AMUSEMENTS
What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"PEG O' MY HEART."
Tonight the Nurses' Alumnae of the Hotel Dieu will present the delightful comedy "Peg O' My Heart" at the Grand Opera House. The story is familiar to many and the role was first made famous by Laurette Taylor. A number of local amateurs, well-known already for their excellent portrayals in other productions, will make up the cast and among them are such favorites as Mary Grattan, Charles Woodhouse, Ed. Cousins, Arthur G. Self, Mr. McDonald, Charles Gates, Miss Myrtle Leyden and Mrs. Hubert Horton.

THE ORIGINALS
IN "STEPPING OUT"

There are nearly a score of melodious new musical numbers in "Stepping Out," the latest original revue by the popular Originals, coming to the Grand Opera House, next Friday and Saturday, songs of the kind that will set the town whistling long after the boys have continued their triumphant tour. There are several highly original dances and numerous comedy sketches including "Turned Up," "Heroes" and that latest and biggest scream, "The Duchess Performs," wherein Leonard Young as the "Duchess" is at his very best. The entire performance is a pot-pourri of mirthful and melodious enjoyment with such noted entertainers as Bob Anderson, Gene Pearson, the "Male Galli Galli," and who is the recognized queen of feminine impersonators; Alan Murray, Bertram Langley, Norman Blume, Jerry Brayford, Jimmy MacDonald, Thomas Dunn, Gus McKinnon and Frederick Gordon. Of course, as with all the Originals shows, it is adequately staged, well lighted, and, above all, put over with that maximum of skill and pep which only the Originals know how to dispense. Lionel Broadway is the company's new juvenile and has already become a big favorite.

All the members of the cast have the cleverness to transform almost instantaneously from one characterization to another, and they all do so many clever turns and diverse numbers that one actually thinks the company is increased to about twenty-five. "Stepping Out" is one continuous scream of laughter from first to last, and must not be missed this time.

KINGSTON CHURCHES
WORTH 50 POLICEMEN

As a Crime Deterrent, Judge Lavelle Tells Men of the Y.M.C.A.

The Church of Christ is absolutely necessary for the preservation of the community, is the opinion expressed by Judge H. A. Lavelle at the men's mass meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday afternoon. There was a fair attendance to hear Judge Lavelle, whose subject was "The Church and the Community."
"We are all too liable to take the church for granted thinking that it will continue whether we as laymen do our part or not," said the speaker in opening his address, "but," he continued, "some of the great Christian leaders, such as John R. Mott, general secretary of the American Y.M.C.A., have expressed the opinion that the next ten years will be the most critical years through which the church has passed for centuries."
"We may well ask the question, 'What would be the position in Kingston to-day if we had no churches?' In my opinion the churches of Kingston are worth fifty policemen, yes a whole regiment of police, as a deterrent of crime." The speaker illustrated his point by referring to several authorities on criminology in the United States, whose evidence went to show conclusively that boys and girls who associated themselves with the church and the Sunday school did not get into court to any appreciable extent. A New York judge, after eighteen years on the bench, claims that of the 4,000 cases appearing before him in that time, in only three cases at time of offence were the parties connected with any church or Sunday school. The modern home, which too often does not direct the young to church and Sunday school, is largely responsible for the lack of interest. If parents fully understood what this training may mean to their children they would be keen to direct their children to the church.
In concluding his excellent address Judge Lavelle made a strong plea to his audience to associate themselves actively with the church and to direct the young into the Sunday schools and the church of their choice.
Mr. F. R. Anglin presided, and at the conclusion of Judge Lavelle's address thanked him on behalf of the audience. It was announced that next Sunday Principal S. W. Dyde will be the speaker and on April 26th Principal Bruce Taylor of Queen's will give the address. Yesterday an orchestra, consisting of Mr. Boyd, pianist; Mr. Lane, clarinet, and Mr. A. Cliff, violin, assisted with music, while Mr. Boyd rendered a baritone solo to the delight of the men.

On other days they will have educational trips and will be shown through the Locomotive Works, the Davis tannery, the Bell Telephone exchange and Queen's museum. Up In Smoke.
Montreal, April 13.—Organized baseball in Montreal was cast to the four winds Sunday afternoon following a meeting of the Quebec-Ontario League, held in the Windsor Hotel. The league affairs have been an uncertain condition for some time, and yesterday's meeting was called to reach a definite decision as to whether the clubs would operate this year or not. After a short session, lasting less than a half hour, the decision to disband was reached. Quebec were anxious to carry on, as were the Montreal Royals, but Ottawa failed to send a representative to the meeting and the Canadian management was disinclined to operate under the conditions in existence last season. It was upon the failure of the Ottawa Club to put in an appearance at the meeting, that the motion for disbandment was entertained.

CONVOCATION SERVICE
For the Queen's Graduates in Theology and Science.
The convocation service which was held on Sunday afternoon at Queen's was largely attended. Principal Taylor, who was in charge, was assisted by the members of the theological staff, while Rev. Dr. Baker, principal of Albert College, Belleville, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating students of the faculties of theology, arts and science.
Basing his address on the epistle to the Romans, 14-16, Dr. Baker brought out very forcibly the reality of Paul's conversion to Christ and the completeness of his consecration. The gospel of Christ, was for Paul the power of God in his salvation, his whole life was an expression of that experience; to endure every form of suffering and persecution—even death itself.
Christianity, declared the speaker, was on trial today as never before. The Orient is calling us to give them the Christian gospel without adulteration. Are we not bound to present it in all its strength and beauty and power? To the young men and women graduates of all the faculties this Divine call goes out—the call to make a Christ-like love to their fellowmen, the inspiration and guide in fulfilling the duties of their several positions of usefulness.
One lonely drunk appeared before the police magistrate on Monday morning and was taxed the usual ten dollars and costs or the option of one month. The fine was paid.
Two sailors were drowned when a dingy swamped in Montreal harbor.

EASTER SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

ried the solo parts in the anthem "The Lord is Risen" by Semper. The choir sang this noble piece very effectively. At the evening service they gave "Mors Love to Thee." Following this service the sacrament of communion was observed and twenty-one new members were welcomed into the fellowship of the church.

At Bethel Church.
Fine music expressed the Easter spirit at Bethel church. At the morning service the choir sang "Christ is Risen" in which the solo passage was effectively taken by Mr. Williams. The evening service was made beautiful by Mr. James Lomax' rendering of "Open the Gates of the Temple." The anthem "King of Kings" in which Mrs. James Lomax took the solo part was also memorable.
Mrs. A. K. Williams is the efficient organist and choir leader of this congregation.

First Baptist Church.
Special Easter services were held at the First Baptist church Sunday. Rev. J. G. Brown, B.A., D.D., of McMaster University, Toronto, delivered a strong sermon at both services. Special Easter psalms were sung by the choir, under the direction of Mr. S. Salsbury. There was a very large attendance both morning and evening.
