Why Are Errors of Vision So Generally Neglected?

Often it is because the person does not know that he has an error of vision. Not knowing that it exists, it is naturally not given attention. The wisest plan for everyone to pursue would be to have the eyes examined whether they seem to need it or not. Then every error of vision would receive proper attention. If you have been wondering about your eyes, let us give you the facts about them.

VIGRASS-WEESE.

The Nuptials Celebrated at the Home of Bride in Camden.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weese, Camden, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, Oct. 17th, when their daughter, Miss Euphemia, became the wife of Mr. Egan Vigrass, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vigrass, of Willowdale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, assisted by Rev. James Batstone, Selby. Miss Edna Vigrass played the music for the occasion.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked beautiful in her wedding gown of white rainbow crepe, with the veil held in place by knots of orange blossoms, and carried a magnificent bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Following the congratulations of the company, about twenty-five near relatives and friends sat down to a dainty buffet luncheon, charmingly served by three girl friends. After a merry hour had been spent, Mr. and Mrs. Vigrass left for a trip by motor to Brockville, and from there to the Adirondack mountains. The bride travelled in a beautiful dress of crepe satin bokara, trimmed with fur, a rust suede coat with stone-marten trimming, and a becoming hat, and carrying the groom's gift, a very handsome French beaded bag.

Guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vigrass and daughters, Clara and Edna, of Toronto, and Miss Pauline Anglin, of Battersden. On their return the young couple will make their home in Toronto. The very best wishes of a host of friends follow them.

Made Presentation.

At a meeting of the local branch of the letter carriers, Mr. R. J. Elliott, retired from the service, was presented with a fine clock. Mr. Elliott served for thirty-seven years. The gift was accompanied by an address in which feeling reference was made to his long and faithful service, and at the same time expressing best wishes.

Yet many things that are forbidden because they are enjoyable wouldn't be enjoyable if they weren't forbidden.
