PETERBORO BEATEN BY KINGSTON 14-7

Heckman the Great Was Forced From Slab Duty by Heavy Hitting of Locals.

In a game that started off like a million dollars and ended up like cents, Kingston defeated Peterboro here at the Fair Grounds on Wednesday evening by the score of 14-7, taking sweet revenge for the defeat administered to them' in Peterbore last Saturday when the Petes gave Manager Daley and his boys a 15-1 beating. A great battle had been expected by the fans and considering the weather conditions, there was a large crowd out. For about the first five innings they were given pretty good ball but after that the Peterboro clan, realizing that their chances were about cooked for the day, began to fool things away and Heckman with his smile, tried to convey the impression that he was not trying. The result was that the celebrated Peterboro hurler, though just why he is celebrated is hard to understand, gave a poor exhibition and made a joke of the remainder of Hewitt Smith looks to be the makings of one of the best pitchers ever developed in Kingston. Smith is a sturdy boy of fine build, has plenty of strength and can stand the strain of pitching. He has plenty of speed and hooks and uses his head if forced into a tight fix. Smith is also one of the most popular ball players in the city.

Jack Adams' Napanee boys are not as slow as some of the fans here thought they would be. They are a lively looking bunch of boys and it would not be surprising to hear from them later on in the season, as being up in first or second place.

The Kingston seniors go to Oshawa on Saturday where they meet Teddy Saunders & Co., while the Kingston intermediates will be playing the Napanee team at Napanee.

If there is one sign about a poor sport that gives him away more than another, it is that, of giving up and making a fool of a game when it is lost for him. That's exactly the sort of a fellow Heckman is. In last evening's game, after he saw things were about gone for his team, he started in to make a joke of the game and he was admirably helped out by Manager Johnson. That's not the first time that Peterboro has done this same trick in Kingston and there should be something done about it by the League officials, if they are on their job.

Herby Teepell is considered by many fans in the city to be the best ball player in Kingston to-day. He has shown a wonderful improvement over last season and at the present time is playing ace high. Teepell can well be proud of his performances so far.

Cairns got a bad smash from a hard driven ball last evening but gamely stayed in the game.

Arthur Quinn had a hard time hanging on to the ball and dropped many that he should have had. That was bad enough but it was a sight worse on the part of those ten-cent critics to start yelling at Quinn and making the boy so nervous that at times he didn't know whether he was catching or what he was doing. Some Kingston fans, if such they may be called, have not yet got over that great big fault of "riding" their own

The rain also did damage by wetting the ground, making it very slippery for the horses, and in many cases the animals, after slipping once, would not take the jumps. The cadets, however, had their horses under control. There was very keen competition in all of the events.

The spectators marvelled at the cadets in their accuracy at tent pegging and wonderful horsemanship. Many times the horses became very hostile and made breaks to get away, but the cadets always had them in hand and made them do some very difficult jumps. The spectators were given many a laugh in the Balaclava melee. An even number from each company were mounted on horses, well padded, with wire masks on their faces, and plumes on the masks. They then proceeded to knock the plumes off each other with heavy sticks, and many a hard blow was received. One cadet from "B" company received a bad cut on his neck, but he pluckily stayed in the "melee" and was about the only man on his team to finish with his plume intact.
