The Editor hears

That with the touch of the sun during the last few days the country is awakening into life. The fields are taking on a fresher green and the little streams have a merrier sound as they fall over the stones on their way to Lake Ontario.

That Mrs. Nicholas Longworth probably was the only woman commoner who did not curtsy when presented to King Edward. This was under the misapprehension that those of royal rank did not curtsy, and as daughter of the president of the U.S.A., she considered herself the equal of royalty.

That the A.Y.P.A. of St. George's cathedral hope to subscribe several hundreds of dollars towards paying off the debt of $35,000 on the church building. The Mothers' Club has already a subscription in hand and will pay it over to the finance committee as soon as the canvass begins.

That the Cataragui Golf and Country Club is an attractive spot on these sunny spring days and the golfers are already hard at work.

HINTS ON HOME DECORATION.

Freshening Up Your Home for Spring—Solving Floor Covering. With the coming of spring, women everywhere are "cleaning house!"

All these new furnishings need not necessarily be expensive, however, for tasteful effects can often be obtained with a small expenditure.

For all sorts of drapery uses, unbleached muslin is popular. Stencilled, embroidered in wools or coarse silks, it meets the demand for cheerful brightness but is well within the means of the slimmest purse.

Many women are finding that Congoleum Gold-Seal Rugs solve the problem of the fresh floor-covering. These rugs come in varied charming patterns suited to any room in the house.

Once women experience the refreshing and stimulating effect of a generous infusion of color into their homes, they will forget the troublesome part of house-cleaning, will look on the furnishing up for spring as a positive pleasure.
