A SPECIAL EDITION FOR THE DYING PEER

London Newspaper Printed News of Recovery, But Curzon Never Read It.

London, March 21.—There is a story behind Lord Curzon's death yesterday morning that is probably without precedent in British journalism.

For days the statesman has been lying on his sick bed, fully conscious. Every morning he appealed for his favorite newspaper, and every morning his physicians, fearful of the effect their own published bulletins recording the gravity of his illness might have on their patient, were forced to refuse his request.

On Thursday it was seen he had entered upon the last phase of his heroic struggle with death. The physicians, searching for every possible means to buoy up the dying marquis, appealed to the paper in question.

It is not usual for a great London daily to be willing to halt its presses, but the editors replied that they would issue a special edition of one copy announcing Lord Curzon's recovery.

And so, while Lord Curzon's life was slowly fading, this special "bedside edition" was prepared. But almost at the moment the huge presses had turned out their message of encouragement the end came. The one-copy edition was never read by the one for whom it was published.

THE DENNISTOUN CASE.

The Paris Divorce Pact is Now To Be Probed.

London, March 21.—The Dennistoun case reached its concluding stages yesterday when the defense rested after Mrs. Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun had been recalled to the stand for a few moments to testify regarding certain bills for dresses purchased in Paris.

She is suing her former husband, Lieut.-Col. Ian Onslow Dennistoun, for money she alleges she loaned him prior to their divorce in 1921, some time following which he married the widow of the late Earl of Carnarvon.

The court said it proposed to submit to the jury a number of questions regarding the alleged maintenance of the agreement which Mrs. Dennistoun said her former husband made in Paris at the time of their divorce, notably whether the agreement actually existed, whether it was collusive, whether both parties intended to give it legal effect, and whether any of its conditions had been already fulfilled.

The arguments of counsel were expected to occupy part of Monday. There was no session of the court today.

Lady Carnarvon was asked if Mrs. Dennistoun had ever told her the colonel forced her into intimacy with Cowans.

"Absolutely not," the witness replied. Lady Carnarvon admitted she introduced Mrs. Dennistoun to General Cowans, but indignantly denied this was part of a plan to alienate the affections of the colonel.

New Trial for Dr. Hielop. Edmonton, March 21.—Written judgment of the appeal by Dr. John A. Hielop against his sentence of three years for manslaughter and performing an illegal operation has now been handed down by Justice Stuart at the request of Chief Justice Simons, who presided.

A new trial has been granted, generally on grounds that Justice Walsh, the trial judge, incorrectly stated evidence to the jury, that the accused's case had not been adequately and fairly presented to the jury, and with the manner in which scientific testimony was presented.

"I was born in Kingston, March 20th, 1836, and moved from there in 1896 and have not visited the home town since. I hope the reunion will be a success in every way. You have my hearty good wishes for the same. Thanking you for your kind invitation, which came as a voice from the past, recalling memories of long ago."

The Family Market Basket

The hens evidently think spring has come for baskets of eggs were on almost every wagon and motor on the market on Saturday and most attractive looking fresh ones were selling at 30 to 35c a dozen. Butter was sold for 38 and 40c. Maple syrup was down to 60c a quart and fresh lettuce, radishes and rhubarb were plentiful. Poultry was scarce and expensive; pork and veal were shown and several motor trucks of apples were seen. Honey and marmalade looked attractive, and flowers bloomed everywhere. Hyacinths scented the air and even roses were on some of the wagons. The Islanders were much missed and their place on the island market was taken by people who had driven in from a distance over the roads which are quite good for motors.

After a time a separation was granted, Mrs. Wheeler returning to her former home in Napanee. Wheeler remained in Cobourg. On January 28th last he was married to Miss Mabel Eley, Cobourg, by the Rev. Bald Men Grow Hair Surprising reports are coming from men who were bald or losing hair and who acquired a new, vigorous growth by using a peculiar compound that awakens life in dormant hair roots. "Four inches of hair have grown over what was a bald spot," is the report of G. W. Mitchell. "I had a large bald spot and real, healthy hair has developed all over my head," writes C. F. Heiser. "Imagine the enthusiasm of Albert H. Flary when he reported: 'My head was as bare as the bottom of my feet and now I have a good growth of hair.'" Geo. M. Schwank reports that even with a second application of the compound, his hair stopped falling; then a new growth started. Anyone who is losing hair, or is bald may obtain a box of Kestel's at Best's Drug Store, Princess Street, Kingston.

NOVA SCOTIA STRIKE ENTERS THIRD WEEK

J. E. McLurg Arrives in Halifax to Confer With Premier Armstrong.

Sydney, N.S., March 21.—The strike of fourteen thousand Nova Scotia miners for ten per cent. increase of wages and against the decision of their employers, the British Empire Steel Corporation, for a wage cut of ten per cent., today enters upon the third week. All efforts to settle the trouble have met with failure. The collieries have been protected from damage by the company's clerical staff, who have manned pumps and equipment.

J. E. McLurg, vice-president of the corporation, arrived in Halifax this morning, and it is understood he will visit Premier Armstrong of Nova Scotia to confer on settlement proposals.

In the meantime the great number of miners and their dependents are being fed by public charity, over ten thousand dollars having been donated to date, together with large quantities of material, not enough, however, to carry the work adequately for more than a few days.

Aleta Sweetman, Toronto, sued Dr. F. G. Lawr, dentist, for damages for malpractice in allowing the point of an hypodermic needle to remain in her jaw after an operation. She was awarded $2,300 damages. The appeal of Dr. Lawr has been dismissed.

At Seymour, on Wednesday, William Thain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thain, East Seymour, was married to Miss Sarah Tinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tinney, Bancroft.

Judge C. E. D. Wood of the district court of Weyburn, Sask., is dead.
