

The funniest farce in 40 years

CHARLEY'S AUNT

Syd Chaplin

As a play made folks laugh for thirty-three years; as a film it's the funniest movie ever made. A riot of fun for everybody.

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"CHARLEY'S AUNT"

AT THE CAPITOL

It is a surprising thing, indeed, that the movie makers have not filmed "Charley's Aunt" before. Now it is about ready to arrive via the cinema and is advertised for the Capitol Theatre, beginning to-day.

"Charley's Aunt" probably holds more records for long-distance running on the stage than anything outside of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The farce was written by Brandon Thomas and first produced in England in 1892. The remarkable thing about the play was the fact that it has run continuously for the last thirty-three years and still shows evidence of going strong.

"Charley's Aunt" is also credited with being the funniest play ever written, and in making the picture the producers have designed the scenario to keep all of the biggest laughing sequences in the play intact. Syd Chaplin plays the title role of "Charley's Aunt from Brazil where nuts come from" and he is said to do the best work of his career.

Chaplin is undeniably developing into one of our stellar comedians. There are critics who maintain that his "Submarine Pirate" film, made when feature movies were still young, still stands as the funniest film ever made. It is only lately that he has blossomed out as a featured comedian, for during a period of three or four years he was off the screen and acting as his famous brother's manager and engaging in business ventures of his own.

In the "Charley's Aunt" film the character of the eccentric old lady is one which lends itself to Syd Chaplin's special flair for pantomime in which he is a past master. The laughs come thick and fast, and the movie men are safe in promising a show of more than the usual hearty roars of mirth.

QUIET SPELL BROKEN; TWO TIPPLERS NABBED

One Stated He Had Been Drinking 4.4 and Was Remanded.

Of course the quiet spell in police circles had to be broken some time, and so it was just as well to have it occur on Thursday morning, which marked the first week of the sale of the new beer. There were two tipplers before Magistrate Farrell.

One stated that he had been drinking 4.4, or "44" as some people refer to it, and nothing else, but as experts say you cannot become intoxicated on the new beverage, Magistrate Farrell remanded the accused until Monday, in order to give him time to refresh his memory. The other tippler stated that he had been drinking alcohol that should be used for rubbing purposes. He was fined $10 and costs.
