IS JUDGE PRESENT? ANSWER IS EASY; HE'S ON DECK IF—

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher, N.Y. Giants)

WHEN YOU GO TO A BALL GAME AND SEE A MAN— Whistling and waving for peanuts (1); clad in a sweater (2) borrowed from some player; his head crowned with a picturesque hat (3) of unknown vintage; and around his neck a two-storey, open-faced collar (4); his sidearms consisting of a knob-headed leaded cane (5); and if this man in the course of observing the game strikes a vampsish pose (6) as shown above— THEN YOU KNOW THAT JUDGE KENESAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS IS AT THE GAME.

INSIDE GOLF

By Chester Horton

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

Letting the right knee project slightly toward the ball as the right shoulder drops during the address is a practice that is used with great success by many fine players in combination with a "forward press" action through the hips. In this the right knee not only is drawn inward during the address, but the hips move forward with it. This movement is in the direction line. Then, starting the back swing, the hips move to the right in a straight line. The right leg straightens up and the clubhead moves backward, low to the ground, in a straight line away from the ball—a fine way to start the back swing. This promotes rhythm, the most necessary thing in the swing, and it gives that "whip cracker effect" that stings the ball solidly.

In the case of Mr. Ruth it appears the bigger they are the harder they fu.

Nurmi is going to the coast to race and we are surprised to hear he is not to compete against any of the fast girls in Hollywood.

Both Tunney and Gibbons are listed as gentleman fighters... If this is true it probably will be a terrible scrap.

We have heard that some of the girls in the movies are awful tomatoes, but even that hardly justifies Miss Gish's passion for carrots.

Neither of the St. Louis teams has ever won a championship and this probably explains why Abe Attell, Chick Gandil and those boys never liked the town.

Mr. O'Goofy's idea of egg-rolling is to clout a tough one on the whiskers and watch him roll.

The life of John L. Sullivan is to be had in book form, not in bottle form, as some of the old Roman's traducers would seem to prefer it.

Mr. Charles Ebbets, the bank roll of the Brooklyn team, is very ill... Mr. Ebbets' illness dates back to the day Dazzy Vance demanded a $50,000 contract.

Ban Johnson's suggestion that amateur teams play preliminary games to the official major league contests might be embarrassing in Boston... It would be hard for the fans to tell when the amateurs were playing and when the Braves were playing.

New York City issued licenses to 12,000 fighters last year... This, however, does not include subway guards and taxicab drivers who fight without licenses.

Spring Games. It is rather a difficult task to get an accurate line on a club's real worth from spring exhibition games. The world champions, Washington, is a good ball club, but in its exhibition games, particularly against the Giants.

The Washington club's pitching was far from right during the spring. The veteran twirlers have conditioned slowly. It is just possible that Manager Harris may be up against it during the first month of the race due to pitching.

On the other hand, the Boston Braves, seemingly a makeshift aggregation, looking for all the world like a tallender or close to it, have been playing great ball in the exhibition contests.

Incidentally, Donie Bush's Indianapolis club of the American Association, has repeated its success of last year against the majors training in the south. Indianapolis is certainly entitled to be rated the champions of Florida.

But let's get back to the world champs and the outlook for that club to step out in front and again make the running in the American League.

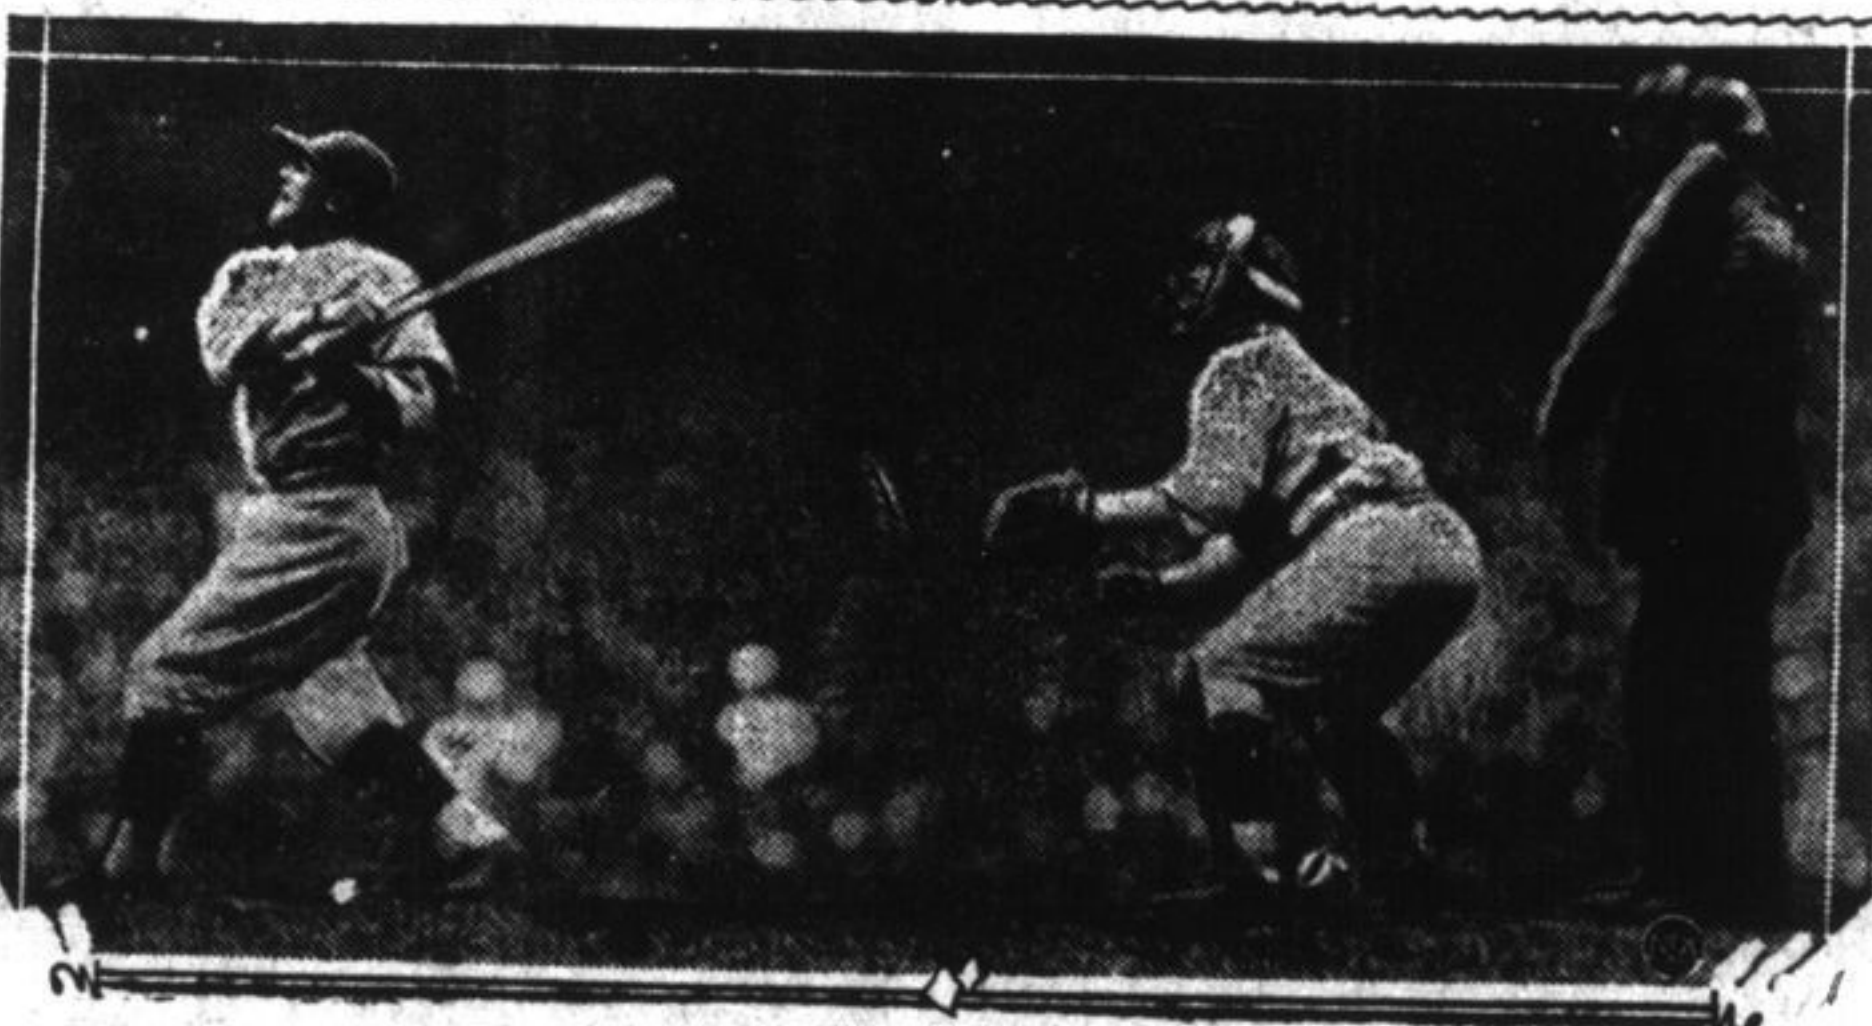

Nat's Showing. After the Nats had dropped the first two games to the Giants in their spring series, I had a long chat with Manager Harris relative to his ball club. I am sure at that time Harris realized that his pitching staff would be slow getting into shape and the club wouldn't make a very good showing in the spring games.

While admitting he liked to win every ball game he played, whether exhibition or not, Harris said he was not going to hurry any of his veterans, pitchers in particular.

"No matter what the outcome of the spring series with the Giants, we are still the world champions," said Harris, "that event is decided in the fall.

"Fandom isn't going to judge the Washington club on what it does in the spring exhibition games, but upon its showing in the American League.

"You can't win a pennant in the spring. It takes six months to put it over. It is apparent to me that my club is going to start slowly and I am prepared for early reverses in exhibition games most of all."

There is no denying the fact that Stanley Harris is a wise young man. His dope that the fans judge you on the regular season, rather than exhibition games, is a matter of record.

Upest Dope. Well do I remember one year that the Detroit club made a sensational showing in the spring games. The fans looked for a big season, a probable pennant.

The moment the season opened the club slumped, batting in particular. The Tygers appeared to have left all their base hits in the south.

While I cannot recall the exact figures, the Detroit club won only about two out of the first 15 games played. This was most disappointing after the sensational play in the south.

The Detroit fans were loyal, however, stuck with the Tygers until they emerged from the slump and were rewarded with a great comeback by that club.

There have been other cases where certain clubs couldn't win in the spring only to go big the moment the regular race began. Maybe Washington will do that very thing.

The Neanderthal Man bowled with rounded and polished Glacial Boulders to keep fit. Rounded boulders are found with his fossilized skull, showing how intimate Bowling was with his every day life.

In the Catskill Mountains, so they say, Rip Van Winkle bowled, and slept for forty years. Hence, the sedative effect may be called profound.

In England, Drake bowled, stepped aboard his ship, and with the help of the fury of the gale destroyed the invading enemy ships. Hence, the tonic effect of bowling must be powerful.

From the above it naturally follows that from time immemorial, Bowling has had a profound sedative effect, a powerful tonic effect, and a splendid setting up effect upon the human body. Therefore Come, Bowl, Sleep Well, Eat Well, Feel Well and forget "the constant round of little irritating concerns."
