TALK ON HIGHWAYS BEFORE KIWANIAN

An Interesting Address by W. G. Robertson, Secretary of Ontario Motor League.

Mr. W. G. Robertson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, was the speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Frontenac hotel on Monday at noon, taking up the question of the expense of highway construction and maintenance and showing the great part that the motorists took in sharing the expense. Mr. Robertson's address was brief but to the point and the information he had to impart was very interesting. The speaker was introduced by T. M. Asselstine, president of the Kingston branch of the Ontario Motor League, who stated that Mr. Robertson was the greatest specialist in organized motorism that there was to-day in this province.

Mr. Robertson stated that while coming to Kingston that he had come across a section of road between Port Hope and Cobourg and noticed that there was a large crack in the road running lengthwise in the road. Many had believed that this had been the result of a flaw in the construction but later in Belleville, Mr. Robertson learned that this was placed in the road by the engineers on purpose to prevent lateral cracks in the road and thus save a great deal of money.

Highway construction has been carried on in a big way, Mr. Robertson said. The highway work was being carried on in such a manner that he believed that there would be fewer detours for the motorist to encounter this year than in any other year. This work had cost a great deal of money. The Ontario Motor League has devoted a great deal of attention to the construction of highways, and recently took a fixed position on the gas tax question and advocated a reduction in the annual license fee if such a tax were to be imposed.

The speaker stated that there had been an expenditure of forty-five millions of dollars by the government in the last eight years on road work. Over and against this was a charge of twenty per cent. for construction, a grant from the federal government of six millions, a portion charged urban municipalities of three millions. There was left twenty-seven millions included in this valuable material assets of two million dollars. This meant a net amount of twenty-five millions. This was not all on construction, however, and five millions were allowed for maintenance, leaving twenty millions on construction work. When the license fees of motorists since 1917 was totalled it was found that the sum of twenty-one and a quarter millions had been paid in. So far as construction was concerned, the motorists' fees exceeded the outlay. Besides the highway, there are county roads to which the government gives grants.

The speaker stated that the peak of road construction was passed several years ago. Prior to 1920 the costs on provincial highways was four millions; 1921, eight millions; 1922, ten millions; 1923, eight millions and 1924, five millions. Last year the motor license revenue came close to the 1924 amount, being four and three-quarter millions. Mr. Robertson contended that even without the tax on gas, the motorist was paying a big share of the cost and for that reason the Motor League took the stand on the gas tax question.

A hearty vote of thanks was moved to the speaker by Kiwanian R. H. Fair and seconded by Kiwanian Charlie Taylor.

In addition to the members of the Kiwanis Club, several Rotarians and officials of the Kingston Motor League were in attendance.

FORCEFUL PICTURE AT THE CAPITOL

"The Snob" Greeted by Capacity Audience Monday Night—Holds Great Lesson.

A packed house greeted the opening performance of "The Snob" at the Capitol Theatre on Monday night and judging from the enthusiasm displayed by the audience during the screening of the story, it made an impression such as only extraordinary pictures can. The famous "true to life" story of "The Snob" is one that has force and power behind, holding a lesson for the social aspirant in particular and everybody in general. It is one of the best of Helen R. Martin's stories and with a star cast, featuring Conrad Nagel, whose ability is being appreciated more and more every time he appears in a screen story, by movie audiences, Jack Gilbert, whose successes in past productions has shown his power of acting, and Norma Shearer, fast becoming one of the foremost stars of screen-dom.

The story holds a great moral behind it and is as true to life as one could demand. It depicts in no uncertain way how some people will go out of their way to attain the favor of those whom they believe to be in a better social or financial position than themselves and to what extent these "climbers" will try to lead others to recognize in them a certain quality or right to standing because of some ability of their own. The story as told in "The Snob" tells how a young budding professor, striving for social standing with those whom he believes to be superior to himself, turns from the home folks that have reared him and made it possible for him to achieve the success that he has gained, and how he comes in contact, of the importance of his own position and standing. He does not know, however, that the very ones whom he is trying to make believe that he is a superior sort of person, are really people of very great wealth and position, and look with contempt upon his actions in trying to attain his ends.

To what extent the young man carries his conceit and foolishness, is told in "The Snob" in such a way that it carries with it a lesson.

In addition to this splendid feature, which is in fact, one of the best that has been shown at the Capitol in weeks, the management offers features which go to make up an excellent programme. The comedy is one of the funniest that has been shown in a long time and the audience last night were kept in high merriment throughout its showing. The same bill will be shown at the Capitol to-day and for the last time on Wednesday.

BUSY TEARING OUT BARS IN THE HOTELS

So as to Be Ready for the Sale of 4.4 Beer on Thursday.

The 4.4 beer will be on sale in some of the local hotels Thursday if the permits are secured. A canvass of the hotels Tuesday morning disclosed the bar rooms to be a scene of busy activity. Men were engaged in tearing out the bars, and painting and making room for tables and chairs. The Randolph Hotel is removing half of the bar, the other part being boarded up for the purpose of preparing the beverages. The British American hotel is making preparations for the selling of the new beer, but will not sell it till next Monday. The Hotel Frontenac has not made any arrangements as yet, but expect to sell. The majority of the hotel men are of the opinion that they will be ready to sell the beer Thursday if the permits arrive.

The grocery men and the restaurateurs are not saying much about the selling of the beer, but it is expected that a number of restaurants and a few groceries will handle it.

An Address On India.
The B.Y.P.U. Baptist Sunday school, held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening. Mr. M. Harlow, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., gave an interesting talk on India, which he illustrated by lantern slides. The slides gave the members a broader view of how the people of India live; an idea of their customs and beliefs. Some fine pictures were shown, illustrating the wonderful architecture of buildings made by Indian architects. Mr. Harlow also told of the work the Y.M.C.A. men are carrying on among the young boys, so that now they are adopting our customs and are looking for help from the West. The young people appreciated Mr. Harlow's interesting illustrated talk very much.

Addressed Young People.
On Monday evening, Edgar Lockett was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Young People's League of Sydenham street church. Mr. Lockett spoke on the shoe industry and his address was very much appreciated. Miss Sallie Wood, convener of the citizenship committee, presided.

Harry McQueen, one of the faithful members, who graduated from Queen's University this spring with the degree of B.A., and who has accepted a position in Toronto, bade farewell to the members of the society.

Information Wanted.
A Battersea reader of the Whig asks the following questions:
Is the Northern part of Frontenac county too hilly for farming?
Is there any farming near the Mississippi River in this county?
Is there limestone all the way across the county from the south to the north?
Perhaps some reader in the north can send us in the information required.

SPOKE ON FREEMASONRY.

Development of Craft Traced by Harry Linney at Brockville.

Brockville, May 19.—Harry Linney of Bracebridge addressed Sussex Lodge, A.F. and A.M., Brockville, last evening on "The Origin and Growth of Freemasonry." Members of Salem Lodge, Brockville, also attended.

The development of the craft in Britain was traced, under Anthony Sayer in 1717 and the planting some seventy-five years later of lodges in Canada. Pictures of early officers, meeting places, official records, and concurrent history of Upper and Lower Canada were shown. The pictures included William Jarvis, Robert Kerr, James Fitzgibbon, George Adams, J. H. Dunn, Z. M. Phillips, A. N. McNab, Simon McGillivray, Robert Beikie, G. T. Ridout, and others who were identified with the craft in its first days.

The officers of the Grand Lodge of Canada, formed in 1855, were pictured from the first days by Mr. Linney, as well as incidents of deep interest, and the marvellous growth of the order in latter days.

The Grand Masters, stated Mr. Linney, have included judges, knights, senators and premiers, as well as three provincial secretaries. Among the early Grand Masters were W. M. Wilson, T. D. Harrington, A. A. Stevenson, J. K. Kerr, and the latter years include W. J. Wardrop, F. W. Harcourt, W. N. Ponton and W. J. Drope.

To Remove To Toronto.

At the request of the bishop of the diocese, the announcement is made at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Trinity Square, Toronto, that the Rev. Canon Loucks, rector of All Saints' Church, Winnipeg, has accepted the appointment as rector of the parish in succession to the Rev. Canon L. Ralph Sherman, who leaves next month to become Dean of Quebec. He is a son of the late Canon E. Loucks and Mrs. Loucks, Division Street.

The charred remains of a coupe bearing an Ohio license were found on the highway two miles from Woodstock.

G. Corwell, D. McMillan and A. Vice, young men, were drowned while taking live stock across the river at Cornwall, Ont.
