DRUGGIST DELEGATES TO OTTAWA MEETING

Will Be Entertained at Supper and Shown Through the City.

Delegates from Toronto and other Ontario cities and towns, who are on their way to the Ontario Retail Druggists' convention at Ottawa, numbering about one hundred and fifty, were expected to arrive in the city this afternoon about five o'clock and according to the programme mapped out, they were to be met at the Five Mile House by Mayor Angrove and a number of city officials.

The caravan, which is in charge of James P. Richards of the Richards Glass Co. of Toronto, is proceeding to Ottawa with Kingston as a rest-over terminal. The caravan party will rest here for the night and will be given an informal supper in the city hall and afterwards shown around the city.

It was planned that the kitties' band would meet the caravan near the top of Princess street and head the procession of cars down Princess street to the market square where Mayor Angrove will read an address of welcome to the visitors and present the leader with a gold key to the city.

The delegates will proceed on their journey on Tuesday morning for Ottawa, going by way of Prescott. It was expected that merchants on Princess street would put out their flags in honor of the visitors.

DR. MORGAN'S MISSION

Large Congregation Heard Inspiring Message at Gospel Hall.

That Dr. Morgan's mission in Kingston has been appreciated was evident Sunday evening from the representative audience that filled the Gospel Tabernacle on Union street.

Mr. F. G. Lockett, in a few graceful words, paid a high tribute to the scholarly and deeply spiritual messages given by Dr. Morgan almost every night for four weeks.

Taking as his theme "He preaches unto them Jesus," he spoke of having visited many religious institutions while engaged in editorial work in New York and only twice had he heard the name so dear to every believer.

He said that God had given to the church evangelists, pastors and teachers, Philip was used of God as an evangelist. In our day there is an evangelist that is not of God. It is commercialized. The evangelist, so called, must have his hotel bills and travelling expenses guaranteed as well as a good sized free will offering. He is most punctilious in his social discriminations. Such evangelism is not of God. The basis of Philip's teaching was salvation through faith, not through the life of Christ as Fosdick teaches but in His death.

He is to be accompanied by Fred Bamforth, of Peterboro. Changes may be made in the route, but the course at present laid out goes from Peterboro down the Trenton river and up the Gull river to Halliburton, then across Lake-of-Bays to Algonquin Park, then down the Petawawa to Ottawa. A VOICE FROM THE WEST.

S. W. Arthur Would Like To Attend Old Home Week.

The mayor on Monday morning received the following letter from S. W. Arthur of Redvers, Sask., relative to the old boys' celebration:

"Dear Sir:—Would enjoy being with the old boys in Kingston on the dates set. We have reason to be proud of the many qualities of character produced by the hills and lakes, the woods and air of Frontenac. These partake of brawn and brain. May her boys be found taking their full share of national responsibility whether in mart or farm or education. With best wishes for August."

SERVICE AT CAMP.

Dean Starr Preached To Sea Cadets On Sunday.

The Sea Cadet Camp was visited by Very Rev. Dean Starr on Sunday afternoon and he conducted a service for the boys at three o'clock. The dean gave a very fine talk to the boys, and his address was listened to with great attention. Mr. R. R. F. Her death took place on Sunday at Petaho, China. She had been a missionary in the Far East for some fifty years. It will be recalled that she and her husband visited Kingston three years ago.

Colborne Street Dog Fight.

About 11.30 o'clock Sunday night, the residents of upper Colborne street were awakened by a dog fight. The story goes that there are two dogs, a collie and an alreadale, who have been very hostile to each other for some time, and Sunday night when the dogs got into a fight the owners decided to let them fight it out and decide once and for all which was the better dog. For a half hour the dogs fought while scores of people looked on from their windows. Many wanted to stop the fight but it was impossible, as the dogs were determined to finish it. Finally one dog decided that it had enough, and it retreated with the other dog in full pursuit, and the people went back to their beds.

Boys Mark New Flag Pole.

Some boys, or perhaps young men, have a very peculiar idea of enjoyment. Not only have they marked and scratched the letter boxes, but the new flag pole at Macdonald Park has been shamefully marked with initials. Warning has been already issued to the boys who persist in spoiling the appearance of the letter boxes. The flag pole has not been up a week and yet there are the initials of at least ten persons on it.
