WAS GIVEN DAMAGES FOR FALSE ARREST

Joseph Bollons Awarded $350 In Action Against R. W. Mungul In County Court.

At the sitting of the county court, which opened before Judge H. A. Lavell, at the court house, on Tuesday afternoon, a jury awarded damages amounting to $350, to Joseph Bollons, in his action against R. W. Mungul, contractor, in his claim for $500 damages for false arrest and imprisonment.

The jury, which consisted of the following, were only out about half an hour, when they came in with their verdict in favor of the plaintiff: Frank Salisbury, Charles Caning, W. H. Connell, Arthur Cowdy, George Fraser, Samuel Ferguson, G. O. Cranston, James Henderson, F. K. Morton, David Mahoney, Frank McDonald and R. J. Watkins. Joseph Bollons, who is a carpenter and builder, stated that he was brought here from Toronto by the defendant, for the purpose of building some houses on Stuart street, which were finished last September. Bollons was to receive pay at the rate of $1.10 per hour.

The plaintiff stated that one day during the month of October, the defendant called him on the telephone and accused him of stealing a board, valued at about 75 cents. Witnesses said that he told the defendant that he had asked him for the use of the board, and he had used it for the purpose of making a table. Witness said that Mungul had given him fifteen minutes to return the board, so he went to Allen's lumber yard, purchased a board and gave it to the defendant. Mr. Bollons said that the defendant went down street and had a warrant sworn out for his arrest, and he was placed in the cells at the police station, where he remained for about five or six hours. A few days later, he appeared before Police Magistrate Farrell, when the case was dismissed, and he was allowed his freedom.

Witness said that the defendant still owed him money for work which he had done. He stated that he had only been paid $1 per hour instead of $1.10, according to his agreement which also called for a bonus. Detective Thomas Mullinger, told of the defendant calling at the police station and reporting the theft of the board, and asking that an information be laid against Bollons. The request of the plaintiff was complied with, and the accused was locked up.

W. S. Herrington, K.C., who acted for the defendant, contended that no case had been made, as there was no evidence to show that Mr. Mungul had asked that Bollons be arrested and locked up. Mr. Herrington contended that Mungul had told his case to the police and that they caused the search warrant to be issued.

Mr. Mungul claimed that he had placed a pile of lumber at the rear of one of his houses and that boards were disappearing from the pile, so he decided that he would try and find where they were going. He said that he left a fourteen-foot board on the veranda of one of the houses and it had disappeared. When he noticed that it was gone, he spoke to the carpenter who was on the job, and found that Bollons had taken it to his home. He claimed that Bollons had never asked for his permission to take it. Witnesses said that Bollons had denied that he had taken the board, although he had bought one at the lumber mill and given it to him. Mungul said that he had gone to the police station and complained, but he had given no instructions as to how the papers should be drawn up. He said that he thought that only one paper was drawn up. Witnesses stated that he did not ask for his arrest.

The defendant, in answer to Mr. Day, stated that he had signed his name to the search warrant, which gave Detective Mullinger permission to search the premises of Bollons without reading what he was signing. Witness said that he did not think that there was any need of asking for a search warrant, as it was natural that it would be issued. William H. Chalmers, painter, said that he saw Bollons take the board from the house and saw it in two pieces.

Judge Lavell, in addressing the jury, stated that a man could not be arrested without due cause. He said that if a man procures the arrest of another wrongfully, he is liable for damages. He reminded the jurors that he must accept the decision of Police Magistrate Farrell that Bollons was not guilty of theft. The judge said that there was evidence to show that Mungul caused the arrest.

PUPIL EXAMINATION INTERESTS KINGSTON

The Local Board of Education Secures Information From London.

The London Free Press has the following:
 "The Board of Education received a clipping from The Free Press of recent date in which the new plan of warring on tuberculosis and goitre by having every new child entering school undergo a medical examination, was outlined. The letter was from W. J. C. Allen, secretary of the Kingston Board of Education, and he asked on behalf of his board, for further details of the local plan."
 "Secretary Tanner forwarded full details and enclosed a medical record card such as it is proposed to use locally and also explained that the various doctors of the city have consented to do the examining at a cost of $1 per child. The board undertakes to pay for the examination, although it is done by the family physician in every case."
 "Mr. Tanner further explained that London had five dentists on its regular staff and he enclosed a dental examination record card and also outlined the plan by which the five nurses examine children periodically for throat or mouth trouble."

PASSED AWAY AT OGDENSBURG.

Mrs. Peter Farmer Was Formerly of Kingston.
 Mrs. Peter Farmer, aged seventy-four, a well known resident of Clayton, N.Y., for the past several years, died Friday at the Sisters' Home in Ogdensburg, N.Y., where she had made her home for the past few weeks. Her death followed a stroke of paralysis which she suffered recently.

Mrs. Farmer was born in Canada in 1851. She was married early in life to Peter Farmer, being his second wife. They operated the American Hotel, on Brock street, Kingston, for a brief period, after which, in 1883, they went to the United States. They resided in Watertown for some time and operated the old City Hotel. They also owned and operated the Brick Hotel in Evans Mills. Her husband died in 1909. Since his death she made her home with relatives, spending her summers with her son, Joseph, at Clayton, and her winters in Rochester. For the past two years she had been in ill health and five weeks ago was taken to the Sisters' Home in Ogdensburg.

Mrs. Farmer was a woman of remarkable personality and made many friends. She is survived by one son, Joseph Farmer, Clayton; two step-sons, John Farmer, Mill street, Watertown, and James Brownville, Watertown. One son, Thomas, died about a year ago. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Smith, Danburg, Ia., and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Michael Doran, Brownville.

ARRIVE AT PENITENTIARY.

Four Simcoe Islanders Now Incarcerated in Portsmouth.
 The four Simcoe Island residents, who were sentenced at Picton to a term of three years in the Portsmouth penitentiary on the charge of theft, arrived at the prison on Tuesday afternoon.

The police magistrate at Picton when sentencing the men informed them that he had received a number of complaints from residents of Prince Edward county about nets being stolen and he was about to issue a search warrant to have certain places on Simcoe Island searched. The magistrate also complimented Provincial Police Officer Macleachlan, Kingston, for his prompt action in locating the stolen nets and also on the arrest of the four men who later pleaded guilty to the charge of theft.

Major Thomas Angrove went to Ottawa on Wednesday morning, on the late excursion to the Experimental Farm.

DR. MORGAN'S MISSION.
 An Analysis of the Redemptive Theme of the Bible.
 Dr. Patrick Morgan of Providence, R.I., again spoke in Gospel hall last evening. His message was not so much microscopic as telescopic in its nature, sweeping the whole course of dispensational truth. It was a synthetic analysis from Genesis to Revelation of the redemptive theme of the Book which is steadily verifying the prediction of three millenniums ago—"The word of the Lord shall stand for ever."
 Unlike the literary productions of men which are in a few short months consigned to the scrap heap as archaic the Bible, when interpreted in the light of the various dispensations to which its messages apply, proves itself a supernatural revelation. Dr. Morgan showed the confusion occasioned through applying to the church messages from God intended for Israel or for a future age when His kingdom shall come and His will done on earth as in heaven.

 Preliminary to the study of Paul's Epistle to the Romans Dr. Morgan furnished interesting internal evidence of the claims of Paul's epistles to be from God and not the outflow of a cultured mind. He also pointed out the nature and mission of the Church which is not merely an organization but a living organism of twice born men without reference to sect, class, or nationality. Its mission is, not to millenniumize this age by means of social reform but to call out of it through evangelization a holy people separated to God, not to conform to the world to the church but that the church should not be conformed to the world.

Nothing Yet to Report.
 Provincial Police Inspector Hammond has returned from Ste. Anne de Bellevue where he interviewed the sister of the late Caroline Louise Griffen, Millhaven, who died at the Rockwood hospital on Monday, June 1st. Inspector Hammond, when asked by the Whig if he had anything to say about his trip, stated that he would have to report his finding to the head of the provincial police at Toronto. The inspector during his stay in the city has refused absolutely to discuss the case in any way.
 It is understood that some relative of the Griffen family wrote a certain authority in Toronto drawing the attention of provincial police to the particulars surrounding the death of the deceased, with the result that the provincial police inspector was sent to Kingston.
