What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

AT THE CAPITOL

"His Supreme Moment" Proves a Red-Hot Romance.

Red-hot romance is the dominant keynote of "His Supreme Moment," the new First Nations picture now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

A young mining engineer falls in love with a successful Broadway actress. They attempt the unusual experiment of a platonic "trial marriage" in the wilds of South America, where the man's mining interests call him. A mutiny of the native miners ends in a thrilling night attack which the girl repels, and in which she saves the man from death in the burning mine buildings.

Despite their real love for one another, the trial marriage falls when another woman, who is also in love with the young engineer, arrives in South America and persuades them to abandon their venture. Back in New York, the actress resumes her place on the stage and the other woman almost persuades the man that he is in love with her. The dramatic solution of this tangled situation provides a powerful climax to a story through which romance is the theme throughout.

Blanche Sweet and Ronald Colman portray the New York actress and the mining engineer who experiment with love.

Which Opens at Queen's on Wednesday—Tagged to Get Acquainted.

On Tuesday morning registration opened at Queen's for the Summer School, classes in which begin on Wednesday, and a goodly number of students followed the typewritten instructions provided and found their way past the different tables to complete registration. Mr. Orville Ault, president of the Students' Summer School Association, awaited them at the exit to collect the Association's fee and tag them with their names, which they will wear for the next few days for the purpose of getting acquainted.

The Association also has several representatives to meet all the trains, both night and day, to welcome the incoming students and help them find their boarding houses.

Santa Barbara was hard at work clearing away the debris and preparing to rebuild almost before the last earthquake shocks had died away. Above, workmen are shown busy about the ruins of the San Marcos building, which had been one of the largest in the city. Below, they are tackling another mass of debris along State street, the main thoroughfare.

The Presbyterians Leave the Meeting

Church union on June 10th was responsible for an unusual break in the proceedings at the regular meeting of the Kingston Presbytery, which opened in Cooke's Church Sunday School hall on Tuesday afternoon. The moderator, Rev. J. W. Stephen, called the meeting to order about two o'clock. After devotional exercises, the clerk's letter calling the meeting was read and before any business had been transacted the Presbytery was declared dismissed. Mr. Stephen and the clerk, Rev. R. J. Craig, of Demorestville, with two others left the hall and it was understood that they were to meet again at St. Andrew's church. The remainder of the Presbytery, some fifteen in number, remained to open another meeting at three o'clock. One member stated that the notice was understood as two o'clock, standard time.

GENERAL HOSPITAL STRIKE IS SETTLED

The contractor gave the strikers more concessions than they requested.

The strike of the plumbers, painters and carpenters at the clinic building of the General Hospital has been settled, and the twenty-eight men returned to work Tuesday morning. John Fisher, agent for the local building trades, announces that Mr. Secord, the Toronto contractor, was "extremely fair," and not only acceded to the requests made by the plumbers and carpenters, but gave the latter more concessions than they had asked. The foreman in charge of the piping has returned to Galt. A Kingston man has been appointed foreman, and McKelvey & Birch will complete the piping work with union men. A carpenter has been put on the work of installing and bolting the seats.

SPORT

Unsatisfactory Finish.

Athens and Mallorytown ended their game on Saturday last with the latter protesting the umpire's decision after losing out by 7-6, the decision of the umpire costing them the run that won the game. It was the most exciting game played in the Front of Leeds County Baseball League this season.

Frontenacs Too Good.

A team composed of police and firemen met the Frontenac Regiment in a softball game on Monday evening, and while they gave the Frontenacs a good run, they were defeated by the soldiers by the score of 22-14. The teams:

Police and Firemen — Mills, Christmas, Payne, Saunders, Polite, Boaprey, Brightman, McQueen, Merritt, Patterson.

Frontenac Regiment — DesRosters, Eccles, O'Reilly, Watts, Coraillus, Murray, Vanalstine, Robertson, Dixon, Montgomery, Van Elvery.

SECOND HALF OF SCHEDULE DRAWN

Billy Evans to Manage Local Entry—Play at Cricket Field.

The St. Lawrence Baseball League met at Gananoque on Monday evening for the purpose of drawing up the schedule of games for the second half of the season. Among the matters that demanded attention were the business discussed was the request of Napanee to use Richardson of Tamworth on the Napanee lineup and also players from Deseronto. As there is no intermediate team in either of these places, and Napanee is the nearest centre, permission was granted.

Permission was also granted the Brockville club to play a series of exhibition games with teams and it was decided that the president of the League, Mr. James Kane, should appoint qualified umpires when the home team failed to supply a competent umpire-in-chief.

It was announced that Billy Evans, would take over the Management of the Kingston team from now on and a practice was called for this evening after the junior game.

It was also decided that Kingston games would be played at the Cricket Field instead of at the Fair Grounds until the plan has been thoroughly tried. If the public responds heartily enough, the games will continue to be played at the Cricket Field but if not, then the intermediates will return to the Fair Grounds.

The standing in the St. Lawrence League for the first half was as follows at the close:

FRANK WHITEHOUSE NOT SUCH A PUZZLE

Great Support by His Team-mates Responsible for the Victory.

Referring to the game on Saturday in which the Kingston team was defeated by Peterboro by the score of 7-3, the Peterboro Examiner says in part:

"Whitehouse allowed eleven hits but he kept them well scattered, did not issue a complimentary and his team-mates gave him gilt-edged support when errors would have been costly, their two minor misplays having no effect on the score. The young left-hander has beaten the Ponies three times this season and with any luck in his first start at Kingston might have made it four straight.

"Opposed to Whitehouse was the veteran Ted Gallagher, whose south-paw offerings did not prove particularly puzzling to the homesters and who was the victim of some costly misplays by his comrades, particularly in the third inning when Ray Rose's long double with the bases full gave the Pates three runs after the side should have been retired.

In addition Gallagher slipped in several wild pitches that were helpful to the home talent.

"The game was unusually prolific in outstanding fielding plays with the two shortstops, Halbert and Johnston supplying the circus features. Halbert started the fireworks staff by leaping into the air and grabbing Swanton's screaming drive with his gloved hand, and later in the game Johnston made a similar sensational play, robbing Temple of a hit by dragging down his liner with one hand after jumping for the ball. Cherry, the Ponies' big centre fielder came in fast and cut Whitehouse out of a hit by a diving catch rolling over but coming up with the ball, while Wolfe went back and made

Present One at Cricket Field Is Quite Dangerous

Many fans have been wondering why the screen in front of the press box at the Cricket Field has not been repaired or a new one put there. It is very dangerous to have the screen in its present condition which was shown when a young boy was struck in the eye by a batted ball at Monday night's game.
