Campaign Is Launched to Clear off The Debt of $35,000 on St. George's

Dean of Ontario Places Matter Before Cathedral Congregation—Sir Campbell Stuart, Descendent of Founder, Will Lend His Aid.

The campaign to clear the existing debt of $35,000 on the present edifice of St. George's cathedral was launched on Sunday morning.

At a meeting of the cathedral vestry, held on January 19th, a motion was passed as follows: "In order to commemorate the centenary of the building of this cathedral church of St. George, this congregation pledges itself to take immediate steps to celebrate the occasion by paying off the present debt and therefore enabling the consecration of the church to be carried out."

The Dean of Ontario placed the matter before the congregation on Sunday morning, telling the story of the founding of the parish of St. George's one hundred and forty years ago by Rev. John Stuart, who with his faithful wife at his side walked all the way from Albany to Montreal with the United Empire Loyalists.

of smoking ruins. A snow storm came on in the afternoon, and the dean told his hearers of standing at the main entrance while the soft white flakes fell and seeing, gleaming high on the ruins of the altar, the great brass altar cross, still used in the cathedral, a promise surely that future generations should worship in the building that rose from the ashes.

A striking example of the hold the cathedral and its service have on even casual visitors, was shown this month when the dean met a wealthy man from New York at a dinner in Montreal where the centenary was discussed. "I was in your cathedral once and thought it a beautiful church with a reverent and beautiful service and would like to give you a subscription of $500," he gave the dean a cheque for $200 and the remainder will be forthcoming later.

The small insurance which was on the building when it was burned left a large sum to be raised for restoration something in the neighborhood of $100,000. To pay the balance left, $35,000, off is the task before the cathedral.

The choir sang as an anthem, "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

He made money on the farm

OF many a farmer retiring to a well-earned rest it has been said, "He made a lot of money on that farm." The fact is that he made no more money than his neighbour, but he saved a great deal more.

Acquiring wealth is largely a matter of systematic spending and saving. Without a definite plan few men get anywhere. Hard work is not enough; the fruits of the work must be conserved.

MEETING OF CHAIRMEN FOR OLD BOYS' REUNION To Arrange the Programme for the Kingston's Old Home Week.

Mayor Thomas Angrove has called a meeting for to-night, at the city hall, of the chairmen of the various committees appointed to arrange for the old boys reunion, and it is hoped that every chairman will be at the meeting so that plans for the old home week can be proceeded with. It is the desire to map out a programme for each committee, so that the chairmen can then get down to work with the members of the committee. There is a great deal of work to be carried out and it is the wish of Mayor Angrove that the committees get down to work as speedily as possible so that no time will be wasted.

Three Bad Old Boys. J. H. Jarvis, Main street, informed the Whig on Monday morning that there were cool old lamps in use in the city forty-five years ago. He said he can well remember when he and Alfred Dean, now of Chicago, and a number of other young chaps, used to climb up to the coal oil lamp which was then located at the corner of Earl and Division streets, blow it out and then run away.

Visited His Relatives. Rev. John LaFleur spent a portion of last week at Cape Vincent, N.Y., the guest of his mother, Mrs. John Maynard, and sister, Mrs. Nelson Baskie, the Cape Vincent, N.Y. school was the largest since December, 1915. A. F. Chow, secretary, reported that there were 327 present. In December, 1915, the attendance was 292.

PUTTING IODINE IN WATER OBJECTIONABLE Medical Health Officer Says It Would Benefit Some But Injure Others.

In connection with the discussion at the Board of Education meeting on Thursday last with regard to treating the city water, the medical health officer, Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, has issued the following statement: "The proposal of the Board of Education to have iodine put into the city water supply is objectionable. While iodine is beneficial to some, its use would be harmful to others. Some diseases would be aggravated by the use of iodine and to force everyone to use it in drinking water would not be justifiable. Those who require iodine can now get it in tablet and other forms and should take it on the advice and direction of their physicians. This matter was discussed by the Board of Health some time ago, and for the above reason no recommendation was made. It is questionable if the use of iodine as suggested by the Board of Education would not leave the city open to suit for damages by anyone whose trouble was aggravated by this procedure."

Address and Presentation. On Feb. 6th, eighty-five members of Forest Hill Methodist congregation and Sunday School assembled at the residence of Adam Scott to enjoy a social evening. Music, games, social intercourse, and refreshments provided a time of ideal fellowship. During the evening Jean Scott was taken by surprise when an address was read and presentation made of a wrist watch. She was the church organist.

Large Sunday School Attendance. The attendance at the session in Sydenham Street Methodist Sunday school was the largest since December, 1915. A. F. Chow, secretary, reported that there were 327 present. In December, 1915, the attendance was 292.
