The Great Taku Glacier.

There are many notable sights to be seen by the tourist who has the opportunity to visit Alaska, but none more impressive than the famous Taku Glacier which lies between Wrangell and Juneau. This is one of the largest ice fields in the world. Where the ice breaks off in great bergs that fall into the sea with a roar like a peal of thunder, the glacier is one mile wide and from there it extends ninety miles back into the heart of the mountains that girdle this rich and beautiful land. It is one of the few great advancing glaciers left in North America and it is a sight which impresses itself deeply upon those who are privileged to view it. That number will be greatly increased this summer by the inauguration of a steamship service by the Canadian National Railways from Vancouver and Prince Rupert as far north as Shagway Alaska, with ports of call en route at Ketchikan, a typical Alaskan town built at the foot of the mountains; Wrangell, a city where jewelled ladies of the Russian Court danced in rustling silks when other belles were threading the mazes of the mistiest towns on the Atlantic coast; Juneau, the modern and attractive capital of this northern outpost of the United States and Shagway, the portal to the famous White Horse Pass, whose name is linked forever with the great gold rushes where men gambled their lives for the sake of a hidden gold.

Alaska in summer is a land of surpassing beauty and great richness of color. It is a land where a holiday is an adventure and whose memory will linger long after others have faded away. Ask any agent of the Canadian National Railways for illustrated literature.

USUAL MIX-UPS OVER DAYLIGHT SAVING

A Church Organist Had to Be Routed Out of Bed—The Service Delayed.

The customary mix-ups over the inauguration of daylight saving were apparent on Sunday. No matter how often people are told to change their clocks there are a great many who forget. A church organist was among the few who were misled and had to be routed out of bed by telephone. The service was somewhat delayed until his arrival.

Now begins the business of getting the kiddies used to going to bed by daylight. They object seriously at first but with a little insistence they will adjust themselves to the new arrangement, and everyone will be happy for the next four months.

REAL MUSICAL TREAT

The Recital Given by Mr. Ernest Hess in Convocation Hall.

One of the most delightful musical treats of the season was enjoyed in Convocation Hall on Saturday evening, when Mr. Ernest Hess gave a recital, assisted by Mrs. A. R. Worden and Dr. Thomas Gibson; under the auspices of the Queen's University art and lecture committee. Many people who really love music were in the audience and went home entirely satisfied. Mr. Hess' home is in Zurich, Switzerland, where he graduated from the university with a degree of bachelor of arts, and also found time to train his excellent baritone voice under skilled teachers. The people of Kingston have, for the last year and a half had the pleasure of hearing him many times both on the concert stage and as baritone soloist in St. Andrew's church. He took an honor course in arts at Queen's University this winter and will receive the degree of M.A. at Wednesday's convocation.

On Saturday he sang, accompanied with the utmost efficiency by Dr. Gibson, a number of songs which showed the variety of music included in his repertoire. The programme was an excellent one. Several songs by Schubert, one, "Dedication," by Schumann; "On Wings of Song," a favorite Mendelssohn number, and four songs by Loewe, a German song writer who was a contemporary of Schubert, as Mr. Hess told the audience. Three years after Schubert wrote his famous "Erlking" Loewe wrote his music to the immortal story. Mr. Hess sang it with dramatic power on Saturday evening to a wonderful accompaniment played with exquisite skill by Dr. Gibson. This was one of the gems of the programme and was applauded with a determination and persistence that brought another song. Two modern songs from "A Cycle of Life" (Landon-Ronald), "Down in the Forest" (Spring), and "Love I Have Won You" (Summer), were delightfully sung. The programme ended with "Invictus" (Bruno Huhn), but seeing his audience wanted to hear him to sing again, Mr. Hess came back and sang a Good-Night song, which was very sweet and appealing.

There are many things one might say about this young Swiss' voice and technique; the vibrant and yet always melodious tone, the excellent breath control, etc. But the outstanding quality which strikes most people is his love of the music he is singing, his appreciation of the words, even when they are in a language as new to him as English is, for the story of "Archibald Douglas" set to music by Loewe, was sung as sympathetically as his Italian song, "Cara Mio Ben" or the gay little French song he gave as an encore. And besides this there is his simple unaffected desire to give pleasure to his hearers, which he assuredly does.

Mrs. A. R. Worden played a "Ballade in A Flat" (Chopin) which was much enjoyed and responded to the applause by another number.

Dr. Thomas Gibson, with the sympathy and beautiful technique Kingstonians have learned to expect from this great addition to our musical circles, played a Pastoral by Mozart and an encore.

GIVEN NINE MONTHS ON PERJURY CHARGE

George Martell Gave False Evidence in Recent Burglary Case.

George Martell, at present serving a term in the jail, for burglary at Millan's store, pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury, before Magistrate Farrell, on Monday morning and was given an addition sentence of nine months.

The charge against Martell arose over evidence he gave in the case of the theft at Millan's store. He swore that one, Ross Brawley, had a hand in the burglary, and afterwards admitted that the evidence he had given against Brawley, was false. Brawley was placed under arrest at the same time as Martell was taken in charge, but the charge against him was dismissed when the case came before the court.

"This is a very serious charge you have pleaded guilty to," said the magistrate to Martell, in imposing sentence. "It is hard for me to conceive of a person swearing falsely against a person and causing his arrest. I will sentence you to nine months in jail."

Breaking into tears, a youth admitted he had stolen a bicycle. The magistrate, on looking up his record, found that this was the third wheel

FOREIGNERS DISMISSED.

Serious Protest to Be Made in Toronto City Council.

Toronto, May 4.—It is expected a serious protest will be made in the city council today regarding the recommendation of the board of control that three women employees of the city health department be dismissed, as they are foreign-born and unassimilated. Some city council members think the summary action may result in retaliatory measures being taken, which might be to the disadvantage of thousands of Canadians holding responsible positions in other parts under foreign employers.
