Joseph L. Haycock Makes a Specialty Of Raising Onions Near Adolphustown

He Also Has Many Strawberry and Raspberry Bushes—Dry Seasons Do Not Bother Him as His Land is Irrigated.

Joseph L. Haycock, the former leader of the Patrons of Industry in the Ontario legislature, who lives on a farm near the village of Adolphustown, makes a specialty of raising onions. Mr. Haycock, who is seventy-five years of age, when speaking to a representative of the Whig at his home, stated that he delighted to work in his garden. Mr. Haycock said that some years ago when peeling an onion the thought came to him if he could only raise an onion the size and shape of a baseball there would certainly be a good market for them. After some years of experimenting he has been able to grow an onion that looks like a baseball, and is an excellent seller. The onion has proven such a success that two years ago Mr. Haycock sold $191 worth of seed and also sold a great quantity for commercial use. Mr. Haycock has called his new onion "Progressive."

Mr. Haycock's garden, which is located close to his residence, is well arranged. There are four hundred raspberry bushes which last year produced 1883 boxes of berries. The strawberries are still a very uncertain quantity on account of the severe frost. Mr. Haycock has a large plot of potatoes which are doing very well considering the frost of last month.

The Haycock farm is located on the Bay of Quinte, and in places the bank of the river is elevated for a distance of thirty feet. Mr. Haycock informed the Whig that a few years ago when every person in the province was complaining of the dry weather he bought a great length of pipe and was able to force water up from the bay to irrigate his berry bushes and other produce which were in need of moisture. At the present time he is arranging to place a new wind-mill in order and it can be used for supplying water to the crop during the dry weather.

LETTERS To The Editor

Facial Deformities.
Kingston, June 2.—(To the Editor): Broadcasting by radio is becoming a wonderful public educator, but it still has to take second place to the newspaper. More people read the newspaper than have radios yet, besides the newspaper record is more complete and lasting than the radio record.

I have just been reading a broadcast lecture by Martin Dewey, D. S.M.D., New York, under the above heading and published in "Oral Health" I thought it so good that I would broadcast it to the parents of children through the Radio of the British Whig, provided, of course, that the editor is willing to spare the space. I will condense a bit (although the subject needs enlarging), and dispense with quotation marks. The doctor commences:

The other day I saw a man selling false-faces, and the thought came to me that a great many people were going through life wearing faces which did not belong to them. Nearly every child is born with a normal face. Many a fond mother boasts as to the beauty of her child. She thinks her baby is the most beautiful creation in the world; and there are many beautiful babies. The great difference between the number of beautiful babies and the number of handsome adults is because somewhere, during the process of growth and development the beautiful baby is forced, for some reason or other, to assume a face that nature never intended it should wear.

With apologies to Doctor Dewey, I remain,
Yours truly,
S. A. AYKROYD.

A SCARCITY OF FISH IN BAY OF QUINTE

Fishermen Report Unusual Condition—An Increase Expected Later in Season.

Fishermen who reside on the shore from Collin's Bay up as far as Adolphustown report that the fishing so far this season is the worst in years. When asked by a Whig representative if they could give any reason for the bad season they stated that the fish did not appear to be in the waters of the Bay of Quinte.

It is certainly a very serious thing for these men who make a business of fishing. An evidence of how bad the fishing in this season is told by some fishermen who live near the village of Bath. It has been a common occurrence this spring for the men to only obtain from four to forty white fish and trout in a net which had been in the water for a period of four days. Under ordinary conditions it was usual for the same fishermen to obtain a mass of fish that would be worth in the neighborhood of $50. A catch this spring has only brought about from $2 to $5 after the fishermen had gone to just as much trouble as they would have done for the $50 haul.

One fisherman stated that he found upon taking up 2,500 yards of net that there were only four fish, which was certainly very discouraging.

The fishermen have done everything in their power to get fish but they all agree that they are not in the waters. It is expected that as the season advances the fish may increase in number and it is certainly to be hoped so.

Mr. Lewis, Bath, who buys from the fishermen, told a Whig man that so far this season business has been so light that the motor launch which he has used for years to go around to the different fishing points and pick up the fish which had been caught, had not been used this spring.

McLean Messages.
McLean, June 1.—The weather has been very wet and cold. We all hope it will be a little warmer from now on. Service was held here and Rev. Mr. Clark, Tamworth, as minister. A large crowd attended. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sills, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sills, Wagarville, Mr. and Mrs. William Raycroft, Wilkinson, Melville Wagar, Long Lake, and Rev. Mr. Clark, all at E. Brown's.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wood and Frank Bender at H. Timmerman's; Mr. and Mrs. S. York and family, Long Lake, at William Smith's; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Crook and daughter, Long Lake, Mr. P. Wagar and daughter, Beatrice, at William Smith's; Miss M. Cox spent Saturday night at Aaron Smith's. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Henton, a boy, on May 25th.

you see when you meet a person is the front teeth. Mouth-breathing and nursing bottles also produce facial deformities. If the child is allowed to such on rubber nipples he fools himself and he fools his parents by developing a facial deformity.

Individuals with protruding teeth and deformed jaws, that almost destroy every resemblance to the human face, could have been successfully treated during the period of growth. Foods and habits are the controlling factors in facial deformities. The teeth have various functions to perform and it is only when they occupy their normal position that we can expect the child to develop a normal face.

Orthodontia is the science which has for its subject the correction of malocclusion of the teeth. The amount of benefit that can be done by this science is only limited by the age at which the treatment is begun. If your child is not as beautiful as you think it should be, or if you notice the face becoming less pleasing, remember that orthodontic treatment is able to correct this maldevelopment and give your child the face that nature intended it should have.

LEAVING FOR WALKERVILLE.
William White and Family Remove From Ardoch.

Ardoch, June 2.—The growth of vegetation which was progressing tardily was greatly benefited by last night's heavy rain. It is reported that Ardoch's population will decrease in the near future as William White and family intend leaving for Walkerville. Fred Hermer made an automobile trip to Flinton, Sunday. Those who accompanied him were Joseph Hermer, William Hermer and Walter Myers.

Mr. Palmer, Snow Road, is in this vicinity buying real calves for the New York market. He pays 6c per lb., live weight. Carl Weiss arrived from Germany to visit his aged parents, also brother and sister, after twelve years of separation.

Miss Mamie Smith recently visited her brother, Clifford, and wife, in Barrie. Four car loads of our citizens took in the dance at George Salmon's, Myer's Cave, on Friday last. Mrs. Alice Gray returned from Tamworth where she spent an indefinite time with her daughter, Mrs. W. Young.

Wilfred Weber was an over-Sunday visitor in the Cloyne district. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Myers motored to Ralton, Sunday. A number from here and Plevas attended Mrs. W.

Answers to Inquiries.
Mrs. A. M.: "Kindly tell me how to keep leather upholstered furniture from cracking?"

Answer: Oil it now and then with a little furniture oil, to keep it from becoming too dry and stiff. Your local hardware store will recommend the right oil.

A Reader: "Kindly give me directions for crocheting carnations."

Answer: Crocheted Carnations: Use pink and white silkthread, with green for bulb. Row One: Chain six, form in ring, chain four, one double treble in ring. * Chain three, two double trebles; repeat five times from *. Chain three, close. Row Two: Chain four, one double treble, chain three, two double trebles over three chains. Chain three over two double trebles. * Two double trebles, chain three, two double trebles over three chains. Chain three over two double trebles and repeat five times from *. Row Three: Work thread to the three centre chain, Chain four, two double trebles, chain three, two double trebles over each three chains, then chain three between figures. Rows Four and Five are the same as Row Three. Row Six: One slip stitch, chain three, skip one, one slip stitch.

Bulb: Row One: Chain five, form in a ring. Two slip stitches in each stitch. Row Two: Three slip stitches over three slip stitches. Two slip stitches in every fourth slip stitch. Row Four: One slip stitch in each stitch. Row Five: Same as Row Three. Now work five rows without increasing. Wind silkthread over a wire, form a hook, place this hook in the flower and tie tightly. Draw bulb over wire and sew to flower also.

A Housewife: "Kindly tell me how to remove scratches from hard wood floors caused from the scraping of chairs."

Answer: Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will gladly send you my multigraphed article on The Care of Wood Floors, which covers scratches, re-finishing, polishing and general care of floors.

Tomorrow—Canning the Pineapple.

AJ inquires addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.

Just add a teaspoonful to hard water for instant cleaning

Your pots and pans will shine. And without scouring or scrubbing that tires and makes the hands so rough and red.

Gillex dissolves the grease, frees the grease-dirt, leaves the metal or enamel surface antiseptically clean.

Because grease harbors germs, any cleanser that does not chase grease, leaves behind a potential menace to health.

With Gillex, grease disappears with one rinsing, without harm to hands or surface. Saves you time and soap money and makes your kitchenware last longer.

No matter how hard the water, self-basting roasters, fireless cookers, milk cans and greasy dishes are cleaned quickly and thoroughly without scouring or heavy labor.

Gillex contains no grit or harmful acid. Use no more than quantities specified in directions.
