The entertainment which will be given in Grant Hall next week under the auspices of the Kingston branch of the Navy League of Canada is attracting a good deal of attention. The programme is a varied one and will recommend itself to people of varied tastes.

Scores of the parents of the pupils of Central School visited the school on Friday afternoon, April 24th, to buy the dainty home made cooking offered for sale by the Home and School Club.

Club. The president, Mrs. C. A. Thompson, received the visitors and the admission fee was collected by Miss Lucia McTeer. At the pretty tea table, decorated with rose tulips, Mrs. Herbert Moore and Miss Gertrude Harold poured tea while Mrs. William Lyons, Mrs. G. K. Main, Mrs. C. A. Thompson and the teaching staff, assisted by some of the senior pupils, served the visitors with refreshments.

The tables in the hall, made attractive by daffodils, with mauve settings, were laden with tempting eatables. Here, Mrs. Ross Davy, Mrs. Walter Ferguson and Mrs. R. J. Crawford sold cakes, pies and other good things and Mrs. E. B. Macdonald assisted by Mrs. R. A. Stockman sold candy.

As a result of the co-operation among parents, teachers and the energetic committees in charge, a splendid sum was realized.

The Kingston Rotarians did a good deed on Friday evening when they motored the ladies who so cleverly represented some of the famous of the world women under the auspices of the Mother's Council of the Y.M.C.A., to Odessa where they put on "The Pageant of Famous Women" under the auspices of the W.M.S. of the Methodist Church.

The president, Mrs. Cuthbert Gummer, gave an interesting talk on the work that is being done in the various Home and School Clubs in Ontario.

A committee of the final year men of Queen's University gave a last frolic in Grant Hall, on Friday evening. The guests, who were many, were received by Mrs. John Matheson and Mrs. J. F. Macdonald and spent a pleasant evening dancing to the strains of music made by Sid Fox and his serenaders.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Livingston, Toronto, will arrive in Kingston tomorrow and on Monday will motor with Mr. Ross Livingston to New York City where Mrs. Ross Livingston will meet them. The party will then go on to Atlantic City to spend a couple of weeks.

That the trade of the soothsayer is as old as history, and yet thrives to-day in our twentieth century, even in our own neighborhood. The desire to pierce clouds that veil the future is strong in the human heart, and much money has crossed the palms of fortune tellers since the world began. Some people laugh and say with an air of finality, "There is nothing in it," which does not in the least convince those who have been told their innermost secrets by one gifted with a psychic power, shall we call it telepathy? But the future—that is another thing. Think if you will, you who have been told wonderful things of what was in your mind when the fortune teller held your hand or gazed into your tea cup. Was it not the question you had come to her to help you decide that she spoke of? Probably it was and long practice made it quite possible for the seer to catch the thought and weave a warning, if the question was one that might call for one, or a promise of future success along the line desired by the questioner. There is no doubt that wonderful things have been done in this direction, but our advice would be to lay all the facts you know (and the fortune teller only knows what you know) on the table and

A Child's Folk Party. Even the little folk sometimes have "social debts" to pay off, and if a child has accepted many party invitations without having given a party, she (or he) could select no more appropriate time to meet her obligations than May first.

The beautiful thing about a May Party is that it may be given out of doors. All of the games may be played on the lawn, and the refreshments (the usual loaf cocoa, simple white cake, jam sandwiches, and ice cream) may be served in the dining room—unless a table on the lawn is preferred. The games, of course, make the "party." Here are some excellent ones: Chase the Squirrel is a good game to start it, as it is vigorous and "breaks the ice." All except one child stand in a ring with hands on one another's shoulders. The one outside this ring runs around the circle and suddenly drops a large walnut behind one child. That child must break from the ring, pick up the nut, and run to the left, while make up your mind from them what your course should be.

That at a meeting of six hundred women held in Hamilton during the session of the provincial chapter of the I.O.D.E. Hon. Howard Ferguson spoke on the public service to the country and the province done by the order referring in glowing terms to the influence of the pictures showing what the men of Canada had done for the empire in the great war.

That a very interesting handicraft which has lately come to light in London, is the glazing of wood in pottery effects and the process is the secret of an artist and his wife, who design beautiful bowls, mirrors, and vases in the unique work, and they claim that this is the first time that pottery-glazing has been successfully applied to wood in Britain.

The Saturday market was a large one and the good roads made it possible for people from far and near to bring their produce to Kingston. A sign of spring was the raspberry canes and strawberry plants for sale, some of which had come from Prince Edward and some from nearer home. There was a quantity of veal for sale at from 14 to 15 cents a pound for the hind quarter. Butter was 28 cents a pound, and eggs 28 and 29 cents a dozen. Potatoes were selling at 70 and 75 cents a bag. There were a few fowl for sale offered at $1.50 and $1.75 a piece. Rhubarb grown out-of-doors made its first appearance and was sold at two bunches for 25c. Beets, too, were offered and carrots at the same price. Plants for bedding, geraniums, etc., were for sale and quantities of flowers of all kinds made a fine showing.
