CHILDREN'S WEEK.

Sept. 27th to Oct. 3rd — Opening Meetings on Sunday.

The great need of the present time is not for more railroads, or for more steamships, or more factories or more cities, but for more character. To develop the character we must start in the home, school and church when children are young.

Such a success was the children's week of last year that the Sunday schools of the city have again enthusiastically united and hope to make the events of the week bigger and better than before.

One week of the fifty-two devoted to bettering conditions for more effective religious education of children—this is the children's week idea. It includes automobile drives, parties and special movies for the children, but the aim of the week is not children's entertainment but the inspiration and education of the adults in whose hands lies the well-being of children. Its endeavor is to shake Sunday school teachers out of their ruts of complacency, or dependency or inadequacy; to make the children see that the Sunday school is a real, live institution; to strengthen the hearts of parents so that they will not neglect their children's interests and needs; and to clarify the vision of all men and women whose fingers on the strings of church money-bags, or whose votes on church committees, determine the children's chance of adequate religious education.

Sunday, Sept. 27th, being the first day, special services for children and parents are to be held in the various churches. Another most interesting feature of the week is the Wednesday night community
