Spade in the Leaves.
Many people seem to take pleasure in gathering leaves and touching a match to them, which is probably the easiest way to dispose of them—but, if the same persons would place all the leaves they rake up and burn, in a convenient place in their yard, and spade them in, they would see the advantages gained during the next couple of seasons' garden crops.

Teacher's Sister Dies.

Fire on Prison Grounds.
At 7.30 o'clock Thursday evening a fire broke out in a long building on the grounds where the new female prison is under construction. The building was used for the purpose of storage of tools and other odds and ends, among which were about 400 bags of cement. The blaze was eventually subdued by some of the prison officials, assisted by some of the villagers. How it originated is a mystery; some thought it was caused by a delayed blast.

PEOPLE DETERMINED TO ELECT CAMPBELL

Many Who Voted for Ross Last Time Will Not Do So Again.

The Liberal workers of Sydenham, Victoria, and St. Lawrence wards met in the Liberal headquarters Friday evening and practically completed their organization. The men and women workers of all wards are now embarking on a very extensive canvass. Those workers who have been canvassing independently report that scores of people on many streets who formerly voted Conservative have expressed their determination to cast their vote for Mr. Campbell in the coming contest.

During the last few days leading citizens who are well known to have possessed strong Conservative convictions, have been calling at the Liberal headquarters to intimate that they intend giving their support to Mr. Campbell on Oct. 29th. The reasons they give for changing their allegiance is that they feel Kingston would be in a better position if they returned a man whose party would be in power at Ottawa and that they recognize Mr. J. M. Campbell's special fitness to represent Kingston at this crucial time.

Many of these citizens are of the opinion that the next four or five years will determine to a great extent Kingston's future, and they are determined to return a man who is well acquainted not only with both the marine needs and possibilities of this city, but also the electric power situation.

DOOR WAS UNLOCKED; THIEF WALKED IN Stole Fur Coat and $300 Worth of Jewellery at James Sowards' Home.

On Friday night, an unknown person entered the home of Mr. James Sowards, Aberdeen avenue, and carried off a fur coat, and a quantity of jewellery. Among the articles which were taken were two diamond rings, valued at about $200. The fur coat was made of grey squirrel and is very valuable.

It is understood that the thief had no trouble entering the home as both back and front doors were left unlocked.

Principal Taylor will preach in Queen street Methodist church next Sunday morning. You are cordially invited.
