THE WONDERFUL WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Mrs. Henderson's Statement. Mrs. W. H. Henderson, Ottawa, who was unable to be present, sent the following statement, which was read at the morning session on Tuesday:

Going up the beautiful winding Bear river in Nova Scotia, one noticed the captain of the little steamer going back to the pilot house frequently to see the way they had come, for the backward glance revealed to him the course he should follow.

Often the backward glance is an incentive to go forward, so, to-day, let us take a backward glance into the way we have come, and see what we can glean from the pilot house window of our missionary society, for our going on.

We see a small band of women starting out in a new adventure, treading an unknown path, but they are women of strong faith, with an unwavering devotion to God, full of courage and high hopes, with the vision always before them of the great need, and responding to God's call to help meet that need.

We see Mrs. Ross, with her strong personality, a born leader, striving in every way possible to make our women assume responsibility. Then our own Mrs. Williams, with her hands full at home, yet making sacrifices to go here and there, exhorting and organizing auxiliaries. We see our lovable Mrs. Shaw, with her cheery optimism and her wise counsel; strong courageous Mrs. Read, too, sending out literature, schedules, Easter envelopes, working away with her foot on the rocker of her babies' cradle. We see, then, happy Mrs. Sparks, guarding well the treasury, and brave Mrs. Craig, who at our last branch meeting in Kingston gave us such a wonderful welcome. These last three are among those who praise their Redeemer face to face before the throne.

We see from the pilot window Mrs. Hughes, with her kindly spirit; Mrs. McRossa and hosts of others doing pioneer work in this branch, making a path for us to follow, meeting difficulties, overcoming obstacles, developing women and making them effective in the bringing in of the kingdom. And so the work grew. What are we to do to carry on the tradition of these women? Does not this verse give us a lead—leading? "Take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy hearts all the days of thy life." That is the call of the women of the past to us.

Among the missionaries who went from this branch we see Margaret Craig, though frail in body, yet with a keen sense of the call to go to Japan to do her wonderful work among the girls. When the call came for her to go up higher, she could say, "Thank God, it has been worth while."

So we look back over the way, and truly can we say, "Hitherto the Lord hath brought us." To-day God is speaking to us as He did in the past when he said, "Speak ye to the children of Israel that they go forward." What of our women to-day? We believe they have the same strong faith, the same high hopes, the same devotion to God as those who have passed on.

No president has ever been surrounded by a more loyal faithful executive than the president of this branch. God's dependable women—every one! With untiring superintendents and a rank and file willing to do their best, for it is the individual member that makes the work possible, we will go forward into the larger united field of labor, still with the promise: "Lo, I am with you always."

This branch has been honored by having two of its members chosen to fill the position of president of the board. We have been proud to follow the leadership of Mrs. Ross, and now our Mrs. Lavell we hope still to have that privilege. During the coming year may our prayer be "The work of our hands, establish thou it."

May the blessing of the Heavenly Father rest on and abide with each member of this branch. (Signed) Lovingly, —MARY HENDERSON.

NOT SUCH A CHILLY MAY AS SOME THINK So Far Only a Degree or Two Below Usual Average for Month.

Toronto, May 19.—"It's a bit too early to talk about May, 1926, being the coldest month of May on record for so many years," said an official of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here. "To be sure, it has been a bit chilly in spots, but the average for the month to date is not more than a degree or two below the usual average for this month which is, according to our records, between 52 and 53 degrees.

The coldest May in the official records for this part of the dominion was that of 1867, when the mean average for the month was 46.6. In 1907, however, there was another coolish month of May, with an average of 45.1. "As for it being a late spring," said the observatory man, "I think it might be said that spring was fairly early in arriving, but seems to be having a little trouble warming up to its work, so to speak. However, it is a little warmer to-day and the prospects are for still warmer weather in Eastern Canada towards the middle of the week. In the west they are having it quite balmy already."
