BISHOP BIDWELL'S APPEAL

To the People To Observe the Forty Days of Lent.

"Couldst thou not watch with Me one hour?" was the theme of the Bishop of Ontario's pre-lenten sermon preached in St. George's cathedral on Sunday morning. The call of Lent, said the bishop, is the call to come closer to Christ, to understand Him better. It is a personal call. The church calls us aside for a brief space from the life of pleasure just for this. Not in obedience to an arbitrary law, but as a voluntary offering of our time and pleasure. Christ asked the disciples to tarry near Him in the Garden of Gethsemane and when He returned He found them sleeping. He did not upbraid them, He did not reproach them. He was disappointed, that was all. His friends had not watched with Him.

The forty days of Lent in which the church commemorates the days Jesus spent in the wilderness, the first days of the way of suffering which led to Calvary, are the call, surely never more needed than today, to come aside from the rush of life and learn more of the faith we profess to believe. The call comes to each one of us. It is for us to decide whether we will hear it and turn aside or go hurrying on in eagerness to grasp the pleasure of the moment. The world will go on.
It went on during the forty days Christ spent in the wilderness. It went on during the agony in Gethsemane. It went on while Christ hung on the cross. We can go on with it if we wish or we can turn aside and watch with Him.

"The King of Love My Shepherd Is" was very beautifully sung by the choir, Mr. C. B. S. Harvey and Mr.
Elyon Warburton taking the duet most effectively.

HEADSTONES FOR SOLDIERS.

Up to $50.

Militia general orders contain the following new paragraph:
"117. When a member of the per-and monument will be maintained by the department. In cases where interment takes place in a privately owned plot, the department is not to bear any expense in connection with the provisions of headstones or for the upkeep of same."

The Canada Gazette also carries the announcement that the powers of the Last Post fund have been extended to allow that organization "to interest itself in the restitution, marking, and care of neglected and forgotten graves of the naval and military persons, and generally interest itself in all matters affecting naval and military obsequies throughout the Dominion of Canada."

ST. GEORGE'S CENTENARY

Is Referred To By the Church Times of England.

The Church Times, London, England, of Feb. 6th, has the following reference to St. George's:

"St. George's cathedral, Kingston, Ont., is observing its centenary year.
The first contribution towards the building of St. George's was a grant of £1,500 from King William IV.
Throughout its history the church has been intimately connected with military and constitutional ceremonies. It has always been the spiritual centre for the Royal Military College, and it was in St. George's that the Father of Confederation, Sir John Macdonald, worshipped. On the creation of the diocese of Ontario, in 1862, St. George's became the cathedral church of the diocese.
The present bishop, Dr. Bidwell, is an ardent exponent, both in life and teaching, of the Catholic faith. The dean of the cathedral, the Very Rev.
G. L. Starr, served in France as a chaplain to the forces."

Concession Street Sewer.

It is expected that the work on the Concession street sewer will be commenced in the course of a couple of days. City Engineer Dick informed the Whig on Monday morning that as soon as the agreement between the city and the township of Kingston is signed and turned over to him the work will commence.

The work is to be done by an equal number of men from the city and township of Kingston. It is planned that about twenty men will be put to work.

The sewer will be about twelve hundred feet in length and in some places it will be necessary to go down through the rock for a depth of twelve feet. The first work to be undertaken will be on Concession street, a short distance from Division. One steam drill will be brought into service.

"CHILD TRAINING."

Address in Sydenham Street Church
By Dr. J. L. Hughes
On Sunday evening, Dr. James L.
Hughes, former chief inspector of the public schools in Toronto, occupied the pulpit of Sydenham street Methodist church and spoke on
"Child Training."

During the course of his remarks he referred to the inventive mind of the child and how important it was to develop it. Dr. Hughes told of some people who persist in saying "don't" to children when they should be encouraging the child to develop the inventive mind.
He cited the case of a young boy who was discovered in one of the public schools of Toronto many years ago and was considered the dull one in the class, where he had been for four years. Dr. Hughes said that after graduating from the normal school he was sent to the school where this boy was. He suggested to the class that if the boys would all come at eight o'clock in the morning he would be glad to teach them a new kind of drawing.
To his amazement the next morning only one had turned up and he was referred to as the dunce of the class.
Dr. Hughes said that he found that drawing was the thing which appealed to this boy. As time passed the boy developed to be the best artist in the school. After he graduated from high school the city of Toronto was advertising for an architect to draw plans for the new city hall in the city, and was offering a prize of $5,000. The boy who as a lad had been considered dull won the money.

Mae Edwards Players.

The Mae Edwards players closed their week's engagement at the Grand on Saturday night. The company played to two good-sized audiences Saturday and the plays were much enjoyed. The company made a big hit with Kingston theatregoers and the announcement that the company will likely return to Kingston later on for a stay of one week or perhaps two weeks, was received with much pleasure.

LEMON YELLOW COLOR

The spring tailleur is quite apt to be straight and severe in cut, but it is softened by very feminine white collar and cuffs and is developed in pale shades that are very flattering and springlike. This model is in lemon yellow flannel with collar and cuffs of white crepe de chine and with white hose buttons.
