CARETAKER IS NEEDED AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Civic Property Committee Will Call for Applications for the Position.

At a meeting of the civic property committee held on Monday afternoon it was decided to call for applications for the position of caretaker at the fair grounds, made vacant as a result of the death of Donald Campbell, who held this position for many years. The committee also decided to allow Mrs. Campbell the free use of the house at the fair grounds until May 1st.

Ald. Nash asked for the free use of Ontario hall to hold a meeting for the organization of a Ratepayers' Association and the committee will ask for a properly signed petition from ratepayers before dealing with the request. Ald. Craig moved an amendment to this effect, after Ald. Nash had moved to grant the request which he stated came from ratepayers.

It was reported that a radiator had been placed in the basement at the offices of the liquor vendor in the city buildings, and that the hearing was not reported to be satisfactory.

On the recommendation of Chairman Laturney and the city engineer, the old stone house on the Mardock farm will be boarded up and notice given to the effect that trespassers on the property will be prosecuted. The chairman stated that it would not be wise to dispose of the house as it could be used in case the city secured an industry there.

The chairman, Ald. Laturney, presided, and the other members were Aids. Joyce, Nash, John Pife, Johnston, Craig and McCartney.

The Profits in Tea Growing.

The price of good quality tea has risen in the last two years between 20c and 25c per pound. The demand which has been phenomenal has sustained this increase and the fortunate owners of tea plantations have earned dividends in some cases of from 60 per cent. to 100 per cent. All those engaged in selling the commodity—who have not been making any more profit—have been hoping for over-production. This is inevitable when such profits are being made and prices will then fall. But tea is still getting dearer, and no one can foretell just when the drop will come—whether in one year or longer. It may come when least expected.

"Y's" MEN'S CLUB.

Addressed on Monday Evening by J. G. Elliott on "Life."

On Monday evening at the meeting of "Y's" Men's Club at the Y.M.C.A., J. G. Elliott gave the address and his subject was "Life." Mr. Elliott dealt with his subject in a very capable manner and it was very much appreciated by the membership of the club. On motion of B. G. Robertson and Harold Elliott, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Elliott stated that the "purposeful life" was very important. He urged on the young men the necessity of having a purpose in life and to reach their goal. He thought one of the needs among the young people is to have a better understanding of the question of citizenship.

Mr. Elliott advised the young men that, if possible, to get into a business of their own and although the turnover may not be much for a first few years, in the later years they will be glad that they made the advance.

The membership of the club still continues to grow. On Monday evening two new members were introduced.

Mrs. William Jackson and Mrs. Joseph Hoppes had charge of the supper.

A SPLENDID STOCK COMPANY AT GRAND

May Edwards Players Appear Before Large Audience—Performance Excellent.

On all sides to-day was heard the question, "Did you see the Mae Edwards Players last night at the Grand Opera House?" Certainly those who did not missed a great treat. With a silence since Christmas, with one or two exceptions, the Grand is coming back strong, and this week it has something really fine to offer its patrons. Miss Edwards is a charming and talented actress, and is supported by a cast of capable performers. To be in Kingston is to Miss Edwards something like coming back home, as she was born at Lindsay, and this is the first time she has played in Ontario with her own show.

The play last evening, "Adam and Eva," was intensely interesting, besides carrying a laugh along with it. It showed just what an indolent, grasping family of a rich New York business man could accomplish in the way of earning a living for themselves, when they "were put to it." And to the father, who was tired of paying bills for his family, and left them for three months to visit his rubber plantation, was proven the fact that it was pretty nice to have a family after all. Arthur Hebert, who played the part of "father," was splendid, and the other members of the cast filled their parts exceedingly well.

Besides the play, Miss Edwards has to offer her audiences an excellent Novelty Orchestra, which makes wonderful music. This includes the Three Syncoaters, with Valmore Smith on the drums. These talented musicians give a splendid programme between the acts.

It is a long time since a ventriloquist has been in Kingston, and Mr. Jack Parr, who is with the Mae Edwards Players, is a very clever one. This is something the children would enjoy.

Mr. Chas. T. Smith, when thanking the audience for their patronage, announced that the company would be at the Grand for the balance of the week, and would present a complete change of programme nightly. On Tuesday evening it will offer "The Gutter Strip," a three-act comedy drama, which is sure to please all. There will be two matinees during the week, one on Wednesday afternoon, and one on Saturday afternoon. The company is sure to draw full houses all week.

STORY OF THE POLICE COURT.

Swore They Bought Bottle of Liquor From a Traveller.

That they had purchased a bottle of brandy from a traveller in Napanea for $4, was the story told by a couple of young men, arraigned in the police court on Tuesday morning, on a charge of being intoxicated. They were remanded a week.

"How did you come to get the liquor?" asked the magistrate of one of the young men.

"Well, I was talking to this man. I do not know his name. We got talking about Montreal and I made the remark that I wished I was in Montreal. The fellow asked me why, and I told him that I would like to get something good to drink. He then stated that if I kept quiet, he would get me some liquor. He produced a bottle of brandy and said I could pay just what I wanted for it. I said I would give him $4 and he was satisfied."

"Must have been bargain day," remarked the magistrate.

The two tipplers went "fifty-fifty" on the purchase of the brandy.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

By Our Student Correspondent.

After the Girls' Intercollegiate hockey match last evening, the Varsity team were the guests at a jolly party in the Red Room. It was held under the auspices of the Levan Board of Control.

At the Alma Mater Society meeting much enthusiasm was in evidence as regards the new Students' Union. The plans are now fast taking form. The leaders in the movement are Jack McKelvey and "Bud" Thomas—both of whom are having just as distinguished a career in the executive world as they have had in the sporting.

Mid-term holidays start on Thursday and continue till Tuesday, Feb. 24th! The majority of students will be found on the "Home-Seekers' Excursion." The innovation has indeed proved a popular one.

The first regular meeting of the Laurier Club will be held on Wednesday. Charter members will consist of about forty men from all faculties. The president, E. W. Crooks, B.A., will submit the constitution.

The Commerce Club held a monster banquet last evening. Leslie MacDonald, B.A., the president, acted as toastmaster. Mr. J. M. Campbell of Kingston, was the principal speaker. The air was filled with newly-originated Commerce yells—everywhere was to be seen the evidence of a splendid "esprit de corps" among the members of the "Dollars and Cents" Faculty.

Kingston Presbytery Meets.

On Tuesday afternoon a special meeting of the Kingston presbytery is being held here to deal with the resignation of the Rev. A. S. Kerr of Belleville, who tendered his resignation when St. Andrew's, Belleville, voted out of union. Rev. J. W. Stephen is moderator and Rev. R. J. Craig of Demorestville, clerk.

The next regular meeting of the presbytery takes place in Kingston on second Tuesday in March.
