WEDDINGS.

Long-Laird.

Autumn flowers and palms decked St. Anne's Church, Toronto, for the marriage at 6 o'clock last Wednesday evening of Elizabeth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Laird, formerly of Kingston, to Mr. Herbert James Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long, Toronto. Rev. Canon Skye officiated. The bride wore white georgette and lace over white satin and her tulle veil adorned with orange blossoms was arranged with a fan-shaped frill. She carried Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaids were Miss Jean Laird in blue georgette and Miss Ada Long in peach. Both wore black velvet hats and carried roses. Mr. Gordon Long was best man and the ushers were Mr. George Long and Mr. Ross Laird. During the signing of the register, Miss Vera Wilkinson sang. At the reception afterwards, Mrs. Laird wore brown crepe with a brown panne velvet hat, Mrs. Long wore navy blue georgette trimmed with brown-fox and black velvet hat with burnt peacock feather. Both carried pink roses. When leaving for New York the bride wore brown crepe and hat to match and a beige fox fur, the gift of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Long will reside on Christie street.

Mrs. Ryan, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Frank Irwin, Kingston, her aunt, were among the out-of-town guests.

That the only way to make sure your name is on the voters list is to go and see if it is there. If you want to use your franchise, and every voter should feel their responsibility in this matter, it is foolish to wait until the last minute if there is any doubt about your name being on the list.

That the woods are full of beauty just now, and of a wonderful stillness and a brooding that seems to speak of the coming of winter. Now and then a leaf falls quietly with a faint rustling sound, a squirrel chatters over his winter store, not yet completed, and the chick-a-dees call cheerfully to each other. The robins and their cousins the thrushes are with us still and some of the birds going southward for the winter are seen picknicking on the berries or insects. At the edge of the wood a drift of purple shows us where the Michaelmas daisies are fulfilling their promise of being with us for St. Michael and All Angel's Day, Sept. 29th. Deep red rose haws are gleaming in the sunshine and the late golden rod is still brightening the roadside.

That a lady living near Kingston found several truffles in her flower garden when she was transplanting her flowers. These dainties, so prized by gourmands and cultivated in France to sell at a large price, are seldom found in Canada.

That the newest thing as regards the silhouette is the flare at the back only, and this is, more or less a freak fashion, but it's part, however, of a general tendency to drape and decorate or give importance to the backs of garments and evening frocks show this tendency by displaying a new high-in-front, low-at-back neckline; there are many bows at the backs of necks and waists.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By Laura A. Kirkman.

NEW DISHES THIS WEEK. TOMORROW'S MENU.

- Breakfast: Bananas, Cereal, Boiled Eggs, Coffee, Toast. Luncheon: Baked Macaroni and Cheese, Lettuce Salad, Jelly, Tea. Dinner: Fried Liver and Onions, Mashed Potatoes, Squash, Baked Peach Pudding, Coffee.

Baked Peach Pudding: Scald one pint of sweet milk in the top of a double boiler and thicken it with three tablespoons of cornstarch powder mixed with four tablespoons of granulated sugar. Now add two beaten egg-yolks and stir well. Remove the pot from the fire and flavor with one teaspoon of lemon extract. Turn this hot mixture at once over one pint of fresh, ripe or canned peaches in a baking dish (measured after the peaches have been stoned, peeled and cut small) then top all with a meringue made by beating the two egg-whites stiff with a pinch of cream of tartar and two tablespoons of sugar. Slip the dish into a moderate oven for 12 minutes to brown the meringue. Serve cold.

Boudans: To one pint of chopped left-over meat add two tablespoons of dry breadcrumbs, one-half pint of clear soup or canned chicken soup, one-half teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, one tablespoon of butter, one tablespoon of flour and two beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly, then half fill buttered muffin pans with the mixture and slip the pans into a medium oven for about 15 minutes. Serve hot with tomato catsup.

Tuna Baked Dish: Cut cold boiled potatoes in large chunks and put these in the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Thicken one cup of hot, sweet milk with two tablespoons of flour and season with a little salt, pepper and butter, then add to this white sauce one can of tuna fish; blend well, then turn the creamed fish over the potatoes in the dish. Cover all with a thick layer of dry bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter, and place the pan in a hot oven for eight minutes to become very hot. The crumbs should be a golden brown when served.

Dark Chocolate Cake: (Contributed by Mrs. F.) Dissolve one-half cake of unsweetened chocolate in one cup of boiling water. Cream one tablespoon of butter with one cup of granulated sugar, add the beaten yolk of one egg, then add the dissolved chocolate. Sift one teaspoon of baking powder with one and one-half cups of bread flour and one teaspoon of soda and add this dry mixture to the first mixture. Flavor the batter with one teaspoon of vanilla and turn it into a greased loaf cake pan to bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with an ordinary unsweetened chocolate, being made with confectioners' sugar. Tomorrow—Answers to Inquiries.

No irritation for baby's skin. Do this and keep his clothing soft, pure and comfortable. Nothing is so sensitive as baby's skin! Even the slightest roughness in his diapers, shirts and bands will inflame and irritate it. Much trouble is directly due to washing diapers with harsh soap—soap containing free alkali. The alkali clings to the little garments in the form of a fine, white powder—almost impossible to rinse out. This causes "diaper rash." To save baby's skin, use Lux for washing all his clothes. It is the mildest, purest, gentlest cleanser in the world. Lux contains no free alkali, and the pure suds rinse out completely. Lux keeps baby's garments soft, clean, comfortable and safe.
