After Forty-Three Years and Views Many Changes.

Gananogue, Sept. 26.—There passed through Gananogue a couple of days ago Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Jones, the latter was at one time a resident of Gananogue, but had not been here for forty-three years. Mr. and Mrs. Jones were motoring, and many of the places Mrs. Jones wanted particularly to see had either disappeared entirely or had changed beyond recognition. She had worshipped at the old M.E. church which stood where W. V. Bulloch's beautiful residence is located, though the house where she had lived, the stone one west of the King street school, looked the same, though few others. Mrs. Jones' maiden name was Blanche Forshay, and will probably be remembered by some of the citizens. Her husband is president and treasurer of the Ridge Fuel and Supply Co., Chicago. Mrs. Jones had recollected that there was a big white hotel on a corner and told that it was still functioning, she and her husband went to the Brophy House for dinner.
