Official Opening of Kingston's Motor Camp At Lake Ontario Park on Monday Evening

Kiwanis Club Presents Camp With Sixty-foot Steel Flag Pole, Union Jack and an Attractive Sign Board.

The official opening of Kingston's new motor camp at Lake Ontario Park took place Monday evening. It was the occasion for the Kingston Kiwanis Club to present to the camp a sixty-foot steel flag-pole, a large Union Jack and an attractive sign-board advertising prominent Kingston merchants. The Club held its meeting at the Park and the ceremonies followed supper in the pavilion.

The flag-pole has been erected on the crest of the hill overlooking the lake and the bay with Sandy Bottom in the distance. It is said that the flag can be seen from the Bath Road. The large sign-board is nearby.

About one hundred guests, including many ladies (as it was Ladies' Night) sat down to supper in the pavilion. An excellent repast, cold chicken being a feature, was served by Caterers Arneil and Hambrook. President William Moore was in the chair, and Garnet Lockett and Dr. Jack Broom led in the singing. Duets by the president and Matthew Hanson, and by W. Y. Mills and Mayor Angrove were immensely enjoyed. An excellent boost was put on by Stewart Crawford, of "Good Things to Eat" fame. The twelve prizes of pots of jam, etc., were won by the ladies. Mayor Angrove, H. D. Wightman, secretary of the Kingston Automobile Club, and Mrs. Wightman, were welcome guests.

At 7.30 the Club adjourned to the motor camp for the opening ceremonies, to which the public had been invited. In a short address President Moore reviewed the history of the camp and described what the Kiwanis Club had done in the way of the flag-pole, flag and sign-board. That the camp had proven to be immensely popular was shown by the attendance figures. Up to date 756 cars had stopped at the camp. They averaged four persons each, bringing the total of visitors to nearly three thousand. The many autos from many states, drawn up about the camp, amidst tents and other varieties of shelter, testified to Mr. Moore's remarks.

The gift of the flag-pole, etc., was received on behalf of the Kingston Automobile Club by Kiwanian W. Y. Mills, a director of the motor club, who thanked the Kiwanians for the interest their club had shown in the camp. The Union Jack would extend a hearty British welcome to Kingston's American guests.

Mayor Angrove was then called on. On behalf of the people of Kingston he thanked the Kiwanis Club for what they had done for the city in the past three years, mentioning particularly their looking after the poor in the winter. Then he raised the flag.

President Moore asked if any American visitors would like to speak and Kiwanian L. Tucker, of St. Petersburg, Fla., responded. He was very pleased to be present at such a ceremony and he brought greetings from the club of his distant city to the Kingston Kiwanis Club. President Moore replied by extending greetings to the St. Petersburg Club. The National Anthem was then sung.

The Kiwanians and their lady friends then adjourned to the pavilion for the concluding item of the evening, dancing.

THE COMMON WEEDS CAUSE OF SUFFERING

Give Many People Hay Fever They Should be Early Destroyed.

Hay fever is a catarrhal affection of the mucous membrane of the upper respiratory tract. It is a condition of hypersensitiveness to pollen proteins and is produced primarily by the breathing in of wind borne pollens.

The development of hay fever about haying time led to the belief that hay was the cause of this condition and it was not until 1870 that the relation of pollen to hay fever was established.

Investigators are now largely agreed that while there are many plants whose pollen may cause hay fever when applied to the nostrils, only those pollens which float in the air and can reach the nostrils in the course of all normal breathing are responsible for this condition.

It appears also that hay fever in different individuals varies not only in degree but also in the character of the sensitivity. Although wind borne pollen is so widely distributed that the mucus membranes of every person come in contact with it, yet only those who are sensitized develop hay fever.

Also, there are people who are sensitive to the pollen of the rag weed and are not sensitive to the pollen of grasses. Other people react to the pollen of wormwood but are not sensitive to the pollen of grasses and rag weed. There are still others who react in various degrees to all of these pollens.

Since the fact is now generally well established that hay fever is caused by the breathing in of wind borne pollens only, certain flowers and plants hitherto considered on the hay fever blacklist may now be restored to popular favor.

Those plants and flowers which are pollinated by certain insects, such as the goldenrod, the honeysuckle, the lily of the valley, the daisy, the chrysanthemum and the rose, are no longer considered to be important causative factors in hay fever. The disturbing groups are trees, grasses, goose-foots, amarantus, docks, rag weeds and wormwoods.

The type of hay fever which begins in April and extends through May, June and July, is probably caused principally by the pollens of the grasses. In the east, red top is sometimes the offender but more particularly timothy and June grass. In the middle west, June grass and sweet vernal grass are the principal hay fever producers during these months.

Summer hay fever, which begins in June and extends through July and August, to September, is caused largely by the goose-foots, docks and amarantus. These groups are minor causes of hay fever in many states but are important principal causes of hay fever in some.

The type of hay fever which begins in August and continues until the first frost is caused largely by the pollen from the rag weed, which is found in nearly all sections of the country.

Investigations would tend to show that the most severe cases of spring hay fever occurring in the eastern part of the country are caused largely by the pollen of timothy. It has been estimated that between 80 and 90 per cent. of the cases of hay fever that occur in the east are caused in the spring by the pollen of timothy and in the fall by the pollen of rag weed.

When we realize the very considerable number of people affected with hay fever and the great suffering which it entails, we can appreciate the importance of concerted efforts to prevent this disease. The first important step in the work of prevention is the education of the public in the responsibility of the pollens of certain weeds for causing hay fever. When the public realizes that the common weeds are the cause of suffering to many people who may be living at a distance it will view these weeds from a new angle and will make use of one of the many ways of destroying them or at least preventing them from reaching the stage of pollination.
