CITY AND DISTRICT

Attended the Funeral.
Principal R. Bruce Taylor was in Belleville on Tuesday, attending the funeral of the late Lady Parker.

Appointed Blacksmith.
The Canada Gazette notes the permanent appointment by the Department of Justice of Henry N. Torrens as industrial guard blacksmith at Portsmouth.

Field Secretary Here.
Mr. Wilfred Bolan, Field Secretary for the Ontario Prohibition Union, was in Kingston on Tuesday conferring with some of the leaders in the prohibition movement here.

A Cause for Long Life.
Mrs. D. H. Sager, an eighty-three year old resident of Ameliasburg, is one of the Belleville Ontario's oldest subscribers. Mrs. Sager began taking the paper sixty years ago.

Yachting Circles Quiet.
The busy season at the Yacht Club has ceased and things are very quiet. Few of the local boats are out these days and the number of outside boats visiting here are also few.

Boy's Wheel Smashed.
A young boy had his bicycle badly smashed up Tuesday evening when he ran into a big rock at the foot of Johnson street. The front rim broke in two, destroying the tire and tube and necessitating the buying of a new front wheel.

Transferred to Brockville.
Wilfred Hourigan was removed to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, on Monday evening from the Mowat Memorial Hospital. While his condition is serious, he stood the trip well and his friends are hopeful for his complete recovery.

The Lawyers Were Late.
Justice Logie opened the Fall Assizes sharp on time, but was held up for lack of lawyers. Later it was discovered that a witness was late. Said his Lordship, "Things progress evenly and quietly in Kingston. Nobody seems to hurry."

Boys Still Swim.
Despite the rather cool weather, there are some young boys who have not given up swimming yet. Nearly every day after school, they take their dip at the bathing house, but they will soon be deprived of this privilege as it will not be long till the bathing house is closed.

Not Concerned Much.
Through the downpour of rain walked a young man down Princess street Tuesday evening, whistling "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More." He certainly was very optimistic about it and everybody hopes his song will turn out to be true the next few days.

Pigs Plastered With Mud.
One county resident who has an exhibit of pigs at the Kingston fair, stated that the judges who made their inspection on Wednesday had trouble on telling whether the pigs were black or white as they were plastered with mud.

The Palace Leaked.
Although a portion of the roof of the palace at the fair grounds was shingled during the summer, it did not stop the rain from coming through. The directors in charge were surprised to find that the water came through the roof and wet some of the pictures on exhibition in the art exhibit.

Fans Disappointed.
Some of the football fans are sadly disappointed because they are refused the liberty of seeing the Queen's gridiron warriors in practice. However, the railbirds will see plenty of action in the first game.

here. Queen's will have to be regular wizards to be any better than they have been is the local fans' opinion.

Passed Away in Brooklyn.
Mrs. George W. Geddes, a former well known and estimable resident of Brockville and Lyn, passed away on Sunday at her home in Brooklyn, N. Y., aged ninety-one years.

O You Weather Man!
Owing to the wet weather, the half holiday arranged for the school children on Wednesday afternoon, to attend the fair, was cancelled. The children will be given Friday afternoon to attend the exhibition.

Burial of Mrs. Catherine Grant.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Catherine Grant took place on Tuesday morning from her late residence, Wolfe Island, to the Sacred Heart Church, where a solemn requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father M. James. The funeral was under the direction of M. P. Keyes, undertaker, and the pall-bearers were M. Johnson, R. McCready, Joseph McKenna, James Dabis, Edward Griffin and George Rogers.

A Native of Campbellford.
Col. G. Hunter Oglivie, sergeant-at-arms at the Parliament buildings, Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Oglivie visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hume, Campbellford. The colonel is a native of Campbellford, a member of one of the pioneer families, and he received his early education in the public and high schools here.

Death of Mrs. J. W. Down.
Mrs. (Rev.) J. W. Down, Tyrone, after a painful illness, passed away Wednesday. The interment took place at Riverview cemetery, Napanee, on Friday. Napanee friends and those on the Selby, Bay and Yarker charges, where Mr. and Mrs. Down spent happy pastorates, feel the deepest sympathy with Mr. Down and his family in their bereavement.

Golden Wedding Event.
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Reid, 90 Mayfair avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, who, on Tuesday, quietly celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Reid (now retired) has been associated with the Sun Life Assurance Company for the past thirty-eight years. He is a nephew of the late Sir Mackenzie Bowell, ex-Premier of Canada.

Myron J. Chesebro, Picton, Dead.
Myron J. Chesebro, a resident of Picton for years, passed away on Sept. 5th. Although his illness was a lingering one death came suddenly at the end. Mr. Chesebro was born in Syracuse sixty-nine years ago. He was employed in the Boulter factory, the very first canning factory in Prince Edward county. For five years he was at Hillier factory. During the war he was sent to British Columbia and finally to Winnipeg where his health broke down. He never regained his former vitality. Mr. Chesebro married the widow of Henry R. Pope who survives him, together with one brother, James, Ringhampton, N.Y.

THE REDESIGNED FORD RUNABOUT
Exhibit at the Kingston Fair Grounds on Wednesday and Thursday.

The improved model Runabout portable. The windshield is of plate glass, and of the double ventilating type, and a windshield wiper is standard equipment.
The body is absolutely new in design. Strictly speaking, the complete model is not new, for the Model T chassis, though possessing many improvements, is still basically the same as that adopted in 1908.
The new body is all-steel and finished in baked black enamel. The body lines are a continuous sweep from the radiator cap to the spare tire carrier, giving a wonderful stream-line effect. The doors open forward and are wider than before, and the storm curtains are on uprights, opening with the doors. The seat has been completely redesigned, with an emphasized bucket appearance, and is a great deal more comfortable.
The rear deck has been completely altered. It now extends the full width of the car and well over the rear spring. The fenders are bolted to the body and the compartment is deep and long. It is absolutely water and dust-proof and is equipped with a good lock. Hidden channels carry rain and moisture leakage to the ground. Concealed, rust-proof hinges lock automatically when the long, shapely lid is opened, and must be unlocked by hand when closing the compartment.
The chassis is lower, as also is the body. New crown fenders, wider and closer to the ground, and broad, low running boards add a refined finishing touch to an excellent car.
