MASTER TAILOR AND DESIGNER EXHIBITS MODELS

Men's Fashion Exhibit at George VanHorne's Until Wednesday.

W. J. Acton, a recognized authority on style and good tailoring, arrived to-day at George VanHorne's store on Princess street, and has with him an exhibit of the original models created by the Chief Designer of Semi-ready Tailoring.

Mr. VanHorne issues a special invitation to every man to call and see the advance style creations.

"Correct dress does not mean startling style or glittering color," said Mr. Acton, "nor does smart dress mean something that nobody else wears.

"Correct clothes is not in 'putting on swank,' nor trying to be a composite of Apollo, the Greek, nor Valentino, the Shiek.

"There is no mystery about the mastery of style. Correct dress means wearing the fabric, pattern, model and color that you look best in. Good tailoring is not to-day the prerogative of the view, for the well-tailored suit, whether you be seventeen or seventy, reveals your advantages, conceals your shortcomings, is appropriate to your stature, your type and personality. It reflects the restraint and refinement of gentlemanly; attracts attention by seeming to avoid it.

"Semi-ready suits are so designed to express the brawn-and-biceps of the man's man, not the effeminate effects of the fop, whose head is only a hat-rack.

"The jazz effects our Chief Designer has always avoided, for they are but the choice of the he-vamp who fancies himself the original reason 'why girls leave home.'

"To-day, with our wholesale tailoring system you can be well dressed and you needn't spend a lot on it.

"We can reproduce any model shown in our style collection at $23.50, though we always advise the finer wools for their better wear and more distinctive appearance."

FORMER KINGSTONIAN IN TORNADO ZONE

Arthur Wright Tells About Last Week's Disaster.

Arthur Wright, a former linotype operator on the Whig, who is now located on the Ziegler News, at Ziegler, Ill., writing to friends in Kingston, tells about the terrible tornado that swept through that district last week.

"At one morgue I visited, there were about fifty grown up people and about fifteen children. This was in West Frankfort."

Mr. Wright stated that in many cases houses were completely destroyed and that many cars were taken from the roads and thrown into the fields. Even cars loaded with coal on the railway tracks were turned over on the tracks.

PREACHED IN ST. GEORGE'S.

Rev. Dr. Blagrave, Peterboro, Dealt With the Revelation.

Before beginning his sermon on Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. R. O. Blagrave, rector of St. John's church, Peterboro, the preacher of the day in St. George's cathedral, referred to his pleasure at being once more in St. George's where he was ordained to the priesthood in 1904. He congratulated the congregation on their resolution to pay off the balance of the debt as a thank offering for a century of worship in the present building and assured them that there would be rejoicing among the church people of Ontario when St. George's, the first centre of church life in Upper Canada, was cleared of debt and consecrated to the glory of God.

Dr. Blagrave in vivid language set forth the age-long message to the people of God found in the first eleven chapters of the Apocalypse, St. John, in a trance, his mind under the control of the mind of "One like unto the Son of God," was given the message of encouragement which was primarily for the seven churches of Asia, then being persecuted by Domitian. The figure of the Son of God stands in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks "with his head and his hair white like wool," his eyes, like fire and his feet "like unto fine brass," holds in his right hand the seven stars that are the genius of the churches. Still we can see the star of the church that is fulfilling its message brightly, as the star of St. George's will if the people are steadfast. Then the door opened into heaven and in the midst was a throne and the four and twenty elders and all the wonders of the glorious worship in which the poor persecuted Christians of the seven churches were meant to realize they had part. The seven-sealed book is opened by the only one who was found worthy to open that record of life, the "Lion of the tribe of Judah the Root of Jesse," who was the "Lamb who had been slain from the foundation of the world." The saints who wait beneath the altar cry "How Long?" and the great company of those who have come out of great tribulation and have washed their robes in the blood of the Lamb, near the angels and elders sing, "Blessing and glory, wisdom and honor and power and might, be unto our God for ever and ever" and are sealed in the forehead, as the Israelites were sealed with the blood of the paschal lamb as we are sealed with the cross in baptism.

Continuing his lessons from the book of Revelation at evening, Dr. Blagrave described the seven angels and their warning to the people of the seven churches and to the men and women who live on earth today. "The sinfulness of sin, the power of evil is in this apocalyptic book, with its symbolism—the symbolism of the older prophetic books of the Bible, contrasted with the glorious worship of heaven. The seventh angel sounds his trumpet of promise, "and with him the great voices of heaven saying, 'The kingdom of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ and He shall reign for ever and ever'."

Strychnine Tablets Fatal To Dundas County Child

Brockville, March 23.—The five-year-old daughter of Housh Wood, living on a farm near Mountain Station, is dead as the result of having eaten a number of tablets containing strychnine which her mother had obtained some time ago and which she had placed upon a high shelf out of reach.

In her absence her two daughters climbed upon some bags and reached the shelf, one of them eating several of the tablets. She died a few hours afterwards.

Nearly An Accident.

Coming from behind a car to walk across the road, a young lady on Clergy street, near William, narrowly escaped death or serious injury on Sunday night by being struck by another car proceeding west on Clergy street at a fast rate of speed. Only the quick work of the driver, who burned his tires somewhat in stopping, saved the girl from being struck. People passing near at the time became alarmed and started to run towards the car, believing that the girl had been struck. Walking out from behind a car to go across the street is dangerous at any time, especially at night and people are warned to be very careful of this.

Sacred Heart League Met.

The regular meeting of the League of the Sacred Heart was held on Sunday evening in the St. James' chapel at which Rev. Father Hyland, rector of the cathedral, preached a short but impressive sermon on "Original Sin." There was a large attendance of members.

The Late William R. Mallory.

An illness, extending over several months, accompanied by much suffering, was terminated March 16th, by the death of William R. Mallory at Blenheim.

The deceased was born at Mallorytown, eighty-three years ago, but went early to Kent County, and had lived at Guild or in Blenheim for the past seventy-two years.

Besides his wife, Mr. Mallory leaves a brother, Rufus, and a sister, Mrs. Lampman, both in the Guilds district. An only son, Frank, succumbed in 1901, as a result of peritonitis following an operation for appendicitis and his father never fully recovered from his bereavement.

Mrs. Mallory had with her for the funeral Rev. E. E. Mallory and Mrs. Elden Bradley Boston; Wilbert and Herbert Mallory, Mallorytown.

Car Crashed Into Hydrant.

The water hydrant at the corner of Sydenham and Princess streets was broken off at the base on Saturday night when a car, turning from Princess street on to Sydenham, crashed into it. The car was going at a fair rate of speed but was uninjured and after backing up, the driver proceeded on his way without waiting to see the extent of the damage done. Men were on the scene early Monday morning to repair the broken hydrant.

Sang to Old Fashioned Tune.

To the delight of the elderly people and to the wonderment of the young, the congregation of Sydenham street Methodist church sang a hymn yesterday to an old-fashioned tune with a run of notes that was very captivating. Many a person going out of church remarked: "Wasn't that fine"; "I love the old tune"; "I was brought up on that tune," etc.

Mills-Thurby Wedding.

At 3 o'clock on Saturday last at College street Presbyterian church, Toronto, the marriage was solemnized of Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Thurby, 37 Elberbeck avenue, Kingston, and Herbert George Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Mills, Toronto. Rev. E. A. Eachmore, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her cousin, Mr. Russell Bruce, wore a lovely dress of powder blue canton crepe and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Kathleen Thurby, bridesmaid, wore a very becoming dress of blue georgette and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch.

Sand Hill Church Ladies.

Sand Hill, March 23.—The Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. of Sand Hill Presbyterian Church met in the basement of the church. The meeting was opened by singing and scripture reading and sentence prayer. The members decided on remodeling the main part of church in the near future. The ladies intend arranging a sunshine and rainy day scheme for an April meeting. Mrs. Carey, president of the W.M.S., was able to be out after her illness and the members were glad to see her able to fill her place again. The meetings closed by repeating the Mizpah benediction after which Mrs. McBroom, Mrs. Acton and Mrs. R. G. Johnston served refreshments. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. T. Woods'.

Recital in St. George's.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. R. R. F. Harvey, organist of St. George's cathedral, gave another of his interesting and greatly appreciated recitals of sacred music. His organ numbers were "Ave Maria" (Liszt), the "Cujus Animam" from the Stabat Mater (Rossini) and "Light" (Formlich) and the "Lost Chord" (Sullivan). Miss Anna Mitchell, whose fresh, sweet soprano is such a favorite in Kingston, sang "O! Come to My Heart Lord Jesus" and "Eyes That are Weary."

May Have a Seat.

Two in three counties may be given representation on the Kingston Board of Education, under one of the amendments to the school act, which was introduced into the provincial legislature. It is believed that they will be allowed merely to "sit in" on the meetings and vote on institute matters and where debenture issues are considered in which the counties are interested.

Welcomed Back To St. George's.

William Graham, sexton of St. George's cathedral, who broke his leg while attending to the church furnace, returned from the General Hospital today and is being welcomed by the members of the parish who are exceedingly glad to see him back again in his quarters. As well as the fracture, Mr. Graham suffered several severe burns.

STOLE AUTO TIRES

From Storehouse of William Davy At Cataract.

The provincial police have been notified that some unknown persons entered the storehouse of William Davy's general store at Cataract on Friday evening and stole four automobile tires.

The thieves got into the building by tearing off some of the boards on one end of the building. It is stated that this is not the first time that the buildings have been entered and goods taken away.

Mr. and Mrs. Davy, who reside about fifteen yards from the storehouse, did not hear any unusual noises on Friday evening.

It will be a very difficult matter for the police to trace the tires as Mr. Davy does not know the numbers of them.

Valise Recovered.

A man from Niagara Falls, N.Y., who was in the city on Saturday and was returning to his home by the midnight train, had the misfortune to have his valise stolen. Thanks to the good work of the Kingston police the stolen property was recovered on Sunday and was forwarded to the owner.

The valise had been placed on the platform at the C.N.R. outer station while the owner went into the telegraph office. When he returned the valise was gone.

The crack shot, Mr. Theobald, should again be invited to get after the crows and blackbirds in the parks.
