The Lay of the Plymouth Rock.
 By Edward Parrish Ware.
 The Plymouth Rock grew old and gray:

Alas, she could no longer lay! So to Cold Storage she was sent With none her sad fate to lament. But there she, to her great surprise, Renewed some tender kinship ties: She saw the eggs, in very truth, She cackled over in her youth, She recognized her dear Papa, Her Grandma, Grandpa, and Mama, And next she saw, as in a trance, Her sisters, cousins, and her aunts! So, while she had her feathers plucked,

Old Biddy in contentment clucked; A thought had come her grief to leaven:

Said she, "I'm in Chicken Heaven!" But she was wrong! That place of ice

Is just the Dealer's Paradise!"

An After-Thought.

Her Friend: "Don't you get awfully sore learning to ride?" Fair Enthusiast: "Yes, but I suppose I'll have to stand for it."
 —E. K. Shovers.

The Wrong Customers.

Marshall: "Yes. Barbers are noticeably less talkative, now that women go to them."

The Uses of Adversity.

"You must brush your teeth, darling, or you will lose them and have to get false teeth."

"But I wouldn't have to brush them, would I, mother?" answered little Louise.

—Mrs. Oscar Oberman.

Little Freddie's father had taken him to a restaurant for the first time.

While there Freddie sniffed all the time, instead of blowing his nose.

His father finally became disgusted and said: "Freddie, haven't you got a handkerchief?"

"Yes, Dad," replied Freddie quickly, "do you want to use it?"
 —William A. Buyers, Jr.

Reason Enough.

"Marshall," called his mother, "why do you fight with Junior so much?"

"Because I can lick 'im!" answered Marshall without hesitation.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain; called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jed Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jed Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

"Yes, they raised the rent on us again this year."

"If you want to make a lot of money quick, I've got a proposition that I think'll interest you."

"Oh, well, let's go to the movies then."

"I won't pay it. Send for the head waiter."

ADVENTISTS RIDICULE END OF WORLD TALK

Scenes of Dark Ages to Be Re-enacted Before Earth's Career Closes.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Another blast aimed at those members or former members of the denomination which has been predicting the end of the world on the night Feb. 6th, was delivered yesterday from headquarters of the Seventh Day Adventist organization.

Several prophecies are yet to be fulfilled before the coming of Christ, the organization Adventists hold, and Mrs. Margaret W. Rowan, leader of those who have fixed the date for next Friday, has been denounced by the church leaders.

Before the end of the world, a church statement said, "the seven last plagues must fall, and as far as we can see, not one has yet fallen. Think of men being afflicted with grievous sores, of the sea becoming as the blood of a dead man, or rivers and fountains, turning into blood, of the sun having power to scorch men, of men gnawing their tongues with pain, and you have an idea of what some of these plagues will be. None of them has yet appeared."

The great battle of Armageddon must be fought during the sixth plague, the statement said, and the seventh plague will bring hail stones weighing one talent each. "We also believe," it was added, "that America will figure prominently in the closing events of earth's history. The Sunday law reformers will yet have their innings to the extent of doing their utmost to force their tyrannical doctrines concerning Sunday sacredness upon dissenters. The land of oppression awaits liberty lovers and the scenes of the dark ages will be re-enacted before the end comes."

CAMPBELLFORD GEYSER SOARES ICE-CUTTERS

Water Shoots in the Air for Period of Nearly Half an Hour.

Campbellford, Feb. 6.—While harvesting ice in Barrie's Lake, near Campbellford, ice-cutters got a bed scare when a huge spurt of water, resembling a fountain, shot up in the air a distance of fifteen feet, continuing nearly half an hour. The lake is a small one, covering only about 10 acres. Air pressure is given as the cause. Needless to say, the men and teams made a quick run to the shore, the sight being something new in these parts. Operations were suspended for the day. Ice in this district ranges from 15 to 18 inches in thickness, and every available team is on the job getting ready for the good old summer time.

An Error Corrected.
 In the list of donations published for the Rotary Club's Shoe and Stocking Fund, it was stated that a donation of $10 was received from St. George's Mission Sunday school. This was an error, as the donation was made by St. George's Mission sewing circle.

 Lieut.-Col. E. J. C. Schindler, of the Royal Military College, who was the speaker at the luncheon of the Kingston Rotary Club at noon today, dealt with the topic, "Maps and Map Making," in a very interesting manner.

SCARLET FEVER SERUM EXPERIMENTED WITH

It is for the Purpose of Making One Immune to the Disease.

It is understood that a new serum that makes one immune to scarlet fever, as vaccination does for small pox, is being experimented with locally. Several members of doctors' families have succumbed to the popular ailment and this has given an opportunity to test out the immunizing value of the new agent on the other members of the families. When a sufficient number of results have been gathered from all over the Dominion the figures will be submitted to the federal authorities, who, if they approve, will issue a license for the commercial use of the remedy. Until such permission has been granted the serum cannot be used in general practice.

The serum is produced by one of the largest American drug firms which has sent small quantities to Canada for experimental purposes. The first injection will show whether the subject is immune to scarlet fever or not. If a red spot develops at the point of injection the subject is not immune. It has been found that about 80 per cent. of the tests show this red spot. At due intervals larger and larger doses are injected and after the third treatment it will be found that the subject no longer reacts unfavorably. It is therefore believed that he is no longer liable to infection from scarlet fever. It will probably be three months or more before the serum can be used in general practice but it promises then to be a great boon. Scarlet fever may soon be as rare as typhoid fever has become.

One local physician who discovered a case of scarlet fever in his own family was able to secure one treatment from another doctor, and by telephoning the head office of the drug firm secured one more packet—the last in Canada. No further cases have developed among his children.

PRINCE WILL SAIL ON H.M.S. REPULSE

About 25th March for His Visit to Argentina and South Africa.

London, Feb. 6.—The Prince of Wales will make his forthcoming journey to Argentina and South Africa in the battle cruiser H.M.S. Repulse, a sister ship of the Renown, which carried him on his official tour to India and Japan in 1922.

As the Repulse is fitted out for a flagship it is expected that a ranking admiral will be selected to command her. Most of the ship's complement of 1,220 officers and men have been chosen. The officers, for the most part, are serving on the Repulse at the present time. About half of the enlisted men are those who have served on the Repulse for two years and the remainder will be honor men of the navy.

The Repulse has been ordered into the yards for a complete overhauling and painting. A special suite for the prince is being fitted out of the apartments adjoining the admiral's quarters, and a gymnasium room is being built for him. There will be also special rooms for the newspaper correspondents who will accompany the prince. The royal traveler will eat his meals with the chief officer's mess, instead of having a private dining room as on the Renown, and the daily menu will conform with the
