THE IMPORTANT WORK DONE BY CHEMISTS

EXTENSIVE CHANGES AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

Nickle Wing to Be Remodelled for Up-to-Date Maternity Hospital.

Told to Kiwanians by Dr. F. W. Attack of Dye and Chemical Company.

Dr. F. W. Attack of the Dye and Chemical Company of Canada was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Monday at noon at the Frontenac hotel in which he stressed the important part that was being taken in the advancement and progress of the world by chemists. He dispelled the idea that chemists were to the fore only in times of war, and pointed out a few facts to show what had been done by them in peace times.

Dr. Attack stated that many were of the opinion that chemists did their work during war time and in the daily life of the world they were not as prominent. Many believed their work solely destructive but he pointed out that many of the war time discoveries made by chemists were being used in the peaceful life of the world, using much the same chemical materials as those used for destructive purposes. He referred to the great advances made by chemists along medical lines, drawing attention to the discoveries made in anaesthetics by the chemists of England and France, which are now in everyday use in the medical profession. As a general rule, Dr. Attack said, the medical man calls for certain things and it is the job of the chemist to supply them to him.

Another important feature of the work of chemists was to supply new materials for those that had been over-used in manufacture and it was through the work of the chemist that certain manufactures could be carried out. Before the war, resins were used extremely but, instead of the materials being reduced, through the work of the chemists, substitutes were made. In the development of new steel, chemists played an important part and they found other materials that could be added to steel. Stainless steel was the result of chemical experiment and work. Ordinary steel would rust under certain conditions, but chemists had found certain materials and supplied them to steel which raised its quality to a great degree but did not make the cost excessive. Dr. Attack declared that civilization consisted in progress in materials and methods to meet the times, and that was where the chemists were assisting in no uncertain manner.

In 1916 an effort was made in Manchester to bring out the dye industry. One of the first jobs that faced the industry was the dyeing for the balloons, of fast colors. This was one of the war-time uses of chemicals in making dyes for them so that they could not be seen a short distance up from the ground. The speaker said that the attitude towards the German chemists was quite the same now as before the war. In spite of all the talk about the German chemists, it had been found that the discoveries were by French and Swiss chemists located in Germany. He told of the work of Bohan, an Alsatian, Schmidt, a Frenchman, and Haas a citizen of Paris. The German chemists worked on a straight line and never turned back on their heels.

The speaker went on to describe the work of the chemists in peace times, stating that they used much the same materials for peace time purposes as they had for war-time. These were the basis of medical and dyestuffs manufacture. Chemists have cheapened materials and have contributed much towards civilization's warfare. The speaker referred to the chemical aid in the solving of the artificial silk problem and stated that a large factory that had been erected for wartime purposes in the work of aeroplane water-proofing, was able to continue after the war and, using the same materials as had been used for war-time manufacture, turn out a product for peace time.

The speaker stated that there was not an industry or business, which at some time or another was not affected by chemists. Every manufacturer needed the advice of chemists if advances in Canada were to be made. Dr. Attack made an urgent plea that Canadian chemists be kept in Canada so that their brains and ability would be used for Canada's welfare.

A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Kiwanian Murdoch Johnston and seconded by Kiwanian Harry Wilder.

At a meeting of the building committee of the Kingston General Hospital, held on Monday afternoon with the chairman of the committee Mr. R. E. Kent presiding, it was decided that extensive work would be undertaken at the hospital during the summer months.

The Nickle wing, which for years was used as an isolation hospital, is going to be remodelled and will be made into an up-to-date maternity hospital. The wing will be made fire proof and will be one of the most up-to-date women's departments in this part of the dominion.

The Watkins wing will also be remodelled, and will be used as the administration department. The wards which at the present time are located in the Watkins building will be transferred to the new clinic building, and a number of semi-private rooms and private rooms will be constructed. The interns' quarters will also be placed in the Watkins building.

The Doran building at the present time used as the women's department, will be vacated as soon as the Nickle building is completed and will then undergo some repairs for use as a nurses' home. At present the accommodation at the hospital for the nurses is taxed to the limit, and with the opening of a new clinic building more nurses will be needed.

The plans of the work to be undertaken are in the hands of the committee, but the specifications have not been drawn up as yet.

PAID MAYOR AN GROVE FOR RAILWAY FARE

Man Who Was Assisted When "Down and Out" Returns Thanks and Money.

On April 15th, a man "down and out" called at the office of Mayor Thomas B. Angrove at the city hall. He was just one of many of this class who called on His Worship during the day seeking help.

"I think I could get a job all right if I could get to Toronto," said the one fellow who appeared to be doing all in his power to land a job, "and if I get the job I will pay you back the money for my railway fare to Toronto."

Everybody knows that "Tom" Angrove has a big heart. He has been helping men and women ever since he has taken over the mayor's chair. He figured that it was a most deserving case, and he arranged for railway transportation to Toronto for the man.

On Tuesday morning, when Mayor Angrove opened his mail, he was surprised to find a nicely worded letter from the fellow he had assisted on his way to Toronto, and enclosed in the letter was a crisp five dollar bill, with these words of reference in the letter: "I got a good job on a boat, and I want to pay you back for your kindness in helping me out."

So this is just one instance of the city being paid back for helping a man in hard luck. Of course there are many who are given assistance who do not offer to pay back money for service rendered, but this case goes to show that there are people in the world who do appreciate a helping hand and are willing to show their appreciation.

Corroboration Lacking.

In an Eastern Ontario town not long ago the champion local liar was brought before the justice of the peace for stealing a hen. It was a pretty plain case, and, on the advice of his lawyer, the prisoner decided not to argue about it. "I plead guilty, judge," he said. The judge was staggered; he had been prepared for a long and involved chain of lies. "Hiram," he said, after a moment, "I guess I'll have to have more evidence before I sentence you."
