OPENING MACK STREET TO BE CONSIDERED

Question Before the Board of Works and Matter Will Be Subject to a Report.

The question of opening up Mack street, was brought before the Board of Works on Wednesday afternoon by Ald. Reid, and after some discussion, it was decided to have Ald. Reid and City Engineer Dick ascertain what action will be necessary for the opening of the street, and report to the Board. It is hoped to have this report ready for the next meeting of the Board.

Engineer Dick drew the attention of the Board to the dangerous condition of a culvert on Hickson avenue, and he was authorized to make the necessary repairs.

The Board decided to construct a new cement walk on the east side of Ontario street, between Princess and Brock street.

On motion of Ald. Holder, the Imperial Oil Company was granted permission to erect a gasoline tank on their property, at the corner of King and Princess streets. The entire installation will be on the company's property.

No action was taken on the application of L. Bird, to erect a gasoline tank at 147 Brock street, on city property.

George Bawden wrote the Board, stating that the present system of parking cars on Montreal street, between Brock and Princess street interfered with his business. The matter was referred to the chief of police.

The engineer will report on the application of Peter Devlin, for permission to erect a portico on his residence at 44 William street. Similar action was taken on the application of Luke Whelan, to construct a portico at 87 Wellington street.

No action was taken on a number of claims for damages received from citizens who had clothing damaged as a result of the tar placed on the roads during the summer.

The chairman, Ald. Kid, presided at the meeting, and others present were Mayor Angrove, Ald. Reid and Ald. Holder.

THANKOFFERING MEETING.

Queen's Students Take Part In Service at St. Andrew's.

On Monday evening, Oct. 12th, the annual thank offering meeting of the Y.W.M.S. was held in St. Andrew's Hall, when the programme was furnished by members of Queen's Student Volunteer Society. M. W. Harold Reid presided, and after the opening exercises, Miss Alice Oswald was called upon for a short address. This proved most interesting and gave her experience as a teacher in an Indian boarding school at Portage La Prairie, to which school bales had been sent from St. Andrew's. This Indian school was opened in 1915 and accommodated about 100 pupils, who came from Indian Reserves. Great care is taken to have these schools located in the midst of a Reserve so that the Indian children may be received direct from the Reserve. The Indian boys assisted in the work of the school farm, which supplied the school with necessary produce and the girls were instructed in household duties. None of the children came from homes that are nominally called Christian and very likely their father's fathers were pagan. Interesting Sunday services were conducted by the Principal of the school, and junior and senior branches of a mission band were organized and the aim of the teachers was to have the Indian girls preside and take full charge of meetings.

A very pleasing violin duet was given by the Misses Vivian Moffat and Dorothea Druce, accompanied by Miss Maymie Druce.

Mr. R. K. Start then gave a short address from the standpoint of the medical missionary. This great work in foreign fields had the attraction of two points: The alleviation of suffering and ministering to the souls of the foreigners. People will travel days at a time to reach a mission station for relief of their sufferers. As well as regained health they take back also the story of Jesus and His message for the world. Missionaries, travelling through the country afterwards, find that the impression of the story is still there. Some countries are trying to do their own medical work, but it will be a long while before that is accomplished.

A piano solo was then given by Mr. M. Irvin, and this was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. James Little then gave a very interesting address, from the viewpoint of the church. It is the "marching orders" of missionary societies: "Go Ye Unto All the World and Preach the Gospel." The first duty of the church is to state the facts of Christianity. What are we going to do about it? Mr. Little told of his work for a number of years in the regions of Northern Ontario, in mining and lumber camps of mixed population, whose need was great. And in this connection, mention was made of the great help from the Women's Missionary Society. Mr. Little gave a full account of his work in these camps, giving an idea of the vastness of the work and that now is the opportunity of the church.

Miss Harold tendered a vote of thanks to the Student Volunteer Society for their very enjoyable programme and Mr. Reid expressed the pleasure of the students in being able to take part.

GANANOQUE

Gananoque, Oct. 15.—A wedding of considerable interest to several Gananoque people was solemnized recently in the rectory of St. James cathedral, Seattle, when the Rev. M. Rospi united in marriage Honora Irene, youngest daughter of Mrs. John Kinlmond, Vancouver, B.C., and William Carlson of Salem, Ore. The bride, who was attended by Miss Grace Sullivan, was gowned in olive green canton crepe ensemble, with becoming hat to match. Immediately following the ceremony, supper was served in the Gowman hotel, the guests including Mrs. A. Kinlmond, Miss Ann Kinlmond, Miss Grace Sullivan, Miss Leontine Svenceski, Miss Adelaide Claman, Miss Mary Carty, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis and Marvia Davis, of Seattle. The happy couple will make their home in Salem, Ore. The bride is a native of Gananoque, having moved to the coast with her mother and other members of the family about fifteen years ago, and following the death of her father, who was for many years a resident of this town.
