THE LATE JAMES CLARK.

He Was Worthy and Esteemed Resident of Cherry Valley. On Tuesday, June 30th, the death of James Clark, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Athol township, Prince Edward county, occurred after only two days illness. Although Mr. Clark was in his eightieth year, and had been failing in health for some time, he had been able to continue his work almost to the last. All his life he had followed the calling of a fisherman and it seemed fitting that his last call should come while busily engaged at his life's work.

He had been staying at Salmon Point light house and died there right at the scene of the labors of a life time. James Clark was born in Lennox county where his parents, who came Drumfries, Scotland, settled on their arrival in Canada. When he was a small boy the family moved to Salmon Point where the father followed his trade as blacksmith. He died some years ago.

After James Clark's marriage to Amanda Spafford they settled at Salmon Point. Mr. Clark engaging in fishing and farming. During recent years they had spent part of the time in Picton, returning to the farm and fishing for the summer.

James Clark was a man of exceptionally fine character. To few men is it given to gain in so great a degree the universal respect and esteem of all who knew him. Early in life he joined the Methodist church, and through all the years, he continued a steadfast and consistent member and worker. For many years he was the superintendent of the Salmon Point Sunday school. He was a local preacher and his work in this capacity was always most acceptable. He was gifted with unusual ability as a public speaker, and his personal life added the weight of a worthy example.

Surviving are his wife and one son, William, who is Overseer of Game and Fisheries for Prince Edward County. One son, Lewis, died in Lowell, Mass., in February last. The funeral was held at Salmon Point church, on Thursday, July 2nd, a large congregation gathering to do honor to the memory of one they had learned to love. Manly Duesta, South Bay, was the preacher. Interment at Cherry Valley.

Rains Enhance Crops.

Macleod, Alta., July 24.—The whole crop situation in southern Alberta is improving hourly to-day as a steady downpour of rain is falling over the whole wheat-growing area from Medicine Hat to the Rocky Mountains.

Late though it is, the moisture will add millions of bushels to the crop and make feed where the protracted drought had done deadly work.

It began raining at four o'clock at Taber, where rain was desperately needed and the moisture seems to be general. It rained practically all night.

JOINT CONFERENCE OVER THE COAL STRIKE

London, July 24.—Late this afternoon it was announced that a representative of the British coal miners and mine owners would meet in joint conference on July 29th. This is the first successful move toward averting a threatened British Coal Strike.

MANY CAN SUGGEST HOW TO USE FORTUNE

Leopold Schopp Has Received Hundreds of Letters and Telegrams.

New York, July 24.—By telegraph and telephone, by mail and in person, thousands besieged Leopold Schopp, millionaire manufacturer of coconut products and philanthropist, and struggled to tell him through what channels he might expend the money which he had announced he will distribute for charity.

Yesterday, not realizing what a whirlwind he was to reap, Schopp announced that he planned to distribute most of his millions and sought counsel from the public as to the best means of doing it. He sought help—and to-day he received upwards of 8,000 offers of it.

Schopp was astonished by the great response to his simple announcement that he was about to quit business and go into philanthropy. His principal objections to the tide of publicity that engulfed him were statements in some of the papers that he is 85 and their characterization of him as the "coconut king."

"I am not the coconut king," he announced with some heat, "and I don't want to be called that. And I'm not 85; I'm 83. That's old enough."

PARENTS INDIGNANT WHEN PUPILS FAIL

Trustees Forced to Abolish Kindergarten and Lighten Principal's Load.

Havelock, July 24.—Because so few pupils passed the entrance examination this year the school board was forced by public opinion last night to make changes in its system, chief among them being the relieving of the principal and the abolition of a kindergarten. A public meeting of citizens will be held on Thursday night to further consider the case.

Last term Principal Yuill had 55 pupils in his room, being required to teach junior fourth as well as entrance candidates. Next term the number will be reduced to 38. The stir was caused by the failure of all but nine of 35 candidates to pass the entrance examination, and of those nine, four were passed only after special and liberal consideration, the inspector said.

Woman Kept Out of Hotel Because She Had a Dog

Chicago, July 24.—Millicent, dowager duchess of Sutherland, widow of one of the largest land owners in Europe, was refused admittance at the Blackstone hotel. Finko, a tiny Pekinese dog, was the cause. When the duchess registered at the hotel she was told that she would have to send the dog to the basement kennels of the hotel. Smilingly, the former leader of London society, moved on to another hotel where there is no such harsh rule against the chow.

The duchess is on her way to Toronto, fresh from Hollywood, Calif. She is just completing a trip around the world.

Toronto Women Hurt. Victoria, B.C., July 24.—Miss Blanche Burton and Miss J. Arnold, of Toronto, are in the Jubilee Hospital here suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident when six ladies, occupants of a car, were hurled over an embankment on the Malahat Highway, a distance of fifty feet.

The car turned over several times, and its fall was checked by trees which prevented it from plunging another 150 feet into water below. Miss Dorothy Burton, of Toronto, was badly bruised.

Floods in Colorado.

Trinidad, Colo., July 24.—A flood in the Purgatoire river which swept away half a dozen bridges and inundated parts of the business and residential districts of Trinidad caused approximately $100,000 damage last night.

The river, which divides the city, was still swollen to-day although danger of another flood had practically passed. No injuries or loss of life were reported, although definite reports from outlying agricultural communities are lacking.

Killed At Cobourg.

Cobourg, Ont., July 24.—Clifford George, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William George of Toronto, was instantly killed about five miles east of here at noon yesterday, his neck being broken and his head crushed when he was run over by one of the gravel motor trucks of the Paving and Mastic Company of Toronto, which was drawing gravel for the paving of the Cobourg and Grafton highway.

A Big Fire.

Prince Rupert, B.C., July 23.—Fire which broke out in a Japanese residence last night, destroyed about one-third of the town of Port Essington, near the mouth of Skeena river, and a few miles south of Prince Rupert before it was brought under control.

Col. Constantine Here.

Col. Constantine, the new commandant of the Royal Military College, arrived in the city on Thursday, from Glace Bay. He will take over his new office on August 1st.

Fur trader from north at Prince Albert, Sask., says Eskimos resorted to cannibalism in famine last winter. Home grown duchess cooking apples 50c basket at Carnovsky's.
