When the shades of night are falling, And we are sitting at the table, There often comes a longing, If you only could come home.

Two years have passed since that sad day, When one we loved has passed away. We loved him then, we love him still, We miss him now, we miss him still.

When the shades of night are falling, And we are sitting at the table, There often comes a longing, If you only could come home.

Lost Articles—And Articles That Stay Lost

There's a big difference between them! And the distinction generally lies in the fact that some were advertised for in the Whig's A-B-C Classified columns—while the others were not.

Recovering lost articles through this paper's Lost and Found column is a comparatively simple and a very logical proceeding. It's based on common sense and the law of averages.
