of coal getting smaller and smaller while the keen wind searches into every crack and the water freezes beside the stove as the writer has often seen it do.

That radio fans have coined a new word, for instead of saying "I got it verbatim," when they repeat a story word for word that they picked up by radio, they say "I got it airbatim."

That the birds are glad of the crumbs thrown out to them on these cold mornings. If you want to encourage chick-a-dees and nuttches get some sunflower seeds for them. If the sparrows do not drive them away you will see a little blue-gray bird with short legs and short tail, a dark streak near his eye and a rather long bill glad to get a breakfast too. It will be a nuttatch. The downy woodpeckers like suet. Tie a lump to a tree and you will see that it will soon show signs of having provided a meal for someone.

That Queen's University has a badminton club which meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings in the gymnasium. There is an increasing membership.

That since publication of Dwaeger Queen Alexandra's photograph showing Her Majesty wearing a veil with her tresses, manufacturers have noticed a decided demand for expensive chenille veiling and fashion experts foreshadow that all fashionable women will be veiled this spring. The new veils are fine and of the harem variety, covering only the eyes.

Porridge in a jiffy

You can never come down too soon for breakfast when mother makes Quick Quaker porridge. She cooks it in a jiffy. Quick Quaker makes the same flavory, wholesome porridge as the regular Quaker Oats you have always used. But it cooks perfectly in less time than it takes to boil the coffee—five minutes from package to plate. You can get Quick Quaker from the same grocer who sells you Quaker Oats. Try it to-morrow. Costs but a cent a meal.
