Billy Evans Says

Manager Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox is giving much thought to one question: What part will southpaws play in the American League this season?
It is apparent there is going to be a southpaw epidemic in the American League this season, followed by the sensational work of the veteran southpaws, Mogridge and Zachary, in the world series, has created the situation.

In an effort to keep pace with the times every American League manager, yes big league manager, has scouted the highways and byways of baseball for southpawers.
Connie Mack and Ty Cobb, both having designs on the pennant, each had six left-handers at the training camp and most of them are rated as regulars.

Every club has at least one star regular, most of them more, except Chicago. Mike Cveugros, the mite left-hander, who at times works brilliantly, is the best bet of the Sox.

I put this problem to the White Sox manager.
'I have been thinking about that one thing ever since I was appointed manager. My first thought was I wouldn't be anywhere unless I, in some way, picked up a dependable left-hander who could be worked in his turn.

'Falling in that, I have tried to view what at first seemed an alarming situation in an entirely different light.
'Pitching is, of course, a concern with every manager, but I think there are several who have more to think about in this respect than me, even though I lack left-handers.'

A Valuable Hitter.
Joe Bush will not only be the Brown's pitching ace this season but star pinch-hitter as well.
Joe hits right or left-handers equally well, but likes the southpaws better. When a pinch-hitter is needed by the Browns this summer, Bush will get first call.

During the spring training trip Bush took his turn at bat as one of the regular players, not as a pitcher. It is customary to allow the pitcher to have batting practice only on the day he is to work.
Bush, however, has as much batting practice as Ken Williams, mighty slugger of the Browns. In the games played so far Bush has done better than .500 in the role of pinch-hitter.

'Bush takes a natural swing at the ball and has a good eye,' says Manager Sieler. 'When through as a pitcher he should be as valuable for utility roles as was Joe Wood, when his pitching arm failed him.'

In Class by Himself.
When baseball fans speak of Elmer Smith they usually refer to him as the 'only player to ever make a home run in a world series with the bases filled.'
That's just what Elmer did in the 1920 classic between Cleveland and Brooklyn. He was playing with the Indians at the time, his second engagement with that club.
Smith is well known throughout the American League, having been with Boston, Washington and New York besides Cleveland. This spring finds him on the roster of the Reds where he hopes to gain a berth in the outfield.

A Real Comeback.
One of the greatest ninth-inning rallies ever staged in the majors took place in the opening game of the 1901 season between Detroit and Milwaukee.
For eight sessions that day the Brewers hit the offerings of the Tiger pitchers to all corners of the lot and apparently had the tilt sewed up with the score standing 13 to 4 when Detroit went to bat in the last half of the ninth.

But a hectic rally, during which Frank Dillon, Tiger first baseman, made two doubles, enabled the Detroiters to count 10 runs and win the old ball game, 14 to 13.
Y.W.H.A., Toronto L.O.B.A. and Eastern Canadian girls' basketball champions, leave Wednesday night at 8.45 over the C.N.R. for Edmonton, where they will engage in a two-game series with the Commercial Grads for the dominion title.

The Mighty Lefty.
Conny Mack said before the season started that his success this year depended upon the work of Lefty Groves, who cost him $100,000. Groves may do better when he forgets the assignment that was given him, but so far he has been a failure as he had to be removed in his first two starts. He has a reputation for walking most of the batters that he doesn't strike out.

Canada's Best.
Philadelphia, April 22.—The Hamilton Collegiate Institute's track squad, Canada's only representatives in the Pennsylvania relay carnival, Friday and Saturday, arrived here, forming the vanguard of the host of athletes that will pour into Franklin Field during the week.

The Canadians took a brief workout on the field. Ten men are in the squad. They are entered in the one and two-mile interscholastic relays, one-quarter mile interscholastic relay and the medley interscholastic relay.

JUST LIKE RUTH

Benny Paschal, playing right field for the New York Yankees because of Babe Ruth's illness, came through in true Ruth style on the opening day of the major league season and cracked a home run into the left field bleachers.

DUNN WANTS NEW SECOND BASEMAN

He is Satisfied That Kane Will Not Fill the Job.

Baltimore, Md., April 22.—While his club was hugging the stoves at Oriole Park to-day, idle for the day because of the cold spell, Jack Dunn, manager and owner of the Orioles, renewed his hunt for a second baseman.
'I'll get a man, but I can't say right now where he is coming from,' said Dunn. Good second-sackers are hard to find.

'Kane is sick, and I have brought Porter in from the outfield to fill his place. But I have decided that Kane won't do, anyhow, and I must get another man. I will keep Porter on second no longer than I have to. I want him in the outfield.' Dunn has waxed hot and cold on Kane. Before the club went south he said Kane would not do. But failure to get another man caused him to warm up to Kane. For a time he expressed confidence in Kane and said he expected him to make good. Then came the announcement that he wasn't satisfied, and was looking for another man.

When the season rolled around Kane was on second, and hit so nicely the first day that Dunn forgot about a new second baseman. 'Kane has held his position all right except in the making of double plays,' said Dunn. 'I must have a man who will work with Boley on double plays. Porter is not the best in the world, but he will do for the time being.'

During the afternoon Dunn had a conference with Merwin Jacobson, who Saturday was transferred to the Jersey City Club.
Dunn assured Jacobson he would get the same salary at Jersey City as he had been drawing with the Orioles.
Jacobson said he would go to Jersey City to-morrow, but was not sure how soon he would be able to play; he has been sick two weeks.

'Jimmy' Walsh for Buffalo.
Jimmy Walsh, former Toronto player, who has also seen service with the Philadelphia Athletics, Baltimore, Newark and Jersey City, has been purchased by Buffalo. Freddie Thomas, infielder, has been released to Hartford. Walsh will take Murray's place in the outfield for the Bisons, while 'Babe' Dye, when he reports, will likely do bench duty for a while. Murray is to be let out by Manager Billy Webb.

Will Ride Next Saturday.
New York, April 22.—Earle Sande announced last night that he would ride next Saturday at Belmont Park in the United Hunts race meeting, making his first appearance in the saddle since his accident last August at Saratoga Springs. Sande said that he 'never felt in better condition,' and that he expected to prove the mishap took nothing from his riding ability.

Are Out of Baseball.
Montreal, April 22.—Canadiens and Quebec are definitely out of baseball for this season, following a conference Saturday between Leo Dandurand and Harry Fontaine; the decision was reached to suspend operations for this year at least. It had been expected that these two teams would operate in the independent league, a local semi-pro circuit, playing on Saturdays and Sundays, but Dandurand is unwilling to devote any time to baseball this summer.

MORE HUMORS OF HISTORY

By Arthur Moreland

A.D. 1119.—After the defeat of Robert in 1106 his five-year-old son William was the potential heir to both England and Normandy. Henry appointed a guardian, but the boy came under the protection of Louis of France, who used him as a check to Henry's growing power. War between France and Normandy resulted, and the French were defeated at Noyon, with but three casualties, owing, so says a contemporary historian, to the contending knights being encased in steel armour.

INSIDE GOLF

By Chester Horton
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
'Golf's most successful teacher,' says 'Chick' Evans.

The golfer who will get the knack of relaxing thoroughly in the address, then starting the club away from the ball slowly and easily will soon discover one of golf's great secrets, which is that he can automatically 'lock his body' at a certain point in a way to make it almost impossible for anything to go wrong. You have seen shots made by blind-folded players and other such tricks. They 'lock the body' in this way—and couldn't possibly miss. To do this, however, the player must start away slowly and easily, letting his right leg absorb his weight. When that has been done the clubhead, say, will be a couple feet back from the ball. Now all the player has to do is simply 'hold' himself in this position—'locked'—while he elevates the club with his wrist action, meantime letting his shoulders turn. Then he can start back to the ball with an initial action through the hips, and the clubhead cannot miss it. That's one way of making dead sure of the shot.

A REAL PRO.
'Pug' Allen is Golf and Baseball Professional.
The Indianapolis club of the American Association boasts the only all-year-round professional in baseball. He is Horace 'Pug' Allen.
Not only is Allen a corking good ball player but he is one of the leading golf professionals of the country. During the summer months he plays baseball. The moment the season closes he hikes south and takes up his golf work. Last season he was located at the Deland (Fla.) Country Club.
Allen is a right-handed thrower but bats left handed. He occasionally shifts to the right side against southpaws, but is only fairly successful hitting that way.
As is usually the case he plays golf right-handed even though he bats left-handed in baseball.
For several years Allen, like all other players, has been shooting at the majors. Unless he gets a trial within the next two years it is probable that he will forsake the diamond for the golf links.
Just before joining the Indianapolis club he turned down a flattering offer to take charge of a leading eastern golf club. The lure of baseball and the prospects of making the big show caused him to pass it up.
Allen is known as one of the longest hitters from the tee in golf.
