What the Family Agreed On

Willie was admonished by his father to develop the habit of observation. "Cultivate the faculty of seeing and you will be a successful man," he said. The boy's uncle added to the admonition and his aunt also dilated upon the necessity of observing everything that went on. The triple lecture made a deep impression upon Willie. That evening he told his father that he had been using his eyes. "Tell us what you have learned," said his aunt. "Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jennie's got an extra set of teeth in her dresser, and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips behind the books in the secretary." And the family united in voting him a little sneak.

ADDRESS AT ATHENS TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Library Has Splendid Location—Ford Steacy Died Suddenly at Vantage, Sask.

Athens, May 7.—Miss H. De Renzi, B.A., presided at the Young People's Society on Monday evening, when a helpful programme was furnished; musical numbers were contributed by Miss Marjorie Earl and by the Misses Beatrice Peterson and Olive King. Miss Margaret Gibson, home on vacation from Queen's, gave a helpful report of things heard at the Washington convention. While impossible to give a resume of the sixty-two addresses, yet she conveyed to the young people a message regarding the urgent need of more workers to carry on this great enterprise of evangelizing the world. Let none hope for ease, or worldly gain, but labor for the sake of Him who said, "Go, ye."

Owing to an unforeseen occurrence the motion picture "Hearts in Exile," failed to arrive for Tuesday evening as scheduled, but it is confidently expected that this de luxe film will be presented on Saturday evening, 9th inst., instead. It is quite probable that a "picture show" will be put on weekly during the summer under Women's Institute auspices.

Library's New Location.

The library has a splendid location now, in the west corner of the town hall, the color scheme in tones of grey making a pleasing background for the bright-hued bindings of the four thousand or so of volumes on the shelves. The lighting system has been improved so that a great change is noticeable. The capable librarian, Mrs. C. C. Slack, is in charge of the room from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Saturdays, and old and young are taking advantage of the opportunity of obtaining the best of literature at a nominal rate.

A Funeral Service.

The funeral of the late Holmes Clow, aged eighty-one, took place on Tuesday afternoon at his Sarah street residence, service being conducted by Rev. H. E. Warren, M. A., B.D., who spoke of life as a struggle from beginning to end, but deceased had reached a ripe old age, and had the satisfaction of having his loved ones about him to smooth his pillow during the weeks and months of decline. His oldest child, and only son, Charles, predeceased him over twenty years ago, his wife, formerly Miss Cummings, Temperance Lake, passing away two years ago. Three daughters, Mrs. Martin, Regina; Mrs. Robbins, Lynn; Miss Clow, Athens, survive, also two brothers, and two sisters. Interment was made in the family plot in the local cemetery.

A sudden call came to Ford Steacy, aged forty-seven, son of the late Jonas Steacy, of this vicinity, while visiting at the home of Adios White, Vantage, Sask. Following a period of ill-health, deceased was thinking of coming home, but suddenly expired at the home of friends who had lived formerly at Lake Elويد, about three miles from here.

Funeral services were conducted in the local Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon by the pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Upham, Messrs. W. F. Earl, G. E. Holmes, D. Kavanagh, D. L. Johnston, E. J. Purcell, D. Sheffield, interment being made here under the direction of the I.O.O.F. WANT MAINTENANCE LAW.

Criminals in Prison Should Support Owa Families.

Huntsville.—The Forester makes an excellent suggestion.

"In an eastern Ontario police court, a man was sentenced to two years in prison for beating his wife. Since his departure the family has been thrown on its own resources, and public charity may have to be invoked. Canada is too reticent in adopting a law which will put all such criminals at some productive work, and set aside the major portion of their earnings for the maintenance of their families."

BRITONS GROWING SHORTER, ACCORDING TO SCIENTIST

London, May 8.—Europeans of the present day have smaller brains than formerly, according to Sir Arthur Keith, conservator of the Royal College of Surgeons' Museum, and England's best known anthropologist.

at the Royal Institution recently, Sir Arthur said that from the limited data at the disposal of scientists, it may be inferred that the people who occupied western Europe at the close of the Ice Age stood distinctly above their successors of today in the matter of the size of their brains.

Referring to the height of man, the speaker said it was evident that the mean height of the modern Englishman was five feet six inches, not five feet eight, as has been supposed for many years.

Remembered Her Birthday.

On Tuesday members of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, Frankfort, entered the home of Mrs. Bowen as a surprise. It being her eighty-third birthday and presented her with an address and a bouquet of carnations. Mrs. Bowen was taken by surprise and sat in state while the rest served a dainty lunch and the evening was spent in music and social intercourse. She has been a resident of Frankfort for years and always ready to help in all good works.
