The Work of the Eyes

The human eye is a miracle of efficiency if normal. But it is the cause of numberless undesirable conditions if abnormal. And the sad truth is that most eyes are abnormal to some extent. Abnormal eyes mean strained eyes, and strained eyes mean headaches and a dozen other troubles. Nothing but glasses can make abnormal eyes function normally. Give your eyes proper attention by having them looked after here.

NEWSPAPER FUN

By Maxson Foxhall Judell

Haven't You Noticed, Folks? Fiction at its worst, we say. The folders hotels give away. You walk three miles or go without The "lake view" that they rave about!

Better Yet.

Albert: "Gertie is good looking enough to make any man drive his car with one hand. How about Anita?"
Roland: "Oh, she'll make any man put on the brakes and park his car!"

CONVERTED.

By William D. Barnhart. I've sent for six insurance men To figure out for me How many shekels, bucks, and yen A first-class policy Will cost me on my worthless life. For I'm afraid I'll die. And I don't want to leave my wife In poverty to sigh.

Up to the present time I'd scoff At all insurance men; With loud guffaw I'd drive them off. And say: "Don't come again!" "There is no danger," I would cry. "That I will have to play Upon a harp up in the sky; Go chase yourselves away!" I hope the doctor will not find That I am much too fat, Or have a tumor in my mind, A cancer on my slat. I'm worried lately for I puff And daily lose my breath; If I keep reading Fun Shop stuff I'll laugh myself to death!

A Business Man.

Brown: "That clerk hasn't a cent to his name, but he doesn't forget the business as soon as the office is closed and some day he'll hold a big interest in it."
Harris: "He must have a head on his shoulders."
Brown: "Yes—the boss's daughter's."

She Caught Him.

Dore: "So Bea and Vic are engaged? How did he happen to fall for her?"
Eugene: "His tongue slipped."
—Gertrude Marie Heller.

Logic.

The doctor had been called for to attend the sick child. Immediately upon his arrival he naturally asked her to stick out her tongue.
"I'm not mad at you," she said, refusing.
—Martha Kassel.

A Creditable Affair.

"My dear," he said, "you look superb. To any man a credit! You'll be the reigning belle to-night!"
And kissed her as he said it.
"My love, I'm glad you like my clothes."
(With beating heart she said it):
"Because this party gown and wrap are also to your credit."
—Christina Hume.

Both Sides.

Farmer Kohr: "I don't see what you see in tractors. Mules are good enough for me. You never see a mule stop dead still in the middle of the field because he's out of gas."
Farmer Griffin: "And you never

Rheumatic Pains Go Quickly With Old Time Remedy

First Day's Treatment in Many Cases Relieves All Pain.

New remedies spring up every day, but most of them do not last long and it is the old-time remedies that have stood the test of long trial which are the best in the end.

For rheumatic pains there is nothing that makes them disappear more quickly than the old-time scientific combination called Rheuma. Thousands have given grateful testimony to the almost instant relief which Rheuma has given them from the torturing pains, in many cases after the very first treatment.

Rheuma is known everywhere for its wonderful effects and if you suffer from rheumatism in any form, you owe it to yourself to try it. Rheuma is sold by James B. McLeod, and other good druggists with a guarantee of absolute satisfaction or your money refunded.

Only an old-time remedy that has been successful over a period of years could make such a liberal guarantee. Don't suffer any longer, get a bottle of Rheuma to-day.

HEARD AN EXPONENT OF TEMPERANCE SPEAK

Mrs. L. C. McKinney of Claresholm, Alta., Talks to Old Friends

Athens, July 23.—Mrs. Louise C. McKinney, Claresholm, Alta., an outstanding exponent of temperance and all that makes for the uplift of the race, occupied the pulpit of the United Church on Sabbath evening last in the absence of the pastor, who is spending a month at Butternut Bay. A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crummy, Mrs. McKinney was born near Frankville, and was graduated as a teacher from our local high school. After teaching for a short time in neighboring schools, she went to Dakota where her sister resides and taught there for a while. Later she married James McKinney and for many years they and their son, Willard, have resided at Claresholm. At one time Mrs. McKinney was elected to a seat in the Alberta legislature, and is repeatedly sent as delegate to conventions and meetings of national and international importance. For the Sabbath evening's discourse, she chose as text, Romans 8:28. "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God." She said in part, "Personal testimony carries great weight; Christian testimony carries great weight. Perhaps we are getting away from it too much, these days. 'Know' implies firm assurance, no assumption but a great fundamental truth, so come sickness or health, come poverty or wealth, come power or abasement—it matters not; all things work together for good to the Christian. Just as the seed contains the potentialities of the future harvest, and storms as well as sunshine are necessary for the perfection of the fruitage so individuals possess latent powers and abilities capable of development to a marvellous extent and adverse circumstances, as well as the congenial are imperative. God needs human instrumentalities to carry out His divine plan. He has a place and a use for each in His all-wise providence."

About thirty-one members of Gananoque Golf and Country Club motored to Brockville on Wednesday afternoon and enjoyed a friendly match on the links there. Child Still Missing. Donald Morrow, aged four, of Alexandria Bay, N.Y., missing since July 16th, is still being hunted for. The river has been thoroughly dragged without result. A new clue is given by an Oswego lady who writes that on the date mentioned, on the Alexandria Bay-Clayton highway, she passed a child on the road. He hailed her.
