A Tradition of the Sea

SEA-FARING men have known the house-keeping of Cunard for eighty-five years. Ever since the days of the old China clippers, they have seen it riding proudly on the high seas—standing for all that is highest and best in ocean passenger traffic—safety, comfort, pleasure and courteous, efficient attention to the travellers' welfare.

When you go to Europe, add to the advantage of Cunard Service the pleasure and educational interest of a trip down the majestic and historic St. Lawrence River by choosing the Cunard Canadian Route.

Ask your local steamship agent for particulars and sailing dates, or write to—

"We sell the 'catch' —by telephone!"

"The telephone has been the most important factor in building up the fresh fish business." Fishing is Canada's second basic industry.

"Impossible without Long Distance"

"Now we get reports every evening from captains of trawlers perhaps 120 miles out, stating how many pounds of each kind of fish have been caught. When the catch is sufficient we order the boats in."

"Hours before the streak of smoke appears on the horizon, we have given the crew instructions for packing. When the trawler reaches the dock everything is ready for the express train. In 48 hours the fish are delivered to the retailer as far west as Toronto—and 36 hours later in Winnipeg. Without Long Distance this would be impossible."

"THE telephone, wireless, and express refrigerator service have made the fresh fish business possible"—says the President of our leading Canadian fisheries.

"Long Distance brings all the buyers of the continent right into our offices and we can speak familiarly and personally with them. Within an hour or so most of the 'catch' is sold."

Long Distance has reduced the cost of distributing practically all food products.

Are you using the telephone to reduce costly delays? Your telephone message travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second—and brings you an immediate answer.

HOW THE TELEPHONE IS BUILDING UP BUSINESS (from letters in our files)

"Our travellers report sales and get quotations every day by Long Distance."—Fish Merchant.
"Only by using Long Distance can we get late enough reports on market conditions."—Fish Merchant.
"The bulk of our sales are made by Long Distance."—Fish Merchant.
