SEEKERS PREDICTS REPUBLIC IN BRITAIN

New York Astrologer Says British Monarchy Will Pass in Three Years.

London, Aug. 15.—"Interrogation of the Heavens," ir-wich Miss Belle Bart, a New York astrologist, specializes, has just revealed an amazing future for Great Britain, which includes nothing less than a British Republic, with Lloyd George and Churchill at its head.

Miss Bart, who is director of the New York Academy of Astrology, has just arrived in London to read the horoscopes of politicians. From the latter, her advance information shows the following world-stirring events in store for Great Britain:

Lloyd George will come back. Stanley Baldwin, British Premier, will not. Ramsay MacDonald might—but only for a short time. Winston Churchill has come to stay. Lord Balfour will be powerful until his dying day.

England will abolish free speech Sept. 29th this year, and the British Republic will dawn in 1928 with Lloyd George and Churchill at its head.

The British Republic will be the eventual result of a coal strike, according to Miss Bart, who says that on Dec. 14th, 1925, there will be an open conflict in the coal industry. A strike is inevitable, though it might be modified by the actions of a man at present not in the public eye, but the power behind the Throne.

REFUSED A BRIBE OF MILLION DOLLARS

To Abandon St. Lawrence Plans—Eck Was a People's Man.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—The Telegram says: "Persecution and opposition from selfish interests constantly beset the path of the late Sir Adam Beck in his work of building up for the people of Ontario the great public owned power system that they now possess.

"Not only were obstacles of all kinds put in his way by politicians and private corporations, but other and even more reprehensible means were attempted in the effort to get him to abandon his efforts to secure and retain the water powers of the province for the municipalities and the province for the benefit of the homes and the industries of the province.

"Huge money offers were made to him at various times by direct and Indirect methods on behalf of principles whose identity was not disclosed but could be pretty accurately guessed at.

"Not many months before he died Sir Adam told a newspaper friend in strict confidence of one, perhaps the biggest bribe, offered to him. It was for a cool million dollars, and was to be his if he would abandon his efforts to get control of the gigantic power resources on the St. Lawrence and let private corporations get control of this vast storehouse of wealth.

"The offer was made to Sir Adam in his apartment on University avenue just about a year ago. The money, he was told, would be forthcoming in whatever manner and at whatever time he desired.

"The offer was turned down fast.
