GIRL FALLS 200 FEET FROM PLANE TO DEATH

Hanging Without Parachute, Her Strength Failed—Crowd Saw Tragedy.

Niles, Mich., Oct. 20.—Jumping from a speeding airplane after discarding her parachute, Miss Dagmar Stedman, 21 years old, fell 200 feet into Lake Barron, near here, during a stunt exhibition yesterday afternoon, and was injured fatally. She was unconscious when taken from the water by rescuers and died shortly afterwards at Niles hospital.

More than 500 residents of the vicinity, who have watched Miss Stedman defy death regularly for the last five weeks, saw her take the final plunge. They realised as she hung without her parachute to the bottom of the plane, that something was amiss and stood silently at the rim of the lake awaiting the impending tragedy. A boat had been launched several minutes before she fell.

Andrew Ramsay, Newburgh, died very suddenly Saturday morning. Pembroke's population is placed at 10,667.

WAS MARKET CLERK OVER THIRTY YEARS

Late William McCammon Had a Varied Career—Was Fenian Raid Veteran.

William McCammon, for over thirty years the market clerk of Kingston, died at the home of his niece, Miss Minnie Sleeth, 304 Johnson street, on Monday afternoon. The deceased was a sufferer from heart trouble, and it was this that which finally caused his death at the age of eighty-three.

The late William McCammon was born in this city on May 15th, 1847, and spent all his life here. He operated a butcher stall in the old market shambles, and after these were burned he continued to operate his stall on the site of the present market buildings.

When a young man the deceased played lacrosse and took a keen interest in all branches of sport. He belonged to the Kingston Lodge of Oddfellows for over fifty years and also took a very prominent part in the Orange Order. The late Mr. William McCammon was a Presbyterian and a member of Chalmers church. In politics he was a life-long Conservative. The militia claimed part of his time and when the Fenian raids of 1866 broke out he was attached to the old 14th Battalion. He saw active service at Cornwall during those troublous times.

The deceased was known to a very large number of citizens as a warm friend to the sick. It was his custom to visit the hospitals regularly and he always had a cheering word for the patients. Despite his years, his mind remained bright and active, and he was able to recall clearly events which happened half a century ago. His wife predeceased him ten years and since that time he had been residing with his niece, Miss Sleeth. He had no family nor are there any brothers or sisters living. Mr. W. McCammon, license inspector, is a nephew.

VETERANS BOYCOTT GERMAN-MADE GOODS

Kingston Branch of the G.W. V.A. Passed Resolution on Monday Night.

The regular meeting of the Kingston branch of the Great War Veterans' Association was held in their Assembly Hall, Shannon Building, on Monday evening. The president, Comrade Charles Hicks, called the meeting to order in the usual manner at 8 p.m.

The committee reported excellent progress on the "Poppy Day" campaign, Comrade Barrett having completed his canvass for poppy wreaths. He reported that the business people had been very kind to him, and the results of his canvass confirmed this. The wreaths are to be ordered at once and it is hoped to have them in the hands of those who were so kind as to purchase them by the first day of November.

The window cards were submitted to the members for inspection and great satisfaction was expressed on their neatness and attractive appearance.

Arrangements are well under way for the annual Memorial Service, which is to be held in Memorial Hall on Nov. 11th. About sixty workers have already consented to help on Nov. 7th, with the sale of poppies on the city streets. The association is anxious to secure at least one hundred workers for this day, and will be grateful for offers of assistance from young ladies who will help with this work.

After considerable discussion, the following resolution was drafted and ordered sent to the Dominion Command at Ottawa:

"That this Kingston branch of the Great War Veterans' Association wish to draw to the attention of their comrades and the public in general, the fact that a great influx of German-made goods is coming into our Dominion for sale during the Christmas season, and that the membership of this Association has gone on record and now re-iterates its determination to boycott German-made goods and would, like the general public to refuse to purchase the produce of our late enemy.

A very enthusiastic meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

LOOKING AROUND

Three girls and a married woman are to come to the Portsmouth penitentiary this week to serve sentences for manslaughter. No wonder it has been found necessary to build a new prison for women at Portsmouth.

That bluster of Monday put an end to the leaves on the trees. The leaves have remained later than usual this year and would probably have seen the end of the month had the weather remained as it was last week.

Premier King's coming to Kingston was preceded by a good big storm. It was a real good heralding the Prime Minister received, and those who read signs well say it means victory for him on the 29th.

There are apparently some real bold robbers in Kingston when they get going at 6.15 in the morning. But the bold ones will land in the police net before long.

It is no surprise to learn that Queen's will seek a larger endowment. To expand, a university must have much money and then some more. The governments will have to give more, for the rich men of the country say they are paying into the government coffers in income taxes what they would give to the universities and hospitals were there no taxation.

If the Pittsburgh church case continues, enough money will be expended to send a missionary to the foreign field for a year. Even church folks cannot go to law for nothing.

Just pay heed to this, ye male folk: When a woman shies a plate or other utensil at you, duck and beat it. Don't argue or come to grips or you'll get the worst of it.

Girls are advised to use aids to beauty. Most girls do, but they will be glad to receive this advice from Cynthia.

One of the great needs in the public schools here is to reduce the "infant classes." Fifty kids are too many for one teacher to handle, much less to teach.

According to Capt. Bernier, the veteran Arctic explorer, the North Pole is wobbling. Well, let it wobble, for all that it matters to most of us.

Owen Sound is worrying over a typhoid epidemic. The doctors cannot locate the cause in the drinking water supply. If it is not in the water, they will find it in the milk. Kingston went through a similar experience years ago, and milk tests showed that the disease came from a certain barnyard.

BIG BLOW ON LAKE; BOATS SEEK SHELTER

Wind Travelled at Rate of Thirty-eight Miles an Hour.

Blowing at a rate of thirty-eight miles an hour, the wind of Monday afternoon and evening, tied up the boat traffic on Lake Ontario and a large number of boats were forced to remain in the harbor during the night. Old marine men claim it to be one of the worst gales in their time. The water was a seething, foaming body, with the waves high, crashing against the breakwaters and throwing spray for a great distance.

The wind started in early Monday morning, but after the rainfall, dropped considerably. At noon it started again, and blew a terrific gale, ceasing in the early hours of Tuesday morning.

The steamer Waubic, which made her trip to Cape Vincent on Monday afternoon, was forced to remain here over night, and a United States government boat, the Curlew, engaged in looking after the fish hatcheries, was compelled to put in to the local harbor for shelter and remain here for the night. The steamers Judge Kenefick and Frank B. Baird, arrived here in the afternoon, on their way west, but after proceeding about a mile up the lake, the gale proved too much, and they turned to shelter here. The steamer Pinebay arrived on her way down, but did not stop and the John J. Rammecher remained at Macdonald's Cove. The William C. Warren and the Dalrymple also remained here for the night.

The water came up about six inches during the storm. No serious damage was reported from the wind, and the boats, which remained in the harbor overnight, cleared Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock.

Sent to Reformatory. Fred Deline, Belleville, was sentenced to serve one year in Ontario Reformatory, Toronto, and an indeterminate sentence of six months on conviction on a charge of obtaining $250 from George Davis under false pretences and thirty days in the common jail for theft of ten eggs, sentences to run concurrently. Warner Woods, charged with conspiracy and fraudulently obtaining money was given the benefit of the doubt and dismissed.

Rev. V. O. Boyle, Athens, rector of the parish of Lansdowne Rear, has received an invitation to become rector of Trinity church, Gouverneur, N.Y.
