News From District Places

HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Miss Phyllis Darling, Inverary, Was Severely Hurt Last Week.

Inverary, April 25.—The play put on by Sydenham talent, on Friday night, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd present.

While Miss Phyllis Darling was returning to the village from the play she was hit by an automobile and so severely injured that she has been unable to return to Toronto normal school this week.

Ronald Gray, Elgin, and Ford Willis, Morton, spent the week-end in the neighborhood.

Freda Arthur, who was so severely shaken up and injured in the accident, which befell her while on her way to Sydenham high school, and who has been confined to Kingston General Hospital for a month, is improving and may shortly be able to return to her home here. She will not attend to school again this year.

The fine barn belonging to Thomas McCallum and sons was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday night.

The loss will be heavy. Cause of fire unknown. Mrs. W. L. Storms and family are at Elwood Thompson's.

Mrs. Douglas Darling and daughters, Evelyn and Noeren, will be absent a couple of weeks, visiting Mrs. Darling's mother in Watertown, N.Y.

Miss Frederick Ferguson and Miss Doris Darling will enter Kingston's General Hospital as nurses-in-training next week.

HANDLING BLACK FOXES.

They Are Growing in Numbers—A Fine Play Put On. Mervale, April 24.—Bill Quinn purchased a pair of black foxes from the Purdy Bros. last year and now is the owner of four nice young foxes. The Purdy Bros.' foxes have also increased considerably this spring. Frances Shellington has gone to Syracuse to spend the summer.

The recent snow storm, in this district, prevented the farmers this week from working on their land.

The Ladies' Aid held a business meeting at the hall, on Monday night, and the Community Club held a business meeting on Wednesday night.

D. Taggart has sold his property to Robert Woolsey, and he and Mrs. Taggart intend leaving for Los Angeles.

The Collin's Bay Dramatic Club presented a fine play, "The Dust of the Earth," in the hall, on the 16th. Mrs. P. Hare took the leading part as "Nell, The Dust of the Earth."

The other characters were Mrs. A. E. Merriman, Miss A. Miller, Miss W. Waller, Mr. M. Britt, Mr. A. Rowley, Mr. P. Hare, Mr. S. Reid, Mr. H. R. Clark and Mr. D. Gardiner. Their efforts were appreciated by the people of Mervale and many intend seeing the play again at Harrowsmith.

A MISSIONARY SERVICE.

A Splendid Event in Mallorytown Methodist Church, April 20th. Mallorytown, April 24.—The funeral of Mrs. George Scott, Caintown, took place on Wednesday morning. A large congregation filled the Methodist church. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. Calvert, who preached from John XIV, 19, "As I live, ye shall live also."

During the service the choir sang very feelingly "Does Jesus Care." The interment took place at Mallorytown.

Reeve Root and his daughter, Minerva, are recovering from their recent attack of quinsy. George Darling, Mrs. Salter and Mrs. Taylor are also on the sick list. On account of the snow storm there was no service in the Methodist church on Sunday. A very interesting Easter missionary service was held under the aus-

The Home Garden

What is Home without a Garden?

Sow Perennial Seeds Early. Perennial seeds may be sown from now up till mid-June but the earlier they are sown the more certain will be a display next year. Few of the perennials bloom the first year from seed, the larkspurs and platycodons being two which will give a display from early sown seeds this year.

Sow hardy perennials with the earliest of hardy annual seed and success is much more certain next year. The longer the growing season, the larger and healthier will be the spikes of bloom next year.

While many perennials sown in June or even as late as July will give blooming plants another year, only a portion of them will reach sufficient size to give characteristic display. The peach leaved bellflower is one of the popular perennials that must be sown early or it will wait two years before giving a display. Plants which may be sown in June and July with the most certain prospect of bloom next year are the various hardy pinks and sweet williams. Perennial larkspurs sown in June and July are also among those which will be reasonably sure to make good another year.

Galliardias are best sown as soon as the ground is workable. The biennials such as the foxglove, Canterbury bell, and chimney bell sower need a long season to make strong healthy tufts. The height of the spikes of the foxglove is dependent on the size of the rosette of leaves it makes this year, so sow it early.

Perennial poppies need an early start and transplanting as soon as they have made two leaves to become bloomers another season. They must be moved when very small or they are almost impossible to transplant without losing a large percentage of them. They must be caught before they have sent their taproot down too far. Columbinas are best started now. Hammer the ground firmly over the seed and germination will be increased and speeded up considerably. All perennials are better for early sowing and the order should go in with the list of annual seeds.

pieces of the W.M.S. of the Methodist church, on Wednesday, April 20th, Mrs. W. I. Mallory, the president, had charge of the service. The special feature of the service was a missionary address by the Rev. Frank M. Wooten, of the United Church, Brockville. A solo "Go and Tell" was sung by the pastor. A beautiful sacred pantomime was gone through by Miss Florence MacDonald, the words being sung by Miss C. Vickery. The missionary thank offering was a generous one.

Revs. Troop and Calvert and Messrs. David Hutchinson, Eugene Hagerman and John Collins attended the Prohibition Union executive meeting of the two ridings of Brockville and West Leeds on Thursday night.
