years of the club's work in Kingston has there been any attempt on the part of the women who give their savings into the hands of the collecters and have the sum marked on a card, to defraud or in anyway deceive those who were assisting them to save against a rainy day. Nor have there been any complaints. The fact that during the past year twohundred and one women have taken advantage of this plan of saving small sums and that over $2,500 has been given into the keeping of the collectors speaks for itself.

That the international, interdenominational day of prayer for missions has become an institution and in every city of Canada and the United States women gathered together yearly on the first Friday in Lent to pray that God's Kingdom may come on earth. Yesterday the women of Kingston met in St George's Hall.

That mission study classes are being held by the board of the Woman's Auxiliary during Lent. The first one in St. George's hall on Monday evening will be addressed by Here's Lillian Gish, movie actress. The man on the left is Jim Renwho married Lillian's sister, Dorothy. The other is Charles H. Duell, president of the New York company who used to make Lillian's pictures and who was reported much attached to her. Duell recently sought an injunction to keep Lillian from acting for anyone but his company. Now he has had Rennie arrested in New York, saying Rennie grabbed him by the arm and threatened him. Rennie's friends say that he is gallantly trying to shoulder some of the troubles that have befallen his fair sister-in-law.
